

NEW WORLDS RECORD SUITS ARE BROUGHT

Broken Again Today at Fort Mier, Va., by Orville Wright To Restrain Mrs. Shaw From Selling Out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—A new world record in aeroplane flights was established at Fort Mier, Va., early today when Orville Wright circled above the broad parade grounds there fifty-eight times and remained in the air fifty-seven minutes and thirty-one seconds, official time. His smashing of all previous records carried out his promises of yesterday evening after his two remarkable ascensions, when at the maximum height of sixty feet; going ten and three quarters miles in all and averaging 36 miles an hour, he spent eleven minutes in one flight and eight minutes in the other.

Today's achievement was accomplished by ideal weather conditions, and in the presence of about twenty-five spectators aside from the soldiers. The ascension was made at 8.15 o'clock this morning. It was an easy ride in the air, the machine was under perfect control and the aviator traveled at a speed approximating 36 to 38 miles an hour.

PRESIDENT GOMPERS

And Other Labor Leaders in Court for Contempt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—When the case of the Bucks Store & Range Co. of St. Louis against President Gompers, Vice President Mitchell and Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, in which the Bucks Co. petitions to have the labor officials punished for contempt of court was brought up in the district supreme court today it was at first uncertain whether the case would proceed or be postponed to the regular term of the court in October. Judge Alton B. Parker is chief counsel for the federation and a notable array of counsel was in court. J. W. Van Cleave, president of the petitioning company is also president of the National Manufacturers Association.

The injunction proceedings had their inception last November when Mr. Van Cleave asked the court, Justice Ashley M. Gould presiding, to prohibit the federation from advising, organizing that the company was unfair to its employees and from printing that advice in the "Federationist," the official organ of the federation. The injunction was issued by the court and made permanent. The labor officials, however, appealed to the public, setting forth why they did not comply with the terms of the injunction.

Judge Parker has been here since Monday night in conference with the counsel for labor. Interests. Judge Gould had intimated from the bench that the matter should not be heard during vacation but should go over until the regular term in October.

A JAIL SENTENCE

For Man Who Committed Assault With Knife on Another

Judge Hadley is determined to discourage the use of dangerous weapons and in order to carry out the policy which he established some time ago, this morning sentenced Peter Johns, charged with assault with a knife, to four months in jail.

The assault took place at the corner of Cheever and Tucker streets on the night of August 23d. According to the testimony offered Jean B. Charbonneau and some friends were passing in one direction and Johns and a couple of boys in another direction. They met at the corner and while the defense says that Charbonneau assaulted Johns without any provocation the government says that Charbonneau and Johns bumped against each other by accident and a misunderstanding led to the assault.

The case was opened last Thursday, but the absence of one of the government's witnesses, Joseph Durant, caused a postponement till today. Durant had been summoned, but failed to appear last Thursday and was arrested on a capias.

In court this morning he said that he was with Charbonneau on the night of the assault, that Charbonneau and Johns bumped into each other by accident. He continued to walk on and had gone but a short distance when he turned around and saw the two men in a crouch. Then he heard Charbonneau shout "Catch him, he has stabbed me."

Peter Johns, the defendant, said he lived in Coolidge street and that on the night of the 23d of August he met Charbonneau and six or seven other young men at the corner of Cheever and Tucker streets. Without any provocation Charbonneau struck him twice. His hat fell off and when he went to pick it up Charbonneau struck him again. He then ran after Charbonneau with the intention of beating him, but a crowd gathered around and, fearing that the crowd would beat him, he drew a knife and stabbed the complainant.

An ordinary jackknife with a broken blade was produced and the defendant acknowledged that it was the weapon he had used.

Two young men, who were with Johns on the night of the assault, corroborated the testimony offered by the defendant. In summing up the evidence in the case

Judge Hadley said he was not going to tolerate the use of dangerous weapons, and intended to do everything to discourage it.

Johns was found guilty and sentenced to four months in jail. He appealed and was held in $200 for the superior court.

Father Relented
Morris Foley was before the court this morning on complaint of his father, but the latter was sorry after he had made the complaint and asked the court that the charge be dismissed.

According to the story told the court by the father, his son has been raising a disturbance at the house, and yesterday the young man struck him. On the spur of the moment he went to the police station and swore out a warrant, but after thinking the matter over decided that he did not wish to appear against his son. The case was dismissed.

Will Take His Sentence
George Hall, who was in court yesterday morning charged with unlawfully taking a team, found guilty and a fine of $5 to be paid in two days or two months in jail was imposed. He appealed, but appeared in court this morning and withdrew his appeal.

Shortening His Father's Life
Frank Levesque of Dracut, pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk. A brother of the defendant said that his father was dying, and that the actions of his brother, Frank, were "shortening the old man's life."

Officer Cullane of Dracut testified to being called to the Levesque house and arresting the defendant. Special Officer Omy of Lakewood park said he saw Levesque drunk about Lakewood yesterday, and sent him home.

A fine of $5 dollars was imposed.

Continued Cases

Relatives Claim That She is Mentally Incapacitated and Seek to Block Her Mazdaznan Aspirations

The relatives of Mrs. Ellen Shaw of this city, who has recently announced her intention of transferring all her property into cash and building a Mazdaznan temple, have decided that it is time for them to make a move in the matter, and accordingly they have moved.

Two petitions were filed yesterday by a niece, Mrs. Mabelle M. Dutton, a dressmaker, of 7 Nonquit street, Dorchester, one in the probate court of East Cambridge, asking that a conservator be appointed, and the second that Mrs. Shaw and others be restrained from disposing of any of her property, said to be worth about $20,000. Robert A. Jordan of Boston is counsel for Mrs. Dutton and other relatives.

According to Attorney Jordan, the probate court petition alleges that Mrs. Shaw is incapacitated by advanced age and mental weakness from caring for her property and prays that Frances W. Kildred of Boston be appointed conservator. The citation issued is returnable in Cambridge Sept. 15.

The other action, a bill of equity, is directed against Mrs. Ellen M. Shaw, the Middlesex Trust company, Charles A. Hitchcock and Mrs. Della M. Mallet, all of Lowell. The bill alleges that Mrs. Shaw has a substantial amount of property, partly on deposit at the Middlesex Trust company, in the hands of Charles A. Hitchcock, and that Mrs. Shaw is contemplating the sale of her real estate at a sum less than the value and is making arrangements for the sale of her household goods and other personal property. The bill asks that Mrs. Mallet be restrained from securing by undue, improper and fraudulent means property from Mrs. Shaw for herself or the use of others, especially the Mazdaznan society, otherwise known as the sun worshippers, and that Charles A. Hitchcock be enjoined from turning over the property, and that Mrs. Mallet be enjoined from accepting money for herself or in trust.

The order of notice of the bill of equity was made returnable Sept. 10 in the Suffolk superior court. It was issued by order of Judge Fox.

At the death of her husband Mrs. Shaw received a large personal property, among which was the American house in Lowell and three or four large summer hotels. The hotels were soon disposed of and it is said that a considerable portion of the money was devoted to the building of the temple of Sponta Maria, the sanctuary at Lowell devoted to the worship of the Mazdaznan society.

Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Hilton became leading figures or high priestesses of the Sponta Maria temple and the society grew, particularly among middle aged women, for the faith held that youth could be sustained in the human body for all time.

The doctrine certainly took a serious hold on Mrs. Shaw, for while Attorney Jordan states that Mrs. Shaw is about 65 years of age, she is said to look more than 20 years less. Mrs. Shaw declares that at the time she embraced the cult she was weak and broken down, but hotel, was continued till Sept. 16.

Drunken Offenders

William Ferris, a third offender, received a suspended sentence of four months in jail.

Michael Lennon, a visitor from Boston, made his second appearance within a few days and was fined $5. Patrick Flood was also assessed $5. There was one $2 drunk.

THURSDAY CLOSING
WILL CEASE IN SOME STORES TOMORROW.

Beginning tomorrow, Thursday, the stores belonging to the Lowell Merchants' association will be open for business all day. The Ben Marche Dry Goods Co. and the Gilbrede Co. will continue the Thursday half-holiday during the month of September, and, therefore, will close their stores at 12:30 Thursdays until Oct. 1st.

O'DONNELL CO.

ENJOYING AN OUTING AT WALTHAM TODAY.

The O'Donnell Dry Goods company is enjoying their summer outing today. It is to consist of a trolley ride to Waltham where a grand time will be had at one of the popular parks and a dinner served. This will be the last of their outings this season.

since has grown younger all the time. Her relatives did not for some time interfere with her adherence to the Mazdaznan faith, although they disliked considerably the notorious Mrs. Shaw brought upon herself. The beginning of the end, however, came a few days ago, when reports from Lowell stated that Mrs. Shaw had received the "divine" call and was about to sell her possessions in preparation for the great coming of the second Messiah.

Mrs. Shaw planned the sale of her entire possessions and was ready to sell at any price, the proceeds to be devoted to the treasury of the Mazdaznans, while she was to take up the duties of "mother" of the society, go to Denver, spread the gospel of the order and await the immaculate conception of the second Messiah.

"Call" to Mrs. Shaw
The "call" for Mrs. Shaw came direct from Ottoman Zar-Hadush-Hanish, said to have been formerly named Hennessy and known by that name in New York. According to Mrs. Shaw, Hanish or Hennessy notified her from Denver that he had just had a dream which when interpreted directed that she should proceed to Denver, take up the duties of mother by founding a church there and await the birth of the divinely conceived second Messiah.

The message directed that she leave immediately, and that meant the disposal of all her property. At the time Mrs. Shaw was planning to go to Montreal and found a church in that city at her own expense. On hearing from the "Little Master," as Hanish is known to his followers, Mrs. Shaw gave up the Montreal plans for those proposed for Denver.

The duties of a "mother" are in a large part lecturing on the various subjects which form the principal beliefs of the Mazdaznans. In addition she will lead the singing of the sacred Arabic chants, which are full of praise of the sun. The chants are said to have been written by Dr. Hanish, who styles himself a poet, but others claim that they are simply versifications of the Zend-Avesta. In the services Mrs. Shaw will use the book of the "inner circle," a copy of which resulted in a threatened prosecution of the worshippers in New York, and which helped to terminate Hanish's unsuccessful career in that city.

While friends of Mrs. Shaw realized that she was intensely interested in Mazdaznism, none believed that she would go to the extent of adopting her latest plan. Unbelievers are mystified as to the nature of the influence of the self styled Persian exerts over his followers, particularly over the women, who have flocked to her standard in the various cities he has visited. The decision of Mrs. Shaw and her relatives are shocked and are determined that at least an effort will be made to prevent Mrs. Shaw sacrificing her property. Attorney Jordan says he is in possession of facts concerning the workings of the "inner circle," which he says will create the biggest sensation in years if the petitions of his client are opposed.

AMES IS PROMPT

First to File His Nomination Papers

The time for filing nomination papers for the state election primaries opened yesterday and Congressman Ames led all the candidates at getting in. Mr. Richardson representing Hon. John N. Cole was a close second and those are all that have been filed up to this writing.

No papers had been filed up to noon at the democratic headquarters. The time for filing papers closes tomorrow.

STOPPED RUNAWAY

John Donohue Did a Nervy Stunt in Church Street

John Donohue of Mason's court joined the heroes this morning by stopping a runaway horse in Church street. The animal came from Gorham street and was going some when the intrepid Donohue checked its wild career and led it to Davis' stable, where it was called for in a short time by a man who didn't leave his name.

HE WANTS MONEY

To Put School House Boilers in Repair

It was stated today that unless the committee on appropriations votes favorably on Inspector Smith's request for money to replace schoolhouse boilers that have been condemned by state inspectors, the boilers may not be in working order when Jack Frost arrives.

Inspector Smith of the lands and buildings department sent a communication to the city council asking for $5100 to replace the boilers that had been condemned at the Lincoln school as ordered by Dr. Simpson of the state board of health.

Mr. Smith's letter was read at a meeting of the city council held last night and was referred to the committee on appropriations. Mr. Smith is anxious that the money should be forthcoming. He says the expense came entirely unexpected and he was not prepared for it. He declares he has not the money to do the work with and unless it is voted in time to do the work there will be one or two cold schoolhouses in Lowell.

The boilers in the Charles and Central street schools have been condemned as has also the boiler in the Favour street school. It was stated today that the inspector in examining the boiler at the Favour street school put his hammer through the boiler plate and that did not speak very well for the condition of the boiler. The work of putting in the Charles street school boiler is something that was anticipated and the new boiler is practically installed.

GENERAL WOOD

Had Narrow Escape From Serious Injury

ST. JOHANN-ON-THE-SAAR, Sept. 9.—Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., who is witnessing the German maneuvers here, had a narrow escape from a serious accident yesterday. While in the field the horn of one of the numerous automobiles frightened General Wood's horse, and the animal began to rear, and the general's right leg, the spur was torn from the general's boot but beyond a shaking-up he was unhurt.

SHOT HUSBAND

Woman Said He Threatened Her Mother

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Mary Redell of Jersey City shot and fatally wounded her husband, Stephen Redell, a boatman, during a quarrel today. Mrs. Redell said that her husband threatened her mother. Redell was taken to a hospital with three bullet wounds in his neck. Mrs. Redell went to a police station and was arrested.

NORMAL SCHOOL

Entrance Examinations Closed at Noon Today

Examinations for the normal school were begun yesterday morning and closed at noon today. It was the regular fall examination and was taken by about 60 including those who failed at the June examination and others.

Principal Durgin said today that there would be no changes at the normal school except, perhaps, in the position of teacher of elocution and gymnastics.

Miss Hovey who has filled the position so admirably in poor health and it is feared that she will not be able to resume her duties this fall and in the event of her not being able to return, some one, of course, would be appointed in her place.

Supt. Whitcomb said today that there would be no changes in the Bartlett school this fall. The assignment of teachers will not be made until after the meeting of the sub-committee on teachers to be held next Friday evening. The assignments are never made until the last minute because the superintendent does not always know how many vacancies exist, as some of the teachers who do not intend to return do not say so until the last moment, and there have been cases where they did not give any notice. These instances had to do with teachers who got married and, while it might be a bit unfair to say so, right out straight from the shoulder, yet there is the possibility that they did not want to give their notice until they were sure of their man.

A few days ago Supt. Whitcomb wrote to the principals of the schools, asking them to report as to probable vacancies. Answers to these letters will probably be received today or tomorrow.

Herbert D. Bixby, who has been appointed to the Bartlett school, is said to be well equipped for the position. He is a graduate of the Lowell high school and is 25 years old. After graduating from the high school he taught in the local evening schools and taught also in the west.

Returning from the west, he was appointed principal of the Edmund Lincoln school at Norwood, Mass., and was filling that position when elected principal of the Bartlett school.

FOR MORE AUTO RACES

Winner of the Trophy Favors the Merrimack Valley Course

Wants Back Stretch of Varnum Avenue Macadamized to Make the Course Most Popular in the Country — Proposition to Have City Purchase Grand Stand

The indications at the present time are that Lowell is to become a centre for automobile racing, and that the course will become more famous than are the Briarcliff and Savannah courses. If the encouragement offered and the arrangements proposed are carried out, all of the big racing events in this country, as well as the Grand Prix, to be held next year, will be conducted over the Merrimack Valley course.

John H. Tyson, the owner of the Isotta car, driven by Louis Strang in Monday's race, is now the owner of the Butler Ames trophy, and he feels so jubilant over the victory of his car that he has determined to do everything in his power to make the Lowell course the place where all big trouts for both short and long distances will be held.

Mr. Tyson entertained Messrs. John O. Heinze and Frank S. Corlew, president and vice-president of the Lowell Automobile club, yesterday at the Hotel Somerset in Boston, and Mr. Tyson offered to give a very valuable cup for the winner of a race to be held next Labor Day, over the Merrimack Valley course. He is anxious though, that the back stretch be widened in order to avoid accident and that the road be macadamized the same as the Varnum avenue roadway be widened and macadamized, that Lowell and Tyngsboro will have one of the finest racing propositions in the country.

Mr. Tyson is also of the opinion that two events should be run during the year. May 3d, Decoration day, he thinks that five and ten mile races would be attractive.

In September, his proposition is that races be held on Labor day and the Saturday before. On the Saturday before the race will be for a distance of 25 miles, but only small cars will be allowed to compete, while on Monday the big powered cars would cover the course.

He says that if the Lowell Automobile club can see its way clear to interest the people of Lowell and Tyngsboro enough to carry out the proposition, he offered to him that he will guarantee the entrance of five cars at least. He owns several cars, and stated yesterday that he would enter these seven cars just as soon as he received knowledge that a race is to be held.

The cars which he would enter are the following: Two Isottas, two Sunbeams, a Daimler, Hot Tam, Renault, Mercedes and Mayas. With the above mentioned machines entered in the race Mr. Tyson says that manufacturers of the Fiat, Peugeot, Studebaker, Matson, American and Kears cars could not miss the opportunity of sending entries.

Before the city purchased the grand stand and bleachers erected for the Labor day race it would be a big expense to the city to continue the races. With the city in possession of the grand stand it could be rented to parties, including the Lowell Auto club, on one or two even days during the year. If the city does not have the grandstand, however, it will be necessary for the club to take the stand down after every race and erect it for the next event.

The officials of the auto club are now busy engaged in making out a financial statement and it is expected that it will be ready for publication within a few days. While the public at large has been of the opinion that the race would prove to be a financial success one of the officials stated to a representative of the Sun today that the club would probably be a loser by about $500.

Mr. Heinze is reported to have gone around the course and asked the farmers if their property suffered any damage. They without exception said that their property was not damaged. One farmer, Samuel Adams, residing beyond Forest House had a valuable hen killed by the spreaders on the morning preceding the day of the race, but has said nothing about it.

AMERICAN AIRSHIP

Has Broken the Record for An Aerial Flight

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Orville Wright broke all American records in aerial flight yesterday afternoon by remaining aloft in his airship nearly 20 minutes and covering about 12 miles.

He made two flights, remaining in the air for 11 minutes the first time and for nearly eight minutes the second. There was apparently no reason why the flights could not have been of even greater duration, as Wright landed the second time because of the approaching darkness.

A cheering crowd applauded Wright as he steered his aeroplane above the parade ground at Fort Myer in the preliminary tests for the $25,000 offered by the United States army for the Wright heavier than air flying machine. The odd craft sailed in graceful circles over the tops of trees and buildings.

From the scientific point of view was demonstrated the success of the Wright brothers and the soundness of the principles upon which they have been working. Two flights were made, each being successful.

Rises Like a Bird

At 5:56 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after the motor of the machine had been tested, Wright stepped into the apparatus, the engine was started, the propellers began to revolve and the airship rose from the ground as surely as a bird. Over the cavalry drill ground the airship sailed until, when the other side was reached, Mr. Wright touched a lever and the machine dipped and turned with the precision of a giant eagle. It sailed back toward the starting point 50 feet above the heads of the people.

Eleven times the airship circled the big drill field, covering, it is estimated, a distance of approximately seven miles. It did not remain constantly at one altitude, but sailed downward, turned gracefully, by the shifting of a wing or rudder at the touch of the operator, or pointed its beak toward the sky and arose swiftly. Its course was in long, swelling undulations, as though it were passing over the billows of an invisible ocean. Sometimes it reached an altitude of 100 feet and passed over the tops of trees, casting its strange shadow on the foliage. Once it passed over the top of the cavalry stable.

Has Perfect Control

Mr. Wright, seated at one side of the machine so that its weight balanced that of the motor, had the airship under control at all times. After launching it into the air the flying machine remained aloft 11 minutes 10 seconds. Mr. Wright then descended, the airship touching the ground as lightly as a feather. He said that the bar upon which his foot rested was slippery. He wrapped it with the tape to remedy this defect.

"I came down to get a pair of goggles," said Mr. Wright. "The air up there is full of insects and they have almost blinded me. I was too busy attending to the motor and the steering apparatus to brush them from my eyes, and the pain became greater than I could stand."

Mr. Wright obtained a pair of glasses, put them on, took his seat in the machine and started off again. The second flight began at 6:28 o'clock and lasted seven minutes and 34 seconds. Wright circled the drill field seven and one-half times, covering approximately five miles. The first flight was at an average speed of 35 miles an hour, the second at 38 miles an hour.

Weather Was Ideal

Weather conditions were ideal. The wind velocity was only 1 1/2 miles an hour.

"I made some experiments in the last flight with the levers, using them in certain combinations," said Wright. "I almost got into trouble by doing so. That was the reason I landed when I did. It was also growing too dark for further flight. I am greatly pleased with the behavior of the machine and find that I secure better control with each succeeding flight."

THURSDAY BARGAIN DAY IS GETTING POPULAR IN LOWELL. GOES OVER FALLS

Young Woman Committed Suicide at Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A woman about 25 years old, of refined appearance, late yesterday afternoon walked into the river about 30 feet above Prospect Point and was swept over the falls. She left nothing to identify her. Seventy-five people saw the suicide. Harold Schafer of Hoboken, N. J., who was close by made a gallant attempt to save the woman. Going over the railing at the brink of the falls, and supporting himself on a flimsy scaffolding which holds a water gauge in place, he leaned out over the rushing water. Just as the woman floated by he reached out his hand to catch her.

As he did so, she raised her arm and tried to grasp the outstretched hand, but missed it by a few inches. She went over the brink without uttering a cry. Had she succeeded in reaching Schafer's hand, it is believed both would have perished, for spectators say the gauge would not have sustained their combined weight.

GOV. HUGHES CASE

Interest in the Coming N. Y. Convention

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—With the New York state republican convention at hand the eyes of the whole country are on the fight being waged for and against the re-nomination of Governor Hughes. No man is more intensely interested in the re-nomination of the governor than President Roosevelt himself. After several conferences with the president James S. Sherman has taken an active hand in the fight. He has been almost constantly on the move in the state, making it clear to the county chairmen that the national campaign requires Mr. Hughes' re-nomination. Despite this activity, however, it is asserted that the president, Mr. Taft, Mr. Sherman and Frank H. Hitchcock are becoming convinced that the fight must be carried to the floor of the convention, which takes place at Saratoga, Sept. 14. If the present executive is to head the republican ticket in the Empire State at the November election.

MORMON CHURCH $50000 NUTMEG

Blocks Plan to Deport Mormons

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—In consequence of the political influence of the Mormon church in official circles in Washington, and of the powerful intervention of United States Senator Reed Smoot, the local immigration officials have become utterly demoralized in their efforts to properly restrict Mormon immigration at this port.

After fighting for a fortnight to deport 36 Mormon immigrants who had violated the immigration laws by accepting assistance from the Mormon church to get here, the local officials, it is believed, will be forced, against their will, to permit all of these but nine to land.

Nineteen were released following a hurried visit from United States Senator Reed Smoot, and of the remaining 17 eight are expected to recover their freedom as soon as the report of the immigration officials in Utah is received here. Of the nine who will be deported eight are physically unfit and one admitted belief in polygamy.

Had it not been so near the national election it is confidently believed that the officials in Washington would have supported the local officials in their action in debarring the entire three dozen.

The cases of the two young Red girls, who are said to be 17 and 19 years old respectively, are considered to be two of the most flagrant violations of the immigration laws that have been reported at the local bureau.

The orders from Washington to release these girls is considered one of the greatest proofs of the political power of the Mormon church.

HIS NECK BROKEN.
Worcester Man Had Been Arrested for Drunkenness.

WORCESTER, Sept. 8.—Richard P. Joyce, 34 years old, died at the City hospital yesterday of a fracture of the spine and a broken neck. He was arrested yesterday morning on the charge of drunkenness and lay in a cell at the police station until 1 o'clock last night, when he was transferred to the city hospital.

Was Easy Picking for The Eel

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 8.—The Gambetta Wilkes family carried off the honors and money at Charter Oak yesterday afternoon. The Eel, a grandson of the great Kentucky sire, winning the $5000 Nutmeg purse for paces in 2:07, 2:03 1/4, 2:03, and a son, Gentel H., taking the trotting event in 2:12, 2:11, 2:10 1/2.

After the holiday crowd it was a pleasure to be able to move about and watch the races in comfort. The sport was not particularly interesting, as both winners raced off in front and were never seriously threatened. Dan McEwen brought the Canadian champion to the post in splendid form, and it was simply fun for him to smash out three fast miles.

Another horse from the land of King Edward was second three times, the black gelding Maj. Brino, George Gono and Copa de Oro tried to get the place away from him, but in two close finishes he held them safe.

Gentel H., who has been racing in tough luck for two years, finally landed in a soft place and is out of the 2:12 class with a record of 2:10 1/2.

Chester Lassell's new horse, Judge Lee, 2:14 1/2, won second money and impressed every one as being a real good trotter. He is a handsome dark dapple gray stallion, with a nice way of going, and possessing a terrific burst of speed. He caught a slight cold shipping on from Michigan, so was not in shape for a hard race.

A SUICIDE PACT

Woman Broke Agreement With Dr. Rustin

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 8.—Dr. Frederick Rustin's death was the result of a suicide pact with Mrs. Rice, the woman who has been held in custody for the past five days. This is the crux of the statement by Mrs. Rice to the Omaha police force yesterday afternoon.

The statement was read before the coroner's jury yesterday afternoon. According to it, Dr. Rustin and Mrs. Rice agreed to carry out his portion of the compact and did so. Mrs. Rice's nerve failed her and at the last minute she decided that she could not carry out the compact. Four times during the night she telephoned Dr. Rustin's home to tell him of her decision, but during those hours the man was sitting outside his home on the porch and did not receive the message.

Mrs. Rice purchased a bottle of laudanum and one of morphine with which to carry out her part of the agreement and they have been found in her room.

THE INQUEST INTO THE DEATH OF DR. RUSTIN.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 8.—The coroner's inquest into the death of Dr. Frederick H. Rustin, who was found fatally shot at the door of his home in this city, developed several sensational features yesterday. Mrs. Abbie Rice, the woman who was last known to be in Dr. Rustin's company on the night of his death, declared that Dr. Rustin has been talking of committing suicide, but that he wished to disfigure the act so as to protect his life insurance for the benefit of his family. After much importunity by induced her to promise to kill him and then take her own life. Arrangements to this end were made for Friday, August 28, but her nerve failed. On Tuesday night, Sept.

Following Dr. Rustin pointed out to her on a street car a man who he said had promised to do the deed, saying it would be done that night. Later she identified Charles E. Davis, a clerk in a local bank and a member of a prominent family, as the man referred to by Dr. Rustin.

Davis was placed on the stand and testified that he attempted to commit suicide on the night in question by taking drugs furnished by Dr. Rustin, but denied that he had anything to do with the latter's death. He said the drugs taken made him sick and he vomited, thus saving his life. He gave no special reason for wishing to end his life except that he has no desire to live. He said he had made previous attempts at suicide.

THE PAPERMAKERS

Failed to Return to Work Today at Livermore Falls

LIVERMORE FALLS, Me., Sept. 8.—Notices were posted for the first time today in the mills of the International Paper Co. here and at Chisholm, giving the men an opportunity to return to work, and stating that not less than half of the machines will be run. None of the men had returned early today. Superintendent Edwin Riley took occasion to correct a misapprehension which he said had arisen among the paper makers that if they came back they would be forced by the company to join the International Pulp and Paper Workers union, headed by President Fitzgerald. He announced that preference would be given to the old workers who have been idle the past two months.

THE CAVE FELL IN

One Boy Killed and Two Others Fatally Injured

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—A death trap, built by boys, yesterday collapsed and killed one of them, fatally injured a second and seriously injured a third. The victims were boys fifteen and fifteen years old, sons of prominent residents of Hammond, Ind. The tragedy was due to the falling in of a cave they had excavated in the prairie near their homes. Harry Ricketts, 15 years of age, son of Thomas Ricketts, a contractor, was dead when his father, one of the first to arrive on the scene, dragged him from the ruins. Louis Mott, 15 years of age, son of Fred Mott, former mayor of Hammond, cannot recover. Clifford Hudson, 14 years of age, son of R. W. Hudson, superintendent of the Standard Steel Car Co., may die.

Two Women Were Seriously Injured and Several Other Persons Were Badly Burned. The Origin of the Fire is Not Known

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Thomas M. Henry, a waiter, was burned to death, two women were seriously injured and several others more or less badly burned early today in a fire which destroyed the men's and women's buildings of the Philadelphia Cricket club at Chestnut Hill, a suburb. There were only employees in the building when the fire started. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $50,000. The Philadelphia Cricket club is one of the most famous organizations of its kind in America.

AUGUST BELMONT
To Transfer His Horses From America

PARIS, Sept. 9.—It is announced that August Belmont, president of the Jockey club of America, has acquired a piece of land near Dieppe, to which he will transfer a number of his race horses from America. This action is taken, it is said, because of the passage of anti-betting laws in America. Peter Duryea has rented for the same purpose the famous Gazon stud farm formerly the property of Maurice Ephrussi.

THOMAS L. HISGEN
To Make First Speech in the South Tonight

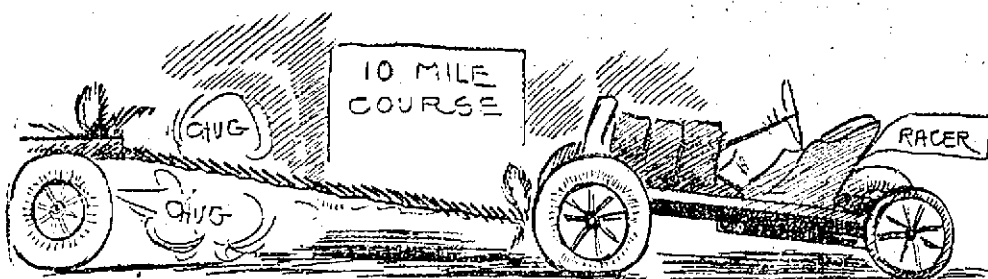

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 9.—Thomas L. Hisgen of Massachusetts, candidate for the presidency on the independent ticket, will make his first speech in the south tonight. Other speakers will include Clement Pollock of Massachusetts and possibly John Temple Graves, candidate for the presidency on the independent ticket. From Norfolk the Hisgen party goes to Richmond, Va.

Candidates for congress and presidential electors will be named at the Hisgen meetings in Virginia.

Affiliated With St. John Baptist Society

HOLYOKE, Sept. 9.—The election of officers was the most important business before today's sessions of the annual convention of the St. John Baptist Society of America. A number of prominent Frenchmen were candidates for the various offices, among whom were several of the present incumbents, who sought re-election. The reports of the officers who have been in charge of the society's affairs during the past two years showed that 211 councils located in New England, New York and the middle and northwest are under the jurisdiction of the national body with a membership of more than 17,000. The public installation of officers this evening was arranged by the committee in charge as one of the features of the convention. A number of addresses will be made and other exercises held.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Lowell lodge of Elks was held in Elks hall, Middle street, last night and was well attended. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Several applications for membership were received and referred to several committees. Brothers Thomas F. Head of Santa Monica, Cal., and David E. Kimey of Syracuse lodge, N. Y., were visitors. Lowell lodge was notified of the dedication exercises of Lynn lodge, No. 117, to be held September 24th, when their new home will be dedicated and prominent members of the lodge will attend. Brother Alfred T. Holley, secretary of the board of grand trustees, will deliver the dedication address.

The following committee was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of their late brother, John S. Marlon, who served them so faithfully as organizer for many years; Thomas E. Boucher, Joseph Hicks, Charles J. Richard.

One candidate was initiated at last night's meeting of Garfield colony, United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, and

CARTER CAUGHT

Is Charged With Embezzling $60,000

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 9.—Latimer D. Carter, who is wanted at Louisville charged with embezzling $60,000 from the estate of George L. Douglass, deceased, was arrested at Georgetown, near here, last night and is now in the county jail. Carter caused an added sensation at the time he absconded a year ago by taking with him Mrs. Mary DeCoursey, wife of a family friend and leaving his own wife almost penniless. His arrest here was caused by W. T. Rankin of Louisville, who traced him to Washington through the woman.

THE POLITICAL FIELD

Candidates Are Beginning to Loom Above the Horizon

Rep. Robert Luce, the apostle of election reform and candidate for lieutenant-governor visited Lowell, on Labor night and handed a set speech to the loyal republicans of the Middlesex Social Club.

Although a holiday night was hardly the time for a political speech, all present looked as pleasant as possible under the circumstances.

Mr. Luce concluded his remarks as follows: "Furthermore, I believe the mass of the members of the republican party should by their decision between candidates determine whether their state government shall keep pace with the rise of public sentiment by enacting reasonable legislation looking to further lessening of the evils of the liquor traffic; in preventing the spread of commercialism on the Sabbath; in securing one day of rest in seven to the toilers; in lessening the use of money in politics; in doing away with the evils of the conventions by abolishing them and giving the direct vote for candidates."

Barlow Coming Along

In the 17th representative district the republicans are having a merry contest with four candidates in the field. Erson B. Barlow, a new comer appears to be gaining much strength over Rep. Charles F. Yarnum. The other candidates are Louis P. Turcotte, and Councilman George E. Marchand. Clovis Belanger who has been hunting for some time past suddenly withdrew from the contest a few days ago.

Not a Candidate

Hon. John J. McManmon will not be a candidate for senator this fall as he cannot give the time from his business.

Out Against Grimes

Hon. Frank Howe, and Ex-Alderman Burton H. Crosby are candidates against Senator Grimes in the "backwoods" district.

Other Political Notes.

"Old Sport" John Turner is mentioned as a candidate for mayor on the republican ticket. Mr. Turner is a hustler and his entrance into the contest will greatly enhance its picturesque.

President Tyler Stevens of the common council stated last evening that he would not be a candidate for the common council again. It is the impression that he will run for alderman.

Councilman Joseph Jodoin will be a candidate for re-election in ward six and his re-election is conceded.

Major Eiske will submit a platform to the public in the near future that will pass the inspection of the most critical state inspectors.

Councilman George B. McKidder of ward eight has decided to run for alderman and his friends are most confident.

Councilman "Tom" Foudy will seek another term in ward four.

As yet Senator Hibbard has not heard of any other candidates fiddling around for his job.

Straws show how the wind blows. Frank Fox after being out on a court beat for years is suddenly called to the front and made a liquor inspector. And here's the dope: Fox and Billy Mahoney discovered George Brown and placed him in the majority contest and have been booming him ever since. The police commissioners and the superintendent have been watching the advance of the Pawtucketville warrior and finding that his strength is growing have decided to get in right by handling a good job to Brown's first lieutenant.

BUBONIC PLAGUE

Has Been Discovered at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—A case of bubonic plague has been discovered. The patient is a boy named Muholland and is convalescent. Three weeks ago the boy found a sick squirrel in the park and picked it up. The squirrel bit the boy on the hand. Sickness followed and the attending physician declared it to be bubonic plague. Other physicians were called into consultation and discovered that squirrels in the park are afflicted with the disease.

No other cases have developed and it is believed by the authorities that there will be no spread of the disease.

Lowell Couldn't Hit Pitcher Girard

HAVERHILL, Sept. 9.—Girard pitched fine ball for Haverhill yesterday afternoon, and with excellent support won the game from Lowell, 2 to 1. The visitors were only able to find him for two strikes. Haverhill scored its three runs in the sixth on as many two baggers. A wild pitch, which cost the triumph on one wrist, was responsible for one run. The score:

DIAMOND NOTES

Fall River today.

September 19 is closing day.

The season is two weeks longer this year.

Lawrence will finish a close second.

Greenwell will undoubtedly go higher up next season.

The four following are from the New Bedford Times:

McMahon, who is playing with the Lowell club, is the little Spindle city lad who was a year ago. He has been playing in the Virginia league and led that organization in batting. The Lynn News says that he is the fastest man playing the short-field in the league.

Cox is the only left hander now playing the first bag in the league. One newspaper says he is a joke as a batter, but he has broken up many a batter for Lowell with his long drives.

The Lynn News says that Lemieux of Lowell will be a second Joe Knotts. He will have a long road to travel before he has the head that the Harrisburg catcher carries even though he throws as hard and bats as well.

Rhoddy, the first baseman who travelled around the New England circuit this spring, is playing the best game in the field at the bat of any first sacker in the New York state league, according to Sporting Life.

Rev. Roland D. Sawyer, pastor of the Ward Hill Congregational church, one of the professional lights of London and an authority on New England league baseball, has selected the following as the premier all New England team for 1908:

O'Toole of Brockton; Gilroy of Lawrence; Barberich of Worcester; O'Toole of Haverhill; catchers, Daum of Lynn; first base, Bradley of Worcester; second, Hickman of Brockton; short, Blackburn of Worcester; third, Boardman of Haverhill; outfield, Burkett of Worcester; Hamilton of Haverhill and Catterton of Brockton. Total 12, giving Worcester four, Haverhill and Brockton three each, Lawrence one, Lynn one, all first division men, save Daum of Lynn.—Haverhill Gazette.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Young Champions played a double header against the Middlesex Juniors at the Truant school, Labor day. The first game was won by the Young Champions in 12 innings by a score of 4 to 3. The second was called on account of darkness in the fourth inning. The winners would like to play any team under 15.

FASTEST MILE

EVER PACED IN MICHIGAN DONE BY DAN PATCH.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 9.—Dan Patch paced a mile in 1:53 3-4 yesterday afternoon at the track. The fastest mile ever driven in Michigan. The famous miler failed to break his record of 1:53 but would undoubtedly have come much nearer making a new record if the crowd from the infield had not swarmed on the track, compelling Driver Hersey to keep far out from the fence. Probably 3000 people stood on the track and about thirty thousand cheered the pacer when the fast mile was finished.

Dan Patch was paced by two runners and the time by quarters was as follows:

30; 1:00; 1:29 1-2, and 1:53 3-4.

The track was fast and Dan Patch had two workouts of the track before being brought out about 4.30 p. m. for his trial against the record. He was received with great enthusiasm at every appearance before the crowded grand stand.

AN EARTHQUAKE

Put the Volcano Kilafu Into Action

HONOLULU, Sept. 9.—Following a slight earthquake which occurred on the island of Hawaii yesterday the molten lava of the volcano Kilafu fell from its usual level, a distance of 700 feet, in a few hours. A second shock occurred Saturday and following this the lava began to rise again. At the present time it has risen 600 feet or to within 300 feet of its original level and is still rising.

COLONEL MAUS

HAS GREAT PROGRAM FOR THE JOINT MANOEUVRES

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Aero-nautic, wireless telegraph experiments with kites and the use of automobiles as well as tactics drills and problems in the military warfare will form a part of the instructions at the coming joint manoeuvres of the regular troops and national guard of California, Arizona and New Mexico that will commence near Paso Robles, Hot Springs, on Oct. 1, if the war department accedes to the request of Col. Marlon P. Maus, who will be in command. Col. Maus, who is in command of the department of California, has asked that the signal corps of the department be given a dirigible balloon and the latest portable wireless apparatus for experiment in work in the field during the manoeuvres.

The field upon which the joint manoeuvres will be held is ten miles long and six miles wide. Between five and six thousand regulars will participate.

MCCARREN WINS

Maintains His Strength in Brooklyn

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—By carrying 15 of the 23 assembly districts of Brooklyn, Sen. Patrick H. McCarrren yesterday maintained his political control of Kings county, only four of the seven regular districts returning anti-McCarrren leaders.

Despite charges of fraud made in advance of the polling by both sides, very little disorder was observed. Only forty arrests were made for attempted illegal voting and at no time was it necessary to send out the platoon of police held in reserve.

BATTLING NELSON

Feels Confident of Defeating Gans

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—For the third time within two years Battling Nelson, the lightweight champion, and Joe Gans, who held the title for over six years, are to meet this afternoon in the Mission street arena in a contest scheduled to go 45 rounds. Up to the moment the gong clangs at 2.50 p. m. the odds are expected to remain stationary at the closing quotations of last night when Nelson ruled a 2 to 1 favorite. Nelson spent the evening at his training quarters in company with his father, his manager and some friends and Gans attended to his regular routine at his camp near this city.

Nelson will have as his adviser and chief second Willus Britt and the following assistants: Chief Grace, Jeff Perry, Red Cornet and Mike-Turk. Benny Selig will advise Gans, who will have second Frank McDonald, Eddie Hanlon and John Murphy. In a statement given out on the eve of the battle Nelson asserts his intention of going after Gans as he has previously done and declares it will be simply a question of how long Gans can last.

STRONG PROTEST

Against the Nomination of Lilley

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 9.—An incident in the political struggle in which the republican party has been indulging for weeks past leading up to the state convention which today will name a state ticket, was the gathering at the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon of manufacturers, representing, it is said, fifty-three industries, having a capital of fifty millions of dollars and an aggregate pay-roll of ten millions a year to formulate a protest to be presented to the convention against the nomination of Congressman George L. Lilley, of Waterbury, as governor.

It is understood that the gathering voted to organize a club to work to defeat Mr. Lilley if he is nominated. The following resolutions were given out last night:

Whereas, it is feared that the republican state convention, nominating George L. Lilley as the candidate for governor, and

Whereas, the next congress is to discuss the tariff, and may so change it as to vitally affect the business interests of Connecticut; and

Whereas, the national house of representatives has so overwhelmingly repudiated Mr. Lilley that his nomination for governor would be a direct affront to the dignity and judgment of that body; and

Whereas, the public record of Mr. Lilley is sufficient proof of his unfitness for the office, therefore, be it Resolved, that we know that the civic conscience of thinking republican citizens of the state is stirred by Mr. Lilley's candidacy to a depth not realized by our party managers; forecasting such determination as to compass his defeat at the polls

Resolved, that we solemnly protest against the nomination of Mr. Lilley as inimical to the best interests of Connecticut and disastrous to the supremacy of the republican party in the state.

Resolved, that a committee of five be chosen to present these resolutions to our party leaders and to use all honorable means to prevent the nomination of Mr. Lilley.

JOE GALLIGAN

DEFEATED TOMMY LOWE IN SIX ROUNDS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Joe Galligan of Chicago defeated Tommy Lowe of Washington in the windup at the Douglas athletic club here last night. The bout went the best of six rounds, and some fast fighting was done by both men.

Lowe proved his game all through the fight. Several times he was in a bad way, but he always pulled himself together and gave Galligan as good as he sent.

The first round was even, with both men going for the body. In the second round Lowe did his best, opening Galligan's eye with a hard right. Galligan doing the same to Lowe in the third round.

The fourth was all in Galligan's favor, the latter doing all the boxing and landing the hardest blows. The fifth and sixth rounds went to Galligan by a slant.

DOHAN AND CLOVER

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Johnny Dohan had a shade the better of Billy Glover of Boston in the star bout at Brown's gymnasium last night. It was a fast battle, with both boys trying hard for a knockout. Dohan while he was unable to knock down the Boston boy, he had the latter covering up during the last three rounds.

MATRIMONIAL

The home of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Coburn, 147 Beacon street, was the scene last evening of one of the prettiest of early fall weddings, the contracting parties being their daughter, Miss May Hilton Coburn and Mr. Sterling Murray Rust of Leesburg, Va. The wedding was attended by relatives and friends from this and other cities.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. George F. Martin, D. D., pastor of the Kirk Street Congregational church of this city, assisted by Rev. Edmund Lee of China a friend of the bridegroom. Mrs. Charles W. Churchill of this city was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses Nan and Myrtle Smith of Minneapolis and the flower girl was Miss Charlotte Wallace Hilton of Chicago.

Mr. William W. Rust of Pittsburgh, Pa., a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. H. W. Coburn, Jr., of Evansville, Ind., Mr. E. Marshall Rust of New York, Mr. Albertus A. Hilton, Jr., of Tacoma, Wash., and Mr. Charles W. Churchill of Lowell.

The house was prettily decorated with plants and flowers. Hibbard's orchestra furnished music and the Page company catered. Mr. and Mrs. Rust left on an evening train for a tour through the northern New England states and the White mountains. They will spend the home in Birmingham, Ala. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly wedding gifts.

THE TARIFF ISSUE.

As the campaign progresses it is becoming more clear that the tariff is the main issue upon which not only the election but the return of prosperity must depend.

We do not mean that in order to restore prosperous conditions the tariff must remain as it is. The question must be settled one way or the other and the conditions that have prevailed under the excessive tariff have become unendurable. The tariff fosters trusts and combinations to such an extent that a reduction of the various schedules is imperative.

The iniquities of trust control and monopoly have become too monstrous to be longer endured. When trusts sell their products in foreign countries at 28 per cent. less than they sell them to the American consumers then it is plainly time to reduce the tariff that makes such extortions possible.

The scheme of prosecuting trusts under the Sherman anti-trust law or any other law is useless and absurd. These prosecutions have not restricted the operations of the trusts in the least. What should be done is reduce the tariff that shelters the trusts rather than to maintain this tariff and make laws to penalize the trusts.

The remedy suggested by Mr. Bryan is one of the best yet put forth. He would have every corporation take out a federal license under which the trusts would do business, and whenever a trust assumes such proportions that it controls fifty per cent. of the total production of the line of articles it manufactures, then its production must be reduced or part of its plant sold out to some independent concern.

This would prevent the trusts from stamping out domestic competition. A reasonable reduction in the tariff would insure a measure of foreign competition so that the people might thus be protected from the extortionate prices which have ruled in all trust controlled commodities.

The republicans have promised to revise the tariff, but they are still in league with the trusts, and in fact controlled by the trusts so that this party is not free to carry out its pledges. As Mr. Bryan asserts, it has not the power to regenerate itself so long as it is closely allied with the trusts.

The standpatters will fight for a revision of the tariff upward instead of downward, and if the republicans be returned to power that is what may take place. Until the tariff question is settled the textile industry will be somewhat disturbed, and there will not be any return of real prosperity while the issue is pending.

It is a fallacy to suppose that the country will go to smash if Mr. Bryan should be elected. It would be difficult to imagine a condition much worse than that caused by the republican panic.

STRICT RULES AT REVERE.

The Metropolitan park commission, in charge of the reservation at Revere, has made a rule that nobody will be allowed to cross the boulevard in a bathing suit. This, it seems, is a wholly unnecessary and extraordinary requirement.

The aim seems to be to compel everybody who goes to Revere to use the state bathhouse or be deprived of the privilege of bathing at the beach. The rule is a hardship to the owners of cottages who feel it their right to go in bathing from their houses. Should the same rule be adopted as far as Lynn, hundreds of house owners would be obliged to sell out. The arrest of three men for violation of the rule will bring up a test case in court that will be watched with considerable interest. It is a grave injustice to the owners of cottages in that vicinity to be forbidden the right to go bathing from houses whenever they please.

It seems to us that the only requirement the park commission has a right to impose is that parties in bathing suits shall be modestly dressed. It has been the rule for some time past that parties crossing the boulevard in bathing suits should wear an outside robe or garment that would cover the body from head to foot. That would seem to answer all requirements of the law, and we do not believe that this new order of the park commission will stand the test of law.

TWO CLASSES OF PEOPLE.

In dealing with people in general nearly everybody must have noticed that there are two distinct classes. One class who think they know when they don't know, and another who do know yet think they don't know. It is a case of over-confidence in the one and lack of confidence in the other.

Many inventors are still producing new car fenders. Several new automatic fenders have been invented and have been tested on various lines of the cars but with unsatisfactory results. One great drawback with the automatic fenders is that from coming in contact with obstacles, the fenders might so fall or be thrown in the way of the car as to cause derailment. For this reason they cannot be used upon the high speed interurban cars. Inventors, however, need not be discouraged as the railroad commissioners are always open to conviction, and once they find a fender that will prove effective and that will entail no risk of accident, they will order its adoption by the companies operating cars throughout the state.

SEEN AND HEARD

The automobile race proved to be the best drawing card ever held in this city.

The race is over. Now for the balloon ascension.

The city of Brockton is about to have roller polo. It is almost time that Lowell was represented in the polo league. Speaking of polo reminds the writer of the game as played by the old timers. There were no cages in which to go the ball, but instead there were two sticks about three feet long, and two goal tenders stood between the posts to keep the ball out. A referee was in the middle of the floor, and there were judges for both teams at either end of the surface behind the sticks. If a judge thought quickly enough when a ball flew by the sticks he would yell that a goal had been made for his team, and usually, after more or less conversational pyrotechnics, the claim would be allowed. The early players were young men about town who liked roller skating and who were about the risk a good deal, and who played just as others now bowl, for the fun and excitement of the thing. The game was quite a ceremonious affair in some ways. The teams skated on the surface two by two and hand in hand while the game played. After the contest they lined up, and each team formally cheered the other.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

THE ANNUAL SACRIFICE.

Boston Post: Statistics of casualties in the last Fourth of July celebration are now available in a practically complete and authentic form. The Journal of the American Medical association gives the number of killed and injured as 5623, men, women and children.

It may be regarded in some measure gratifying that while the total number of casualties exceeds that of last year by 120, there was one less death, only 161 having been killed outright or dying of their injuries.

It is a stupendous price to pay for license in the celebration of even our most noble national anniversary. And the worst of it is that the sacrifice of life and limb is utterly unnecessary as an expression of the patriotic spirit. The difficulty of bringing about a change in the traditional methods is apparently insuperable; but a great deal can be accomplished by restrictions in the use of explosives.

ATLANTIC CITY STILL HELD DOWN.

N. Y. Commercial: After a second Sunday with "the lid on" in Atlantic City, as the result of the threat by Governor Fort to call the New Jersey legislature in special session to enact grand new laws for the enforcement of old laws, it is well worth repeating here that the present spasms of law observance in that city and county is not due to the desire or the zeal or the vigilance or the efficiency of the officials—not at all; it is simply the operation and the observance of an agreement by men whose business it is to sell liquor and whose preference is for breaking the law on Sundays in order to sell it, but who are temporarily accepting "discipline as the better part of valor" in order, as they hope, to prevent the enactment of more drastic laws than now exist or at least to stave off as long as possible. They do well to adopt this course for while they break the law and their sworn administrators, they only increase popular prejudice against themselves.

CHEATED ON RUGS RAIDED A CAMP

Clever Confidence Man at Work And Seized Liquor at Breezy Point

Lowell people who have purchased what they supposed to be fur rugs from a man who called at their houses during the last week or two, have by this time learned that they have been bunched. A clever confidence man has been at work and it is said he has succeeded in securing a number of people from their money. The police are now on the lookout for the rug man.

The man in question reached Lowell a little over a week ago with a number of rugs. His method was to approach a house where the surroundings indicated that the occupants were rather well-to-do and offer them prospective purchasers that he was a tailor and had smuggled a number of valuable furs into this country, thus being able to sell them at a wonderfully low price and at the same time make some profit himself.

The scheme worked well in about a dozen places and as a result about a dozen Lowell people are now realizing that they were swindled. It developed that the furs, which were supposed to be of the costliest variety, were of a cheap quality and of home production.

GALVIN KILLED

Prominent Bostonian Thrown Against Electric Light Pole

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Joseph de Lara Galvin, a member of one of Boston's best known families, a Spanish scholar, mining manager and business man, was almost instantly killed last night in a runaway accident in Dorchester. He was a brother of J. Mitchell Galvin, ex-city clerk of Boston; Thomas P. Galvin and Dr. George W. Galvin.

Mr. Galvin had left his place of business on Boylston street in a light runabout and was going through the Mt. Bowdoin district of Dorchester with John McManis, an employee, toward his home, 511 Washington street, Dorchester, when the accident happened.

The horse, a rather skittish animal, was just approaching the Washington street bridge over the railroad tracks shortly before 6 o'clock when at a sudden jerk from a locomotive beneath the bridge it made a sudden dash forward over the bridge. Mr. Galvin was not able to stop the horse at once, but was able to guide it to some extent, until they got to Milton street. There a heavy dray nearly blocked the way and Mr. Galvin turned the horse toward the sidewalk to pass the dray. The left wheel of the light runabout on the sidewalk struck the front axle of the dray and the front axle of the runabout to the ground. The occupants were thrown toward an electric light pole at the curb.

Mr. Galvin struck headforemost, taking the shock on his chest and neck. The force of the blow was increased because McManis was thrown against Mr. Galvin as he struck the pole. This saved McManis's life, and he escaped unhurt.

Arthur Allen, of 248 Washington street, and Charles Williams of 212 Washington street, Dorchester, who were near, rushed to Mr. Galvin's assistance and carried him, hardly breathing, to the office of Dr. Rogers and Sawyer. He died soon after.

The horse was caught immediately after the accident.

DUKE OF ABRUZZI AND AMERICAN FIANCEE

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Although unable to obtain the full consent of the Italian royal family, the Duke of the Abruzzi is determined to wed Miss Katherine Elkins, daughter of Senator Stephen B. Elkins, and is preparing to sail for America to arrange for the wedding. He has served notice on the haughty Queen Margherita that he will marry his American sweetheart or no one and has applied for leave from his ship that he may come to claim her hand. The wedding was set for January, but may be hastened.

THE JORDAN CASE WOMAN HAS SUED

Will Go to Grand Jury Manufacturer for Breach of Promise

HAVERHILL, Sept. 9.—Julia G. Belanger, of 22 Locust street, has brought two suits against Ernest E. Bottomley, of 47 Phoenix row, shoe manufacturers, 47 Phoenix row. Mr. Bottomley is now in England—on a wedding tour, it is said. One of the suits alleges breach of promise, and the other charges slander. Judge John J. Ryan has been retained by the defendant, who is expected to return to Haverhill the middle of the month when he will be accompanied by the second Mrs. Bottomley, who was Miss Edith Oldshaw, and who was a visitor at the home of his people in this city last summer.

Mrs. Belanger says that she worked for Mr. Bottomley as a forelady for 10 years and left his employ last February. She says she and Bottomley kept company 12 years, and that once when she had a chance to marry somebody else, he broke off the marriage with the other man and promised to marry her when their children were older.

She says she had no idea he was deceiving her, as he was jealous and was with her all the time. She says she has worked hard for his interests, and that her nerves are now shattered, and that her husband died 20 years ago, and Mr. Bottomley's first wife has been dead 15 years.

When she accused Mr. Bottomley of playing her false she says he denied it, but she says his daughter told her about it afterward.

Mr. Bottomley is the father of two children, a girl 19 years old and a son 17 years. Mrs. Belanger has brought up two children belonging to her sister.

THE testimony with which the officials of Middlesex county expect to close their case against the manufacturer of the Jordan case, is now practically all in the hands of District Attorney John J. Higgins and will be presented by him to the grand jury at East Cambridge tomorrow.

The man accused of the fiendish murder and dismembering of his actress wife Honora in their little flat at 509 Medford street, Somerville, a week ago last night, is taking life easy in his cell at the East Cambridge jail, and to all appearances is the least concerned and worried of anyone involved in the tragic case.

In the meantime, the self-confessed wife-murderer's attorneys are not idle. They are working hard and are apparently confident of proving at the trial that their client was predisposed to mental irresponsibility as the result of a continual disorder, and that at the time of the murder he was suffering from emotional insanity induced by an unhappy married life.

STATIONARY FIREMEN

Held Annual Concert and Ball in Associate Hall

The International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, local 14, held its 12th annual concert and ball in the hall of the International Brotherhood of Firemen, 140 North Main street, last night. There were more than 300 couples present and the affair was a big success. Those in charge were Hugh J. Gallagher, chairman and general manager; assistant general manager, John T. Hendricks; floor marshal, Daniel T. Hendricks; assistant floor marshal, Samuel O'Connell; chief of the band, Francis O'Connell; John P. Dean, James Campbell; reception committee, John W. Downing; chairman, William Mitchell; Michael Burke, Dominic Constance, Alexander Ray; general committee, Hugh J. Gallagher, chairman; George W. Gordon, secretary; Thomas J. McGee, treasurer.

The present officers of the local are: President, Hugh J. Gallagher; vice president, John T. Hendricks; recording secretary and treasurer, John W. Downing; financial secretary, Thomas J. McGee; John P. Dean, John T. Hendricks, Patrick Reynolds.

SOME OLD BILLS

Will Be Presented to Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Former Mayor Fitzgerald upon his return from Europe will be presented with a bill amounting to $250 for the use of a bill and several ward rooms during his last campaign. The presentation will be made by City Collector Charles R. Brown, formerly a loyal Fitzgerald voter whose salary was increased $500 during the Fitzgerald administration.

Though the bill was sent to the democratic city committee some time ago, officials about City hall say that the committee refused to pay it on the grounds that the ex-mayor was responsible for the engagement of Faneuil hall and the ward rooms during his last campaign. The presentation will be made by City Collector Charles R. Brown, formerly a loyal Fitzgerald voter whose salary was increased $500 during the Fitzgerald administration.

Lowell Boy Wins Another Leg on Bernheimer Tennis Cup.

In the Old Town Club tennis tournament for the Bernheimer cup, held at Newburyport recently, Laurin H. Martin of this city won another leg on the cup. This is the second leg for the Lowell man, he having won his first two years ago. H. H. Whitman of Boston defeated.

In the final round of this year's tournament, some of the best matches ever held on the courts there were witnessed. Laurin H. Martin's opponent and the Lowell boy lost the first set 4-6, but won the second and third, 6-4, 6-1. Martin lost the fourth set, 5-7, but the following set and the match was handily won by the Lowell player, 6-2.

There were several Lowell players listed in the contest.

In the final for doubles, four Lowell men were lined up. Jackson and Coburn beat Young and Martin by default, the latter player not wishing to contest because of the strenuous matches he had with Currier.

CAPTAIN COOK

CHARGED WITH CONDUCT UNBECOMING AN OFFICER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Captain Frank A. Cook, U. S. A., formerly of Rhode Island, was put on trial before a court-martial at Washington yesterday on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman while on duty at the Washington, Alexandria, and Mount Vernon railroad on July 4th last. Several witnesses testified that he was disorderly on that occasion. The specifications allege that the captain was drunk and that he was only subdued through the efforts of a constable and six passengers.

AUTOS WRECKED

Big Touring Machines in Collision

NEWBURYPORT, Sept. 9.—Three heavy touring cars going at a high rate of speed met with a terrific crash on the Newburyport high road between Riverhead and Rowley last night, and although there were a dozen men and women in the smashup, but one woman was injured severely enough to require attention and she was able to go to Boston by train. Two of the machines were badly wrecked.

One of the cars, owned and occupied by G. L. Allen of St. Louis, Mo., a prominent summer resident of New Beach, who had as companions an other man and a woman, was going towards Rowley when a car owned and occupied by Frank B. Conings of Boston, vice president and treasurer of the American Motorist company, came up behind Allen and it is believed attempted to pass him. Allen, however, speeded up, it is said, and while the two cars were rushing up the highway they met another machine coming down the Old Town country club owned and occupied by a Mr. Hale of Newburyport, with his daughter and chauffeur.

There was no chance for the Hale car to pass the two racers, and fearing a crash Conings turned out. As the Hale car was on a high speed, it crashed and the car turned, throwing Conings and the men and women with him ten or fifteen feet. The woman, whose name could not be learned, was knocked insensible, but soon recovered. The other two machines crashed together but their occupants escaped unhurt.

NIGHT EDITION

AMES IN TROUBLE

Will Have Opposition in the CaucusesOsmond Long Takes Out Set of Congressional Nomination Papers, But Claims That Candidate Has Not Been Decided Upon

Osmond Long, the well known bookbinder and prominent in British-American circles, took out a set of nomination papers in the interest of an unknown republican candidate for congress, and hence it would appear that Congressman Ames will have opposition in the caucuses.

Mr. Long telephoned the republican headquarters yesterday for nomination papers, and today he called and took them out, and there was great guessing and consternation among the habitués of the headquarters.

Secretary Goward of the republican headquarters when asked who the new candidate was replied: "I haven't the slightest idea."

Mr. Long when asked about the papers replied: "I have taken out papers but it is on the 'Q. T.'"

When informed that there was no secret about the matter he replied: "I cannot tell who the candidate will be, but he will not be Butler Ames. I cannot mention any candidate's name at this time with any degree of authenticity."

It is believed that a set of unpledged delegates will be filed at the proper time, and the identity of the candidate kept a secret for the present. It is intimated that the republican state machine is behind the move.

At the democratic headquarters this afternoon in the ward four-five representative contest, Messrs. Michael J. Markham, Martin J. Conley, Timothy S. Murphy and John J. O'Connell took out papers.

In the ward two contest for the legislature Rep. John J. Meehan is the only candidate who has taken out papers thus far.

MRS. RICE'S STORY

Confirmed at the Coroner's Inquest Today

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 9.—When the coroner's inquest over Dr. Frederick Rustin who met a tragic death a week ago was continued today, Frederick H. Davis, vice president of the First National bank, who was overcome with emotion and forced to leave the stand last evening was not recalled. Neither was his brother, Charles E. Davis, accused by Mrs. Abbie Rice of entering a suicide pact with Dr. Rustin. Charles E. Davis, it was stated, was detained at the home of his brother-in-law, Luther Kuntz under surveillance of the police. Charles Davis is reported to be almost a nervous wreck and the strain of the past few days was made it necessary to keep him constantly under the treatment of physicians.

OFFICER HERSEY HUGH FERGUSON

Will Be Given Hearing
Thursday Night

The board of police will give a public hearing in the police court room tomorrow night to Patrolman Charles H. Hersey, against whom charges have been preferred by Lawyer Dennis J. Murphy on behalf of his clients, Messrs. George Massalon and Elijah Tejjian.

It is alleged that Patrolman Hersey and Daniel C. Donovan falsely arrested the two complainants, assaulted them and used profane language. An extra charge is to the effect that Patrolman Hersey threatened Mr. Massalon.

Lawyer William H. Bent, who appears for Patrolman Hersey, asked Lawyer Murphy to present a bill of particulars relative to the specific words used under the head of profanity, and today Mr. Murphy supplied Mr. Bent with a copy of the alleged "curse" words used by the officer.

The time for the Donovan hearing has not been set by the board yet.

Loses License at Hotel
Rockingham

On the ground that he had abused his license, Hugh Ferguson, proprietor of Hotel Rockingham of Salem, N. H., had it taken away from him by the state license commissioners Saturday.

Ferguson is a Lowell man and was granted permission to sell intoxicating liquor in June, 1907, and the license was to expire next May, but owing to the violations of the law he forfeited the use of the license after a hearing before the commissioners.

The property has been attached by the owners, H. L. Gordon, F. P. Woodbury and L. Bustin, all of Salem, N. H.

WESTERN UNION DIVIDEND
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The Western Union Telegraph Co. directors today declared a quarterly dividend of one-half of one per cent, the same as was declared in the preceding quarter.

A DYING FATHER

Wants to Sell His Son
Once More

HAVERHILL, Sept. 9.—J. H. Carter, a Boston business man, is dying at the Somerville hospital of injuries received last Thursday when he was knocked down by an automobile. His son, Arthur E. Carter, is somewhere in this city, under an assumed name probably, and relatives are making an effort to locate him. Young Carter is 20 years old and has been married. He was in Lawrence about two years ago, where he worked as a meat cutter, but he left that city, and in spite of his father's efforts has been successful in eluding all searches in this city, where it is believed he is working in a shoe shop. People who know the family have seen him here and have reported back to Boston that he is here, and now that his father is believed to be dying his uncle is in the city searching for him in order that he may return to Boston in time to see his father before he dies. Mr. Carter is at the head of an extensive business on Summer street in Boston and has amassed a comfortable fortune. His one desire now is to see his boy again and to make provision for him in his will.

DEATH OF CAPT. KEW

At the meeting of the police board held last night the members adopted a set of resolutions on the death of the late Capt. William R. Kew. It was voted to send a copy to the family of the deceased and to include the resolutions in the records of the board.

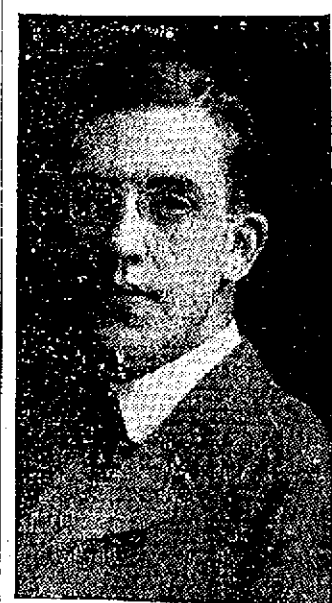

Does your heating apparatus need overhauling. Now is the time to attend to it.

WELCH BROS., 61-63 Middle St.

NORMAL SCHOOL

Entrance Examinations Closed at Noon Today

Examinations for the normal school were begun yesterday morning and closed at noon today. It was the regular fall examination and was taken by about 60 including those who failed at the June examination and others.

HERBERT D. BIXBY,
Principal Bartlett School.

Principal Durgin said today that there would be no changes at the normal school except, perhaps, in the position of teacher of elocution and gymnastics.

Miss Hovey who has filled the position so admirably in poor health and it is feared that she will not be able to resume her duties this fall and in the event of her not being able to return some one, of course, would be appointed in her place.

Supt. Whitcomb said today that there would be no changes in the Bartlett school this fall. The assignment of teachers will not be made until after the meeting of the sub-committee on teachers to be held next Friday evening.

The assignments are never made until the last minute because the superintendent does not always know how many vacancies exist, as some of the teachers who do not intend to return do not say so until the last moment, and there have been cases where they did not give any notice. These instances had to do with teachers who got married and, while it might be a bit unfair to say so, right out straight from the shoulder, yet there is the possibility that they did not want to give their notice until they were sure of their man.

A few days ago Supt. Whitcomb wrote to the principals of the schools, asking them to report as to probable vacancies. Answers to these letters will probably be received today or tomorrow.

Herbert D. Bixby, who has been appointed to the Bartlett school, is said to be well equipped for the position. He is a graduate of the Lowell high school and is 28 years old. After graduating from the high school he taught in the local evening schools and taught also in the west.

Returning from the west, he was appointed principal of the Edmund Lincoln school at Norwood, Mass., and was filling that position when elected principal of the Bartlett school.

PARKER WILL NOT RUN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Judge Alton B. Parker said here today that he was not willing to make the race for governor of New York.

Judge Parker said: "I am not willing to run for governor of New York. I do not feel that the situation and the questions presented require an answer more than that it is my desire never again to hold public office."

Wagon

Massachusetts license 8038 was suspended to the rear axle of a touring car that struck Lowell this forenoon. The big car was somewhat dilapidated. The hood was torn from in front exposing the machinery, the top was torn off and the sides split and chafed. The car was occupied by two boys and they were very reticent. They took dinner at the Lowell Inn and when asked what had happened to their car one of them, evidently the spokesman, said "Oh, nothing much. She's in trim now, beat anything in Lowell."

The reporter remarked that the machine looked as if it had assaulted a policeman.

"Worse than that," said the spokesman of the pair, "I struck an ice wagon. The policeman, I will admit, is a cold proposition, but not in it for a minute with an ice wagon." The boys absolutely refused to tell just what had happened.

LARCENY CHARGE

Man Was Arrested in Andover Today

Major Noyes and Special Officer John Regis went to Andover this morning and arrested Vasilios Caranickolis on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a watch from John Matsacos.

It is alleged that the prisoner "lifted" the watch about three weeks ago while Matsacos was at work. Caranickolis' acknowledgment was shown, and said after taking it he left Lowell and went to Worcester, where he sold it.

LOWELL MAN

CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF HAMP-TON BEACH ASSOCIATION.

The separation of Hampton beach as a precinct from the town of Hampton proper, which action was taken recently, resulted in the organizing of a body among the cottage owners at that resort to be known as the Hampton Beach Property Holders' association.

The new association was given life Saturday when the property holders met for organization. Another meeting was held Monday night at which much enthusiasm was shown.

A Mr. Saunders of Lowell is president of the body and J. Frank James of Lawrence is a member of the executive board.

The next meeting of the association will be held July 3, 1909.

The association is formed with the object of bettering the interests of the property owners and to seek the welfare of the precinct.

EXTRA

ORGANIZE CLUBS

Democrats of Lowell to Begin Work Monday

State Committeeman Edward Gallagher had a conference with Humphrey O'Sullivan, who was secretary of the Bryan notification committee, last evening relative to the organization of Bryan and Kern clubs which work has been entrusted to Mr. Gallagher to direct. Mr. O'Sullivan promised to support the movement in every possible way, and it was agreed that the first meeting for organization be held in the banquet hall in Association building next Monday evening at 7.45 o'clock. All democrats interested in the formation of these clubs are invited to attend this meeting.

Every day Mr. O'Sullivan is receiving from people in different parts of the congressional district, asking him to run for congress. Leading democrats in this city and in Lawrence have taken it for granted that the "man who does things" will listen to the call of the people and allow his name to go on the ballot on election day.

PASSENGER TRAIN WAS DERAILED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 9.—South-bound St. Louis and San Francisco through passenger train number 509 that left St. Louis yesterday afternoon, is reported derailed at a curve north of Schuller, Okla., about fifty miles south of Muskogee. The mail and baggage cars, two coaches and one chair car, left the tracks.

CONTEMPT CHARGE

Receiver Asks That Men Be Sent to Jail

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—Receiver Austin of the failed brokerage firm of Cameron, Currie & Co. of this city today filed in the Wayne circuit court a petition asking that such members of the Boston brokerage firm of Hayden Stone & Co. who may be within the court's jurisdiction be sent to jail for contempt of court because they refuse to turn over to the receiver a surplus of about $500,000 remaining of the proceeds of the sale of the securities which they held as collateral for Currie & Co.'s indebtedness to them. Hayden Stone & Co. filed a defense setting up that the only reason is that the proper form of receipt is in dispute between Receiver Austin and themselves. They asked the court to dismiss the contempt charge.

FOUND IN SOFA TEXTILE SCHOOL

Bonds Were Worth
About $10,000

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 9.—The United States court here has been asked to decide the ownership of $10,000 bonds of the Northampton and Williamsburg Street railway company of Springfield, Mass., which bonds were found in an old sofa of John Hughes, deceased, of Paterson.

Hughes was a bankrupt in 1911, owing more than $10,000 and having but $33 assets. The court is under the impression that these bonds now belong to the creditors.

They were issued to Israel Sayres and assigned in blank by him. Frank Hughes, son of the deceased, wants the bonds decreed in his name, but the court is under the impression that he is seeking to get a claim to them that he might bring suit against the Springfield corporation, which corporation says these bonds were assigned to J. C. Hammond about two years ago. The matter went over for a week for further proof that such is the case.

Office, 152 Market Street—Tel. 2258-5—Lowell, Mass.

Postponed

The Sale of Household Furniture at the residence of Mrs. Ellen M. Shaw, 698 Westford Street, has been postponed one week on account of injunction proceedings.

An advertisement will appear in The Sun announcing the time the sale will take place.

6 O'CLOCK LILLEY WON OUT

Congressman Captured Republican Nomination for Governor

Strong Opposition to Him But He Won An Easy Victory—The Contest Was Settled on the First Ballot

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 9.—Not much sleep was obtained by the republican leaders last night nor by the men who have in their hands the immediate political destinies of the candidates for office on the state ticket. The excitement of last night due to the antagonism of nearly a third of the delegates to Congressman George L. Lilley, which reached a sensational climax in the New Haven house early this morning, when State Leader Fyler and Gen. George Kenealy of Summers had an argument over the action of the manufacturers' conference which is fighting Mr. Lilley, aroused the party managers to a realization that they might face a trying situation in the convention before the nomination for governor was made. The state convention in 1900, when George P. McLean bore the brunt of the attack of the friends of Donald T. Warner, was probably as nervous as this one promises to be. In the present case the most bitter antagonism to Congressman Lilley comes from men prominent in business life, while that in the convention is mostly due to the candidacy of Lieut. Gov. Lake and of Gov. Woodruff. Mr. Lilley has about 40 of the 550 delegates controlled by the organization machinery. Gov. Woodruff has asked no one to prevent his name, but in the belief that the people of the state want him he will not withdraw.

All-night conferences were in progress to iron out if possible the various contests for places on the state ticket and as the lobbies of the hotels remained filled until 3 o'clock rumors were bandied back and forth, adding to the keen interest taken in the preliminary discussions of supporters of the several candidates. The glory of the manufacturers' conference and the text of the resolutions drawn up by that body and given to the resolutions committee of the convention, became the subject of discussion and through the interrogatories made by Mr. Fyler of Gov. Kenealy some of the details of the discussion between the two conference committees became known. George Palmer of the manufacturers' committee who was asked by Mr. Fyler if it were true if he intended to use his fortune "to corrupt the electorate of Connecticut," is a class-mate of Mr. Fyler and entertained the latter during the New London regatta in June.

W. H. Rodenbach of Naugatuck, another of the committee, is identified with J. H. Whittemore, the millionaire manufacturer of the Naugatuck valley. He told Mr. Fyler that he was as good a republican as was Mr. Fyler and moreover had voted the republican ticket in the south when to do so meant to look into the muzzle of a revolver.

The conference gave the party managers much concern. The resolutions, however, are expected to be forgotten in the committee which has a majority of Lilley men, that candidate having won out in most of the senatorial districts from which delegates all convention committees are raised.

The drafting of a platform was left to a sub-committee which reported to the full committee at 9 o'clock. The crowd at the convention was the biggest in years. Scarcely a party man of any prominence was absent. National Committeeman Charles L. Brooks and U. S. Senator Bulkeley were among those who were in close touch with the committee in endeavoring to bring about complete harmony. The delegates poured into the theatre at 9:45 and when Senator Brandegee dropped his gavel at 10:10 the floor seats were filled and the first balcony

FOUR VICTIMS MAY DIE

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 9.—Pearson Talley, aged 60 years, while temporarily insane, attacked his wife in bed this morning, splitting her skull with a broadaxe; then he attacked his niece, splitting her head open also and fractured the skull of her husband, Andrew Johansen. The three victims are in a hospital in a dying condition, and Talley is under arrest.

Talley, who seemed to come to his senses after the attack, expressed great grief and said he could not account for his act. His wife said he had always been kind.

CAMP ENTERED

Break Was Made at Canobie Lake

LAWRENCE, Sept. 9.—A burglar, whose nerve would be commendable if applied to a better cause, entered the Canobie lake camp of Horace J. Quinn, the local contractor, Monday night, secured a coat, a vest, a new pair of shoes and less than $5 in change and made his departure without leaving the slightest clue to his identity. Entrance was gained by cutting away a small section of the door panel. This was done in the old-fashioned but nevertheless effective way of boring a number of small holes with an auger. When enough holes were bored in a circular direction the thief forced that section of wood in. This was made more easy by the use of a knife in cutting the wood connecting the enough, the crook put his hand through the hole and turned the key, opened the door and walked in. The thief ransacked the lower floor while the family was soundly sleeping upstairs, and so quietly did he work that no thought of such a visit entered the minds of the dwellers until Tuesday morning, when Mr. Quinn looked for his shoes. After searching a long time he discovered the hole in the door panel and trying the door he found it unlocked, although he had locked it the night before.

Then it dawned on him that the house had been entered, and a hasty search revealed that the shoes, clothing and money had disappeared. The thief had searched the two handbags that had been hanging on the wall and secured some change amounting to about $5. In his haste the thief overlooked $4 lying in the bottom of one of the bags, the property of Miss McCarthy, a sister of Mr. Quinn. In the bottom of the other was $3, which he also missed.

Upstairs, nestling cozily in the pocket of Mr. Quinn's trousers, was a cute little roll of over $100. This was untouched, as it is thought that the burglar did not enter the upper apartments.

ALL CLAIM VICTORY

Convention Must Settle New Hampshire Contest

Pillsbury Men Say They Have at Least 375 Delegates—Quinby Supporters Say Their Man Has 411 Votes Pledged to Him

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 9.—Conflicting claims, differing so widely in their nature as to indicate that only the vote of the state convention here on September 17 would decide the contests, were made today by candidates in the three cornered fight for the republican gubernatorial nomination in this state. Returns from the caucuses which were held last night were far from complete at noon today, but from the returns at hand it appeared that the number of unpledged delegates elected made impartial announcement in favor of any candidate practically impossible. Supporters of the three rival candidates, R. W. Pillsbury of Manchester, Henry B. Quinby of Laconia and Col. Bertram Ellis of Keene, were ready to advance reasons for claiming the majority of the delegates, with the result that statements given out at headquarters of the respective candidates were far from agreement.

Comparatively few of the 812 delegates, the convention quota, were actually pledged by their caucuses. The candidates however, claim to have assurances which justify them in announcing favorable figures. Accordingly the Pillsbury supporters who are fighting to overthrow the alleged influence of the Boston & Maine railroad in New Hampshire politics declared today that their candidate is sure of between 375 and 400 delegates. It is pointed out that in a three cornered contest a following of 350 practically assures nomination. Mr. Pillsbury was a candidate in the bitter campaign two years ago when Gov. Floyd secured the nomination and Winston Churchill, the author, who was second on the deciding ballot in 1906, is supporting him.

For Quinby 411 votes or four more than a majority of the delegates are claimed by his advocates. They assert that their candidate will have all of the eleven cities in the state with the exception of Manchester, Franklin and Keene.

The claims for Col. Ellis, while less sweeping than those of the other candidates were presented with confidence and were to the effect that the delegates with pronounced preferences had been equally divided between the candidates while Mr. Ellis could count on a large support from the so-called unpledged votes.

PILLSBURY LEADERS

Claim That Their Candidate Won Out

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 9.—Although the supporters of Henry B. Quinby of Laconia and Bertram Ellis of Keene, vigorously disputed the claims of the adherents of Rosecrans Pillsbury of this city that the face of the caucus returns last night throughout the state gave the Manchester man a commanding majority of the delegates to the republican gubernatorial convention, Mr. Pillsbury and his followers today reiterated their belief that the returns spelled victory for their faction.

The returns today were still far from complete but the Pillsbury forces claimed more than a majority of the delegates elected and expressed full confidence that the districts yet to be heard from would send in a Pillsbury majority proportionate to the majority which they claimed on the returns at hand.

On the other hand the Quinby branch claimed that their candidate had received slightly more than the 407 delegates which constitutes a majority in the state convention. Mr. Ellis, the third candidate, expressed the belief that he also would have a majority of the delegates in the convention. In refuting the claims of its rivals each faction points out that many delegates claimed by opposition candidates are in reality unpledged and that the unitary claims are held on the preferences of the unpledged delegates be definitely known.

In this city the Pillsbury forces claim to have made a clean sweep and do not concede the Quinby faction a single delegate. On the other hand Mr. Quinby's supporters declared that in only three wards of the ten wards in the city—wards 2, 3 and 4—have delegates pledged to Pillsbury been chosen. In the other seven wards the delegations were unpledged. The unpledged delegates are claimed by both sides. The Quinby people however, say that wards 1 and 2 are known to be hostile to Pillsbury while in the other wards where the delegations are unpledged the custom of having the representatives in the last legislature sent as delegates to the convention will be followed out. According to the Quinby faction claims the members of the legislature are hostile to Mr. Pillsbury's candidacy.

QUINBY MANAGER.

Says That the Laconia Man Has Won Out.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 9.—George Moses, one of the leading supporters of the candidacy of Henry B. Quinby of Laconia for the republican nomination for governor, stated today that from advices received from all parts of the state it was his firm conviction that Mr. Quinby had secured a sufficient number of delegates in the caucuses last night to insure his selection by the convention of Sept. 17. Mr. Moses claimed slightly over 400 delegates as favorable to Mr. Quinby, while the other 60, he said, would be split up between Rosecrans Pillsbury of Manchester and Bertram Ellis of Keene. In addition to carrying all the towns, Mr. Moses said today that Mr. Quinby would have a large majority of the delegates in nearly all the cities except Manchester and Keene, and in the former he denied that Pillsbury had a majority of the delegates. Mr. Moses' table of the results from the 11 cities was as follows:

	Quinby	Ellis	Pillsbury	Unpledged
Manchester	8	—	—	55
Concord	33	—	—	—
Nashua	36	—	—	—
Keene	16	1	—	—
Portsmouth	17	—	—	—
Dover	13	3	—	—
Laconia	14	—	—	—
Rochester	10	1	3	—
Berlin	10	—	—	—
Somersworth	4	3	6	—
Franklin	4	6	—	—
Totals	155	33	41	56

It was admitted by the Quinby leaders today that Pillsbury had won in the large towns of Lebanon and Pembroke, but they also claimed that Cornish would be split between Pillsbury and Ellis.

In answer to the claims of the Quinby faction regarding the result in this city the supporters of Mr. Pillsbury say that of the 98 delegates from Manchester 82 are absolutely pledged to Pillsbury while the other 16 were named by Pillsbury adherents.

The Pillsbury party declared today that the returns from 214 cities and towns gave their candidate 339 delegates Quinby 199 and Ellis 55 with 24 unpledged. There are still 160 towns to be heard from in which the Pillsbury people claim their candidate has considerable support. Intimate friends of Mr. Pillsbury declared today that when the returns from the Quinby towns are in Mr. Pillsbury will have a total of from 375 to 400 delegates to the convention. They contest the candidate who can muster 350 delegates in the convention is practically assured of gubernatorial nomination.

In addition to the delegates in Manchester the Pillsbury supporters claimed today that they had elected five delegates in Concord, half of the delegates in the cities of Nashua, Dover and Somersworth, two-thirds of the delegates from Rochester, Keene and Berlin and a quarter of the delegates from Laconia and Laconia to Quinby by the Pillsbury people saying that they made no contest in those home towns of the rival candidates. The Pillsbury faction also claim six or more delegates each from the towns of Derry, Lebanon, Claremont, Pembroke and Salem and four each from Whitefield, Colebrook, Hinsdale and Winchester.

CHAIRMAN MACK.

Says Bryan Will be Judge Parker's Guest.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Chairman Mack announced today that Mr. Bryan will spend Sunday, Sept. 14, as the guest of former Judge Allen B. Parker at his home at Esopus, N. Y., and that evening will journey on to Albany, where he will spend the night as the guest of former Senator David B. Hill. On his arrival last week in New York from Europe, Mr. Hill called on National Chairman Mack and announced that he would do all he could to aid in Mr. Bryan's election. Chairman Mack said today that the visit of Mr. Bryan to the homes of Mr. Parker and Mr. Hill showed conclusively that democracy was firmly united in the east, and that factionalism was a thing of the past.

THE MILK STRIKE

Resulted in Violence in New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—So many drivers of the Sheffield Farms-Blawson-Decker company were assaulted by strikers yesterday, especially along Tenth and Eleventh avenues, that the company hesitated to take back a number of the strikers who offered to return under the old conditions for fear they would be assaulted. Some of them returned to work on the understanding that the company would do its best to protect them, but they took the risk of assaults. The others of the strikers who wanted to return said they would not come back until they were absolutely certain that they would be in no danger.

"The police are giving our employees the best protection possible," said Loton Horton, president of the company, yesterday, "but when strikers make their way to roofs and throw down rocks and bricks at the drivers they generally escape before the police reach them. One man was so severely beaten in Forty-second street between Tenth and Eleventh avenues that he had to be taken to a hospital. There would be nothing to the strike if it were not for fear of the strikers, and if this kind of thing goes on we will have to take stringent measures for the protection of the men."

LOWELL HORSES

FIGURED IN LABOR DAY RACES AT LAWRENCE

At Lawrence on Labor day, Bessie L., of this city took second money in the 250 trot or pace and "Doc" Evans "Silverstream" took second money in the named race, purse $100. "Edwin S." the property of Landlord Dickey of the New American hotel in this city won first money at Bradford fair, Bradford, Vt., in the free-for-all race. He also won first money at Springfield, Vt., this week in the free-for-all. The horse is being driven by Mr. Dickey's brother, O. P. Dickey and the latter says that "Edwin S." is in fine fettle and fit as a fiddle.

TWO SUICIDES

Reported to Astoria Police at Same Time

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Two cases of suicide by hanging were reported to the Astoria police within a few minutes soon after 7 o'clock last night. A hanging from a tree in the woods near Riker avenue and Theodore street, was suspended by heavy twine. The man was about 5 feet 8 inches tall and had gray hair and a gray mustache. In his pocket was an envelope bearing the name of James Janick. There was a post office notice with the names of Fred Shiras and it was signed Kern of 121 Second avenue, Manhattan. John Schneck, 26 years old, a clerk, who has been living with relatives at 13 Carver street, Astoria, was found dead hanging to a rafter in the cellar. He had previously shot himself in the wrist. Schneck according to his relatives, had made several attempts at suicide.

JONES WON OUT

IN THE FIGHT FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 9.—Late reports from yesterday's primaries received up to 10 a. m. indicate the selection of Congressman Jones as republican nominee for United States senator in place of Levi Ankeny.

GEORGE PRESCOTT

WELL KNOWN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER IS DEAD

QUINCY, Sept. 9.—George Washington Prescott, well known throughout the country as a newspaper publisher for 56 years, died at his home here today of heart trouble. Up to two weeks ago he had been away from his desk at the Quincy Patriot here but two days during his whole career.

He was born in Dracut, Mass., 74 years ago, and was married in 1850 to S. Abbie Fischer of Westwood. A widow, two sons and three daughters, survive him.

During his life he was prominently identified with the Massachusetts Press association, New England Press association, Suburban Editorial association and the Republican Press association. His wide acquaintance was made chiefly while he was a delegate for several years to the National editorial convention.

BANK OPENED

BUT NO BUSINESS WAS TRANSACTED TODAY.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 9.—The doors of the Mount Washington Savings & Trust company were open today but no business was transacted.

BANKER MISSING.

It is Said That Employees Were Not Paid.

PARIS, Sept. 9.—La Presse printed a story to the effect that an American known as Maney Robinson, the manager of a bank on the Rue des Pyramides, who sign reads: "Horace Greeley Robinson; Foreign Securities; Marconi Wireless," has disappeared.

GOVERNOR HUGHES

Must Meet Strong Opposition in the Convention

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Chairman Woodruff of the republican state committee, in a statement issued today at state headquarters on the result of the primaries held in Greater New York yesterday, said:

"The magnitude of the opposition thus manifested toward Gov. Hughes in New York and particularly in King's county certainly justified the position which I have taken that we would have to await the gathering of the delegation at Saratoga to enlighten us as to the feeling in all the assembly districts.

"I have, of course, recognized the very large and earnest sentiment in his favor among many classes and the very best classes of republicans, but could not be blind to the opposition which for the first time was made evident yesterday to the public."

ROYAL MINISTER

Is Accused of Having Plundered the Treasury

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 9.—A sensation was caused here yesterday by the sudden announcement that M. Alberti, former minister of justice and king's privy councillor, had surrendered to the police, confessing the embezzlement by fraud and forgery of $2,500,000. Alberti resigned his portfolio on July 23, alleging ill health as the cause, but in reality because of the attacks made by the radicals upon his personal probity. His enemies went so far in these attacks as to dub him "the Danish Nihil."

Previous to this, Alberti had been a cabinet minister for seven years and had an untarnished reputation. He was president of the Peasants' Savings bank, which is apparently the chief sufferer by his dishonesty, but the ministry of finance and the National bank are also affected, though it is stated that their losses are largely secured. The Peasants' bank, which was closed by order of the government yesterday, owes the treasury $355,000, of which $115,000 is fully secured.

It is asserted that the frauds have been going on for years. Alberti, according to one statement, would take bonds of the savings bank and deposit them in local banks, setting advances thereon. As these bonds were issued to bearer, it is expected that the banks which made the advances will escape loss. Several English banks advanced money to Alberti in the same way.

The depositors, who are mostly small investors throughout the country, will be the losers. There was great excitement in the city last night. The streets were crowded and the newspaper extras are selling at fancy prices. The cabinet, which is in session, is expected to resign.

SEEKS ALIMONY WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Husband Does Not Know About Riches

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—So carefully did Charles Elbert Zabriske cover up his fight when he deserted his wife and two grown-up daughters two years ago to elope with a young married woman, as it is now claimed, that he has never been heard from since. In consequence it is believed that he is still in ignorance of the death of his father last January, by which he came into an inheritance of $20,000, one-third of an estate of $30,000, which was to be equally shared by Zabriske and his two sisters.

Yesterday Mrs. Zabriske finally concluding that her husband deserted her to elope with Mrs. Mary Earle, the pretty young wife of George Earle, made application to Vice Chancellor Stevens at Newark for separate maintenance from the income of her husband's share, and the executors were ordered to appear on Sept. 22 to show cause why Mrs. Zabriske should not be given the income until her husband makes other arrangements to provide for her.

Mrs. Zabriske still lives at Montville, N. J., where her husband deserted her, and has been connected with her eldest daughter, to work for a living during the past year.

COLORED MASON'S

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 9.—W. J. Bryan arrived here today shortly after noon in the private car of Vice-President Jackson of the Rock Island railroad. At the station to meet him were Adlai Stevenson, democratic candidate for governor and other prominent democrats. The trip to the hotel was a continual ovation.

Yielding to the demands of a great throng Mr. Bryan made a speech from the balcony of the hotel. Later he spoke to another great gathering on "The State and the Nation."

Tonight he again will speak at the college. On the way here from Chicago several changes were announced in the itinerary. New York city will be visited Sept. 25 instead of the 27th and the 27th will be devoted to New Jersey.

PETER HANSEN

Is Held on a Serious Charge

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 9.—Peter Hansen, the Swede engineer of the yacht America arrested and later released by the police on the night of August 31 after being rescued from the clutches of a mob that wanted to lynch him, was re-arrested late yesterday and today was arraigned in the sixth district court charged with felonious assault upon Ida May Gillis, a four-year-old child. Hansen was held without bail for trial on Sept. 18 but his counsel took the case to the superior court and the prisoner was admitted to bail in the sum of $5000 which was furnished by William G. Titcomb of Boston, the owner of the yacht.

BIG TAX CLAIMS

TEXAS SUES TO RECOVER MORE THAN $10,000

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 9.—Increased valuations on bonds held by Texas insurance companies and companies doing business in the state, has resulted in claims for taxes on the 1907 valuations alone of more than $10,000 and much more than that if back taxes are collectible.

Most of the bonds have been deposited by Texas insurance companies and other corporations required by law to make deposits. The foreign companies mostly pay their taxes promptly, but the same cannot be said of the Texas companies. One Texas insurance company has refused point blank to pay up; others indicate by their continued failure to pay that they will not do so until forced.

The city, through collector terizing, is exerting every effort to get the money, and when all other means have failed will resort to the courts. Few of the outside corporations will have to be sued, as most have been very prompt in paying what they owe the city.

THE PAPERMAKERS

Failed to Return to Work Today at Livermore Falls

LIVERMORE FALLS, Me., Sept. 9.—Notices were posted for the first time today in the mills of the International Paper Co. here and at Chisholm, giving the men an opportunity to return to work, and stating that not less than half of the machines will be run. None of the men had returned early today. Superintendent Edwin Riley took occasion to correct a misapprehension which he said had arisen among the paper makers that if they came back they would be forced by the company to join the International Pulp and Paper Workers union, headed by President Fitzgerald. He announced that preference would be given to the old workers who have been idle the past two months.

THE CAVE FELL IN

One Boy Killed and Two Others Fatally Injured

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—A death trap, built by boys, yesterday collapsed and killed one of them, fatally injured a second and seriously injured a third. The victims were boys fourteen and fifteen years old, sons of prominent residents of Hammond, Ind. The tragedy was due to the falling in of a cave they had excavated in the prairie near their homes. There were only employees in the building when the fire started. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $50,000. The Philadelphia Cricket club is one of the most famous organizations of its kind in America.

AUGUST BELMONT
To Transfer His Horses From America

PARIS, Sept. 9.—It is announced that August Belmont, president of the Jockey club of America, has acquired a piece of land near Dieppe, to which he will transfer a number of his racehorses from America. This action is taken, it is said, because of the passage of anti-betting laws in America. Peter Duryea has rented for the same purpose the famous Gazon stud farm formerly the property of Maurice Ephrussi.

To Make First Speech in the South
Tonight

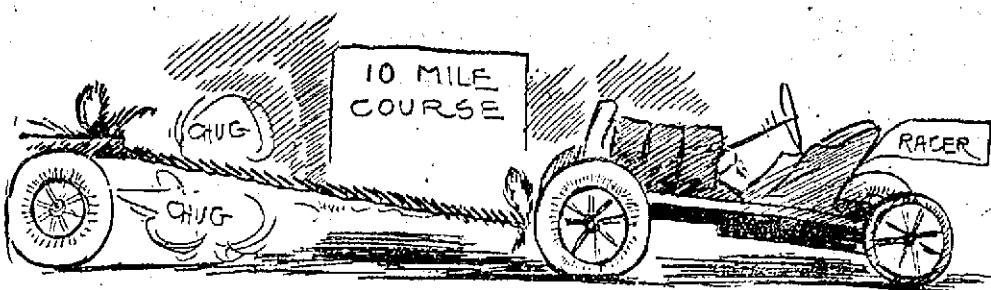

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 9.—Thomas L. Hisgen of Massachusetts, candidate for the presidency on the Independence ticket, will make his first speech in the south tonight. Other speakers will include Clement Pollack of Massachusetts and possibly John Thompson, candidate for vice president on the Independence ticket. From Norfolk the Hisgen party goes to Richmond, Va.

Candidates for congress and presidential electors will be named at the Hisgen meetings in Virginia.

Baptist Society

HOLYOKE, Sept. 9.—The election of officers was the most important business before today's sessions of the annual convention of the St. John Baptist Society of America. A number of prominent Frenchmen were candidates for the various offices, among whom were several of the present incumbents, who sought re-election. The reports of the officers who have been in charge of the society's affairs during the past two years showed that 211 councils located in New England, New York and the middle and northwest states were in the jurisdiction of the national body with a membership of more than 17,000. The public installation of officers this evening was arranged by the committee in charge as one of the features of the convention. A number of addresses will be made and other exercises held.

WENT TO REVERE.
About one hundred people attended the annual outing of the Trades and Labor council at Revere Monday. A special train left this city at eight o'clock in the morning and the return trip was made during the early part of the night. A very enjoyable time was had by the members of the council and their friends.

The regular meeting of Lowell lodge of Elks was held in Elks hall, Middle street, last night and was well attended. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Several applications for membership were received and referred to several committees. Brothers Thomas F. H. of Santa Monica, Cal., and David L. H. of Syracuse, N. Y., were visitors. Lowell lodge was notified of the dedication exercises of Lynn lodge, No. 117, to be held September 24th, when their new home will be dedicated and prominent members of the lodge will attend. Brother Alfred T. Holley, secretary of the board of grand trustees, will deliver the dedication address.

The following committee was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of their late brother, John S. Marion, who served them so faithfully as organizer for many years: Thomas E. Boucher, Joseph Hicks, Charles J. Richard.

One candidate was initiated at last night's meeting of Garfield colony, United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, and two applications for membership were read.

U. O. P. Fathers, Bay State colony, 71, held its regular meeting last night. There was an application for membership. The next meeting, Sept. 22, will be for the nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year.

CARTER CAUGHT

Is Charged With Embezzling $60,000

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 9.—Latimer D. Carter, who is wanted at Louisville charged with embezzling $60,000 from the estate of George L. Douglass, deceased, was arrested at Georgetown, near here, last night and is now in the county jail. Carter caused an added sensation at the time he absconded a year ago by taking with him Mrs. Mary DeCoursey, wife of a family friend and leaving his own wife almost penniless. His arrest here was caused by W. T. Rankin of Louisville, who traced him to Washington through the woman.

THE TARIFF ISSUE.

As the campaign progresses it is becoming more clear that the tariff is the main issue upon which not only the election but the return of prosperity must depend.

We do not mean that in order to restore prosperous conditions the tariff must remain as it is. The question must be settled one way or the other and the conditions that have prevailed under the excessive tariff have become unendurable. The tariff fosters trusts and combinations to such an extent that a reduction of the various schedules is imperative.

The inequities of trust control and monopoly have become too monstrous to be longer endured. When trusts sell their products in foreign countries at 25 per cent. less than they sell them to the American consumers then it is plainly time to reduce the tariff that makes such extortions possible.

The scheme of prosecuting trusts under the Sherman anti-trust law or any other law is useless and absurd. These prosecutions have not restricted the operations of the trusts in the least. What should be done is reduce the tariff that shelters the trusts rather than to maintain this tariff and make laws to penalize the trusts.

The remedy suggested by Mr. Bryan is one of the best yet put forth. He would have every corporation take out a federal license under which the trusts would do business, and whenever a trust assumes such proportions that it controls fifty per cent. of the total production of the line of articles it manufactures, then its production must be reduced or part of its plant sold out to some independent concern.

This would prevent the trusts from stamping out domestic competition. A reasonable reduction in the tariff would insure a measure of foreign competition so that the people might thus be protected from the extortionate prices which have ruled in all trust controlled commodities.

The republicans have promised to revise the tariff, but they are still in league with the trusts, and in fact controlled by the trusts so that this party is not free to carry out its pledges. As Mr. Bryan asserts, it has not the power to regenerate itself so long as it is closely allied with the trusts.

The standpatters will fight for a revision of the tariff upward instead of downward, and if the republicans be returned to power that is what may take place. Until the tariff question is settled the textile industry will be somewhat disturbed, and there will not be any return of real prosperity while the issue is pending.

It is a fallacy to suppose that the country will go to smash if Mr. Bryan should be elected. It would be difficult to imagine a condition much worse than that caused by the republican panic.

STRICT RULES AT REVERE.

The Metropolitan park commission, in charge of the reservation at Revere, has made a rule that nobody will be allowed to cross the boulevard in a bathing suit. This, it seems, is a wholly unnecessary and extraordinary requirement.

The aim seems to be to compel everybody who goes to Revere to use the state bathhouse or be deprived of the privilege of bathing at the beach. The rule is a hardship to the owners of cottages who feel it their right to go in bathing from their houses. Should the same rule be adopted as far as Lynn, hundreds of house owners would be obliged to sell out. The arrest of three men for violation of the rule will bring up a test case in court that will be watched with considerable interest. It is a grave injustice to the owners of cottages in that vicinity to be forbidden the right to go bathing from houses whenever they please.

It seems to us that the only requirement the park commission has a right to impose is that parties in bathing suits shall be modestly dressed. It has been the rule for some time past that parties crossing the boulevard in bathing suits should wear an outside robe or garment that would cover the body from head to foot. That would seem to answer all requirements of the law, and we do not believe that this new order of the park commission will stand the test of law.

TWO CLASSES OF PEOPLE.

In dealing with people in general nearly everybody must have noticed that there are two distinct classes. One class who think they know when they don't know, and another who do know yet think they don't know. It is a case of over-confidence in the one and lack of confidence in the other.

Many inventors are still producing new car fenders. Several new automatic fenders have been invented and have been tested on various lines of the cars but with unsatisfactory results. One great drawback with the automatic fenders is that from coming in contact with obstacles, the fenders might so fall or be thrown in the way of the car as to cause derailment. For this reason they cannot be used upon the high speed passenger cars. Inventors, however, need not be discouraged as the railroad commissioners are always open to conviction, and once they find a fender that will prove effective and that will entail no risk of accident, they will order adoption by the companies operating cars throughout the state.

SEEN AND HEARD

The automobile race proved to be the best drawing card ever held in this city.

The race is over. Now for the balloon ascension.

The city of Brockton is about to have roller polo. It is almost time that Lowell was represented in the polo league. Speaking of polo reminds the writer of the game as played by the old timers. There were no cages in which to go the ball, but instead there were two stakes on standards set up at either end of the surface of the rink, and two goal tenders stood between the posts to keep the ball out. A referee was in the middle of the floor, and there were judges for both teams at either end of the surface behind the stakes. If a judge thought quickly enough when a ball flew by the sticks he would yell that a goal had been made for his team, and usually, after more or less conversational proteroches, the claim would be allowed. The early players were young men about town who liked roller skating and who played just as others now bowl, for the fun and excitement of the thing. The game was quite a ceremonious affair in some ways. The teams skated on the surface two by two and hand in hand with the band played. After the contest they lined up, and each team formally cheered the other.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

THE ANNUAL SACRIFICE.

Boston Post: Statistics of casualties in the last Fourth of July celebration are now available in a practically complete and authentic form. The Journal of the American Medical association gives the number of killed and injured as 5623, men, women and children.

It may be regarded in some measure gratifying that while the total number of casualties exceeds that of last year by 124, there was one less death, only 153 having been killed outright or dying of their injuries.

It is a stupendous price to pay for the celebration of even our most notable national anniversary. And the worst of it is that the sacrifice of life and limb is utterly unnecessary as an expression of the patriotic spirit. The difficulty of bringing about a change in the traditional methods is apparently insuperable; but a great deal can be accomplished by restrictions in the use of explosives.

ATLANTIC CITY STILL HELD DOWN.

N. Y. Commercial: After a second Sunday with the lid on in Atlantic City, as the result of the threat by Governor Fort to call the New Jersey legislature in special session to enact brand-new laws for the enforcement of old ones, it is well worth repeating here that the present spasm of law-observance in that city and county is not due to the desire or the zeal or the vigilance or the efficiency of the officials—not at all; it is simply the operation and the observance of an agreement by men whose business it is to sell liquor and whose profession is to break the law on Sundays in order to sell it, but who are temporarily accepting "discipline as the better part of valor" in order, as they hope, to prevent the enactment of more drastic laws than they exist or at least to stave off the date of such legislation as long as possible. It is not well to adopt this course for, while during the law and its sworn administrators, they only increase popular prejudice against themselves.

CHEATED ON RUGS RAIDED A CAMP

Clever Confidence Man at Work

Lowell people who have purchased what they supposed to be fur rugs from a man who called at their houses during the last week or two, have by this time learned that they have been bunched. A clever confidence man has been at work and it is said he has succeeded in separating a number of people from their money. The police are now on the lookout for the rug man.

The man in question reached Lowell a little over a week ago with a number of rugs. His method was to approach a house where the surroundings indicated that the occupants were rather well-to-do and in for a prospective purchaser that he was a sailor and had smuggled a number of valuable furs into this country, thus being able to sell them at a wonderfully low price and at the same time make some profit himself.

The scheme worked well in about a dozen places and as a result about a dozen Lowell people are now realizing that they were swindled. It developed that the furs, which were supposed to be of the costliest variety, were of a cheap quality and of home production.

Common Council Heard Reports and Demands for Money From Various Departments—Several Resolves for Money Referred to Committee on Appropriation

At a regular meeting of the common council, held last night, the first meeting of that body for several weeks, quite a raft of business was transacted and department heads asked for more money. The meeting was called to order at 7:25, and the following committees were currently referred to the committee on streets: Charles Runnels and others, that Prospect street be macadamized; Richard Gray and others, that Pollard street be macadamized; James A. Donahue and others, for crossing in Moody street, at corner of Third avenue; Stanley M. Parker and others, that H street be accepted; Inspector Walter W. Smith of the department of lands and buildings asked for $1500, and the park commission asked for $200 with which to wage war against the moths. Agent Bates of the health department put in a request for $200 for the treatment of smallpox. All these were referred to the committee on appropriations.

The following petitions were referred to the committee on claims: Leslie G. Hill and Chester Hill, for damage to a horse; Peter J. Brady, owner of the defunct Mill, damage to machinery by sewer overflow; James Coughlin, for personal injuries in Central street.

On petition of Mary J. Swan and others a joint order was adopted discontinuing the watering of portions of Tenth and Beacon streets.

School Boilers Condemned
The following communication from Inspector Smith of the department of lands and buildings to Mayor Farnham was read:

"It becomes my duty to notify you that the inspector of boilers for the insurance company has condemned the boilers at the Favor street and Central street schools, and has ordered number 3 boiler at city hall rebuilt, also repairs done to several boilers throughout the city. I have also received a report from the state board of health inspector asking that the sanitary system at the Lincoln school be changed.

"These changes are extensive, and in the aggregate represent an expenditure of $350, a sum which at the present is not at my disposal. I would therefore ask you to bring this matter to the attention of the city council with the request that the sum of $350 be appropriated for this work."

The communication was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The two principal items mentioned in the bill of $350 for smallpox treatment represented medical treatment and provisions. The bill was referred to the committee on appropriations.

Park Department

In his communication in which he asked for $200 for moth extermination, Chairman Pickman of the park commission said that during the year 1907, 147 nests of brown tail moths and over 600 nests of gypsy moths had been destroyed. This, too, was referred to the committee on appropriations.

A joint communication from Chairman Pickman, relating to the petition referred to the park commission of H. A. Toupin and others, that a certain parcel of land owned by the Locks & Canals on the Merrimack river be leased for park purposes, was read. The land involved is at Aiken and Perkins streets, and the communication was to the effect that the Locks & Canals is willing to sell the land in lots or otherwise, but is not willing to lease it for any term. A part of the land might be used as a playground upon the tenure of a tenancy at will, and not otherwise. The communication was accepted and ordered on file.

A communication from J. Barry Mahon, president of the League of American Municipalities, inviting Lowell to send delegates to the 12th annual convention of the league to be held at Omaha, Sept. 30, 1908, was read.

Committee on Outing.

The municipal outing for 1908 will be held at William Dodge's camp on the bank of the Merrimack river in Tyngsboro, and Sept. 24 is the day selected for the outing. This decision was arrived at by the committee on outing at a meeting held at city hall last night.

SHOT HIS WIFE

Providence Man Then Tried Suicide

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 9.—An attempted murder and suicide occurred shortly before 1 o'clock this morning in the fifth precinct, when Frank Strangle, about 40 years old, steward of the Atha club on Friendship street, probably fatally shot his wife Dorothy, a 30-year-old woman, after a quarrel at the club house took a large dose of cyanide of potassium, dying almost immediately.

Three of the four bullets fired at his wife took effect, wounding her in her left arm and shoulder and back. She was conveyed to the Rhode Island hospital, where at 2 o'clock this morning her condition was critical.

According to neighbors the couple had quarreled.

STATE MILITIA

TO ENGAGE IN ANNUAL SHOOT FOR PRIZES

The annual rifle competition of the M. V. M. will be held Sept. 25 and 26 at the range of the Bay State Military Rifle association at Wakefield. It will be preceded on Sept. 23 by the state revolver match, open to all officers and men who carry the service revolver.

Col. John Caswell will be executive officer, with Capt. Robert C. Davis, U. S. A., as chief range officer. The official order is not out yet. It will be issued in a few days. The infantry, cavalry and artillery will use the new Springfield rifle, but the naval brigade, not having received the new arm, will shoot with the Krag.

Five cups will be given to those making the first five high scores in the revolver shoot. Entries close at the office of the ordnance department, South armory, at noon, Sept. 22. Those who won this shoot last year, together with their scores, were: Capt. William R. Murphy 92, Lieut. A. R. Whittier 92, Sergt. George Austin 91, Sergt. F. M. Libby 90, Capt. S. W. Wize 89.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"Why Women Hate Women," as presented by the James Kennedy Co. at the Opera House yesterday afternoon, drew a good sized audience and the play was as favorably received as on its presentation here last season. Mr. Kennedy as "Bob Simpson," the private secretary, was as breezy and laugh compelling as ever, and the supporting company gave adequate portrayals of their respective roles. Miss Stanley in negro melodies, Mr. Dyer in two new illustrated songs were pleasing interludes during the performance. "She Couldn't Say 'Thine'" was the bill at night, and was as pleasing an offering as always may be expected from the Kennedy Co. Mr. Kennedy's sister Lillian Dodd's drama for several seasons with great success and none of its worth is lost in the presentation by this company. Mr. Kennedy as "Bob Simpson," and in fact every member of the company gave consistent and convincing characterizations. The play was deserving of a larger patronage. The play was staged with care and attention to detail, and is a feature with this company. "The Poisoned Dagger" at the theatre and "The Girl in the Bo" at night will doubtless draw large audiences.

"THE RED MILL"

Charles Dillingham's production of "The Red Mill" this season is presented on a scale so lavish that it almost dwarfs the organization of last season. The scenery has been built upon the largest scale, the costumes all replaced by new and costly designs, while the company of principals has been most carefully selected and embraces names familiar to theatregoers. The chorus of fifty is said to be the best ever organized and with the famous Dutch Kiddle and the company's own orchestra, it is safe to assume that the engagement here will prove conclusively that Charles Dillingham's name is the hallmark of musical offerings.

The following statistics will prove interesting to the theatre-going public: less interested in theatrical affairs, when he scans the following figures which are evident in "The Red Mill": Number of principals, 12; female chorus, 24; male chorus, 10; children, 10; musicians, 10; working force, 60; executive staff, 4; aggregating 70 people who are directly interested in the performance.

Directed by Dillingham and Neil McNeill, two of the cleverest and most successful country, head the big cast in this season's presentation of Charles Dillingham's production of "The Red Mill," which comes to the Opera House Sept. 14th. Seats go on sale Thursday forenoon.

MICAGLIO'S BAND

Signor Giuseppe Micaglio's repertoire for his American band tour, opening at the Grand Opera House, includes 150 operatic selections. There is a rich and varied library of other music, from the latest modern compositions back to the latest stages of secular productions. Micaglio's band itself numbers forty-five, and is the same organization that won first prize at the Mondiale International band contests at Paris.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The fact that "A Young Wife" is a new play in Lowell might have been taken as bringing together another crowded house at the Academy of Music last night, but whatever the primary cause the house was exceptional. This week's bill is only the first of a series of plays never before written in the city for it is the policy of the management to introduce new plays even as it has introduced a number of new and popular ideas relative to the conduct of the theatre and which are bound to operate for its success. In this week's bill the part of the theatre will see Miss Deland in the beautiful and clever leading lady in a part particularly well suited to her talent for she is one of the leading emotional actresses of the stock world and the title role gives excellent opportunity for emotional acting. Mr. Billie Mackaye, the clever light comedian of the coming new friends of each performance.

The voting contest for the most popular mill girl, who will receive a beautiful gold watch at the conclusion of the last performance of "The Factory Girl," one week from Saturday night is now on and each person attending the performance is entitled to one vote, the ballot to be found in the program. Don't forget to vote for your choice.

HATHAWAY'S THEATRE

Kelley and Barrett, who give their noted military travesty at Hathaway's this week, are quite as funny as any men who ever stepped on the vaudeville stage. Kelley is the pompous "General Mulberry" and Barrett gives his indelible role of "Careless Casey." It is a genuinely good act.

The Bradlee Martin company present a catchy offering in their "Jessie, Jack and Jerry" act. It all concerns the adventures of three people to matrimony. There is a funny suit in it—a lawsuit, and everything ends happily, although in extremely funny fashion.

The other acts on the big bill are: The Juggling Jordans; Miss Kathryn Miley, "U. S. A. Comedienne"; Lew Wallace, monologist and satirist; playing: Murphy and Andrews' sing; Lightning Hopper, chalk artist, and the Hattascope. Performances of the above will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week.

STAR THEATRE

"Jordan the Great," impersonator and comedian, is doing a generous share towards making a very interesting and attractive program. He is very funny and creates lots of good humor.

Babe Cherry is singing the pretty little illustrated song entitled "Taffy" in an excellent manner. The illustrations are very beautiful.

Mary, My Heather Queen" is a pretty little Scotch ballad with illustrations of a fair and lassie in kilts. J. C. Bell sings it in a very acceptable manner. The pictures are exceptionally fine, especially the scenery, which is particularly clean and wholesome.

The amateurs last night were much appreciated. All seats were taken. There will be another performance of amateurs tonight. In order that all may have a chance to see them, Bertha Gordon and others are expected to appear.

BOARD OF POLICE

Minor Matters Attended to Last Night

The regular meeting of the board of police was held last night, but the session was very short and very little business was transacted. The only thing of note in connection with the meeting of the board was the presence of Clerk John J. Flaherty, Jr., who has been absent for the past several weeks.

The fact that he spent his vacation in Sandwich, Mass., was not significant that he went to that town for the purpose of getting pointers on the sand-wich law.

The following minor licenses were granted:

Hawker and peddler: Morris Marman, 73 Railroad street; Alfred Morasse, 8 Decatur avenue; Manuel De Gosta, 3 Union street; David Soperstein, 101 Chestnut street.

Hockey coach: James H. Sparks, Worthen street, five licenses.

Junk collector: Morris Jordan, 93 Railroad street.

Intelligence office: Jordan Savitche, and C. Moustakis, 311 Market street.

Editor Sun.—When the stranger arrives in London he admits right away that the accounts of its greatness have not been at all exaggerated. Before a day goes by, he sees that the Londoner has the biggest head to be met with anywhere. Also he has the biggest scale of prices on record, as well as the biggest known capacity for absorbing the traveler's loose silver, which he calls "tips." The Londoner's respect for the law is another of his big possessions, and that is why the big London "bobbies" are able to manage the biggest traffic in the world with the smallest possible amount of friction. Other noticeably "biggest things" in London are the army of unemployed men, the number of squalid, starving women and children, and the frightful extent of the poverty which lurks and suffers in the bowels of the empire's capital. We have troubles of our own at home, but compared with the Londoner, of London our poor are in clover, and England has, in her destitute population, a problem which, for size and difficulty, is the biggest puzzle extant. You cannot get away from it anywhere. It meets you with outstretched hand at the majestic portal of St. Paul's; it grovels in the aisles of the venerable abbey; it whines from the park of the embankment; it meets you at the theatre, and when you stop your taxi-cab to a glass of beer, it springs up at you out of the gutter. This leads you to ask if the Londoner is small in charity? Certainly he is small in his opinion of foreigners, and even his esteem of the American, his own "kith and kin" is not much larger than his appreciation of American wit—and that is small indeed. Perhaps we would be exactly like him in self-sufficiency and pride if we lived all our lives in the midst of so many great and eloquent monuments of a great and inspiring past. It is impossible to stand in Westminster abbey without a feeling of gladness that you are not alien to the race which has given Shakespeare, Milton, Goldsmith, Burke, and Emerson to the world. Speaking of Goldsmith, it is interesting to mark the homage paid to him as he lies in the poet's corner with his fellow immortals, and then to visit Leicester square, the place where his effigy stands, penniless and without a friend, when he first came to seek fame and success in London. The square, of course, is much changed, but the house of Goldsmith's artist crony, Sir Joshua Reynolds, is still there, unaltered. We entered and stood awhile in the ancient hallway and thought how once it had echoed to the laughter of the gentlest and most beloved of poets, or to the gruff tones of Johnson. "Sir the man is a fool!"—rebuking Bozzy and browbeating Garrick. Around the corner is the house of Sir Isaac Newton, almost in the shadow of the National gallery. You may linger there profitably with flocks of other Americans, but we found it pleasanter to continue our little pilgrimage of good-fellowship, so we followed in the footsteps of Oliver along the Strand to Ye Olde Cheshire Cheese. Here it was that Goldsmith, Johnson, Boswell, Garrick and their friends used often to meet in a battle of wit and learning, while they sipped their ale or toddy, and the great lexicographer guzzled tea. It does one good to think of Goldsmith and Johnson seated by the quaint fireplace in that snug, low-studded chamber, both endured much, both experienced hunger and the pain of lonely obscurity, as well as the sharper pain of "the proud man's contumely." At last genius, merit and uncompromising self-respect have triumphed. Oliver no longer snivels in Leicester square, nor does the magnanimous Johnson work night and day to keep body and soul together. They have "arrived" and sit, warm and well fed in their favorite tavern, famous and secure. For two happy hours the traveller from Lowell sits in Johnson's favorite corner. From there he goes by the Temple, where another favorite used to muse, the gentle "Ella, Lamb; and thence past the streets where Milton was born, and past the church where Shelley was married to the ill-starred, unhappy Harriet, his girl-wife. An excursion like this makes one thirsty; yet thirsty is not so easily satisfied in London as one might fancy. "Ella" there are in plenty, with rivers of ale and oceans of a certain amber-colored silver-branded fluid (is it called Usquebach?), but the comfortable refreshment places of home are few and far between. The old inn which we associate with England, is now, unfortunately, but a tradition. However, we found a suitable place, thanks to our guide. It was also our guide who, the following day, got us into jail. We were going to Richmond and Hampton Court by river-steamers, and our guide, a marvel of misinformation, led us into a riverside police station in mistake for a boat-landing. Here we were very courteously put on the right track, and enjoyed a delightful ride up the Thames. The view of the Thames valley from Richmond hill is magnificent. It ought to be, for the climb on a hot day, especially if you are carrying a large convex facade of flesh, is worse than a footrace. The famous "Star and Garter" hotel is not a sufficient reward, being shabby and inferior. Hampton Court is, however, a compensation for the most trying of trips. You don't wonder, after seeing all its treasures of art, and the beauty of its surroundings, that King Henry VIII envied its possession to Wolsey—and to think that he only thanks the Cardinal for giving up his palace was to have him cut off. It is pleasant to dwell upon mutton, the cut of mutton you get at Simpson's, and how you enjoy it after the long ride from Richmond! We did, anyway. But after all, the American of goodfellowship enjoys nothing in London so much as the other genial Americans he meets there. We are supposed to be in the old home over there, but for all that we draw together like brothers among strangers. We understand each other. The English don't understand us, and we don't understand them.

Yours very truly, A. E. A. McCann.

A letter from Paris will follow.

LAMP EXPLODED

And Wedding Gifts Were Destroyed

LYNN, Sept. 9.—Fire last night, beside damaging the dwelling house, at 127 Blossom street $500, destroyed wedding presents valued at $1000 and owned by Miss Bessie Grob, whose marriage will take place in two weeks.

While Miss Grob was absent from the house her younger sister, Goldie, who was alone in the house, started to go through the room in which were the gifts, when she tripped and fell. A lighted lamp exploded and the blazing oil set fire to the furnishings.

Patrolman Cahill heard her scream and sent in an alarm from box 46. When the firemen arrived a fierce blaze was in progress and it was some time before the fire was put out. Miss Bessie Grob returned home during the blaze and was almost heart-broken.

Electric cars and teams were tied up, and all traffic was sent up over the county bridge. Chief Gordon issued new running orders for the fire department, the Mt. Washington apparatus going across to Bradford by way of the upper bridge filling in with the Bradford machines in the event of fire.

Street department employees lifted the bridge to the broken track, and after welding it, graded the tracks, so that the broken wheel was used to slide the bridge, and in the way navigation was re-established after a several hours' tie-up.

AMERICAN AIRSHIP

Has Broken the Record for An Aerial Flight

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Orville Wright broke all American records in aerial flight yesterday afternoon by remaining aloft in his airship nearly 20 minutes and covering about 12 miles.

He made two flights, remaining in the air for 11 minutes the first time and for nearly eight minutes the second. There was apparently no reason why the flights could not have been of even greater duration, as Wright landed the second time because of the approaching darkness.

A cheering crowd applauded Wright as he steered his aeroplane above the parade ground at Fort Myer in the preliminary tests for the $25,000 offered by the United States army for the Wright heavier than air flying machine. The odd craft sailed in graceful circles over the tops of trees and buildings.

From the scientific point of view was demonstrated the success of the Wright brothers in the soundness of the principles upon which they have been working. Two flights were made, each being successful.

Rises Like a Bird

At 5:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after the motor of the machine had been tested, Wright stepped into the apparatus, the engine was started, the propellers began to revolve and the airship rose from the ground as surely as a bird. Over the cavalry drill ground the airship sailed until, when the other side was reached, Mr. Wright touched a lever and the machine dipped and turned with the precision of a giant eagle. It sailed back toward the starting point 50 feet above the heads of the people.

Eleven times the airship circled the big drill field, covering, it is estimated, a distance of approximately seven miles. It did not remain constantly at one altitude, but soared downward, turned gracefully by the shifting of a wing or rudder at the touch of the operator, or pointed its beak toward the sky and arose swiftly. Its course was long, swelling undulations, as though it were passing over the billows of an invisible ocean. Sometimes it reached an altitude of 100 feet and passed over the tops of trees, casting its strange shadow on the foliage. Once it passed over the top of the cavalry stable.

Has Perfect Control

Mr. Wright, seated at one side of the machine so that its weight balanced that of the motor, had the airship under control at all times. After launching it into the air the flying machine remained aloft 11 minutes 10 seconds. Mr. Wright then descended, the airship touching the ground as lightly as a feather. He said that the bar upon which his foot rested was slippery. He wrapped it with tire tape to remedy this defect.

"I came down to get a pair of goggles," said Mr. Wright. "The air up there is full of insects and they have almost blinded me. I was too busy attending to the motor and the steering apparatus to brush them from my eyes, and the pain became greater than I could stand."

Mr. Wright obtained a pair of glasses, put them on, took his seat in the machine and started off again. The second flight began at 6:25 o'clock and lasted seven minutes and 24 seconds. Wright circled the drill field seven and one-half times, covering approximately five miles. The first flight was at an average speed of 36 miles an hour, the second at 38 miles an hour.

Weather Was Ideal.

"I made some experiments in the last flight with the levers, using them in certain combinations," said Wright. "I almost got into trouble by doing so. That was the reason I landed when I did. It was also growing too dark for further flight. I am greatly pleased with the behavior of the machine and find that I secure better control with each succeeding flight."

THURSDAY BARGAIN DAY IS GETTING POPULAR IN LOWELL. GOES OVER FALLS

Young Woman Committed Suicide at Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A woman about 25 years old, of refined appearance, late yesterday afternoon walked into the river about 30 feet above Prospect Point and was swept over the falls. She left nothing to identify her. Seventy-five people saw the suicide. Harold Schaffer of Hoboken, N. J., who was close by made a gallant attempt to save the woman. Going over the railing at the brink of the falls, and supporting himself on a flimsy scaffolding which holds a water gauge in place, he leaned out over the rushing water. Just as the woman floated by he reached out his hand to catch her.

As he did so, she raised her arm and tried to grasp the outstretched hand, but missed it by a few inches. She went over the brink without uttering a cry. Had she succeeded in reaching Schaffer's hand, it is believed both would have perished, for spectators say the gauge would not have sustained their combined weight.

HIS NECK BROKEN.

Worcester Man Had Been Arrested for Drunkenness.

WORCESTER, Sept. 9.—Richard P. Joyce, 34 years old, died at the City hospital yesterday of a fracture of the spine and a broken neck. He was arrested yesterday morning on the charge of drunkenness and lay in a cell at the police station until 7 o'clock last night, when he was transferred to the city hospital.

AMES IS PROMPT

First to File His Nomination Papers

The time for filing nomination papers for the state election primaries opened yesterday and Congressman Ames led all the candidates at getting in. Mr. Richardson representing Hon. John N. Cole was a close second and those are all that have been filed up to this writing.

No papers had been filed up to noon at the democratic headquarters. The time for filing papers closes tomorrow.

MORMON CHURCH

Blocks Plan to Deport Mormons

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—In consequence of the political influence of the Mormon church in official circles in Washington, and of the powerful intervention of United States Senator Reed Smoot, the local immigration officials have become utterly demoralized in their efforts to properly restrict Mormon immigration at this port.

After fighting for a fortnight to deport 38 Mormon immigrants who had violated the immigration laws by accepting assistance from the Mormon church to get here, the local officials, it is believed, will be forced, against their will to permit all of these but nine to land.

Nineteen were released following a hurried visit from United States Senator Reed Smoot, and of the remaining 17 eight are expected to recover their freedom as soon as the report of the immigration officials in Utah is received here. Of the nine who will be deported eight are physically unfit and one admitted belief in polygamy.

Had it not been so near the national election it is confidently believed that the officials in Washington would have supported the local officials in their action in debarring the entire three dozen.

The cases of the two young Roe girls, who are said to be 17 and 19 years old respectively, are considered to be two of the most flagrant violations of the immigration laws that have been reported at the local bureau in years.

The orders from Washington to release these girls is considered one of the greatest proofs of the political power of the Mormon church.

$5000 NUTMEG

Was Easy Picking for The Eel

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 9.—The Gambetta Wilkes family carried off the honors and money at Charter Oak yesterday afternoon, The Eel, a grandson of the great Kentucky sire, winning the $5000 Nutmeg purse for pacers in 2:05, 2:05 1/2, 2:05, and a son, Gentle H., taking the trotting event in 2:12, 2:11, 2:10 1/2.

After the holiday crowd it was a pleasure to be able to move about and watch the races in comfort. The sport was not particularly interesting, as both winners raced off in front and were never seriously threatened. Dan McEwen brought the Canadian champion to the post in splendid form, and it was simply fun for him to smash out three fast miles.

Another horse from the land of King Edward was second three times, the black gelding Maj. Brino, George Gano and Copa de Oro tried to get the place away from him, but in two close finishes he held them safe.

Gentle H., who has been racing in tough luck for two years, finally landed in a soft place and in out of the 2:12 class with a record of 2:10 1/2.

Chester Isbell's new horse, Judge Lee, 2:14 1/2, won second money and impressed every one as being a real good trotter. He is a handsome dark dapple gray stallion, with a nice way of going, and possessing a terrific burst of speed. He caught a slight cold shipping on from Michigan, so was not in shape for a hard race.

GOV. HUGHES CASE

Interest in the Coming N. Y. Convention

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—With the New York state republican convention at hand the eyes of the whole country are on the fight being waged for and against the renomination of Governor Hughes. No man is more intensely interested in the renomination of the governor than President Roosevelt himself. After several conferences with the president James S. Sherman has taken an active hand in the fight. He has been almost constantly on the move in the state, making it clear to the county chairmen that the national campaign requires Mr. Hughes' renomination. Despite this activity, however, it is asserted that the president, Mr. Taft, Mr. Sherman, and Frank H. Hitchcock are becoming convinced that the fight must be carried to the floor of the convention, which takes place at Saratoga, Sept. 14, if the present executive is to head the republican ticket in the Empire State at the November election.

A JAIL SENTENCE

For Man Who Committed Assault With Knife on Another

Judge Hadley is determined to discourage the use of dangerous weapons and in order to carry out the policy which he established some time ago, this morning sentenced Peter Johns, charged with assault with a knife, to four months in jail.

The assault took place at the corner of Cheever and Tucker streets on the night of August 22d. According to the testimony offered Jean B. Charbonneau and some friends were passing in one direction and Johns and a couple of boys in another direction. They met at the corner and while the defense says that Charbonneau assaulted Johns without any provocation the government says that Charbonneau and Johns bumped against each other by accident and a misunderstanding led to the assault.

The case was opened last Thursday, but the absence of one of the government's witnesses, Joseph Durand, caused a postponement till today. Durand had been summoned, but failed to appear last Thursday and was arrested on a capias.

In court this morning he said that he was with Charbonneau on the night of the assault, that Charbonneau and Johns bumped into each other by accident and he went on his way. He turned around and saw the two men in a clinch. Then he heard Charbonneau shout "Catch him, he has stabbed me."

Peter Johns, the defendant, said he lives in Coolidge street and that on the night of the 23d of August he met Charbonneau and six or seven other young men at the corner of Tucker and Cheever streets. Without any provocation Charbonneau struck him twice. His bat fell off and when he went to pick it up Charbonneau struck him again. He then ran after Charbonneau with the intention of beating him, but a crowd gathered around and, fearing that the crowd would beat him, he drew a knife and stabbed the complainant.

An ordinary jackknife with a broken blade was produced and the defendant acknowledged that it was the weapon he had used.

Two young men, who were with Johns on the night of the assault, corroborated the testimony offered by the defendant.

In summing up the evidence in the case Judge Hadley said he was not going to tolerate the use of dangerous weapons, and intended to do everything to discourage it.

Johns was found guilty and sentenced to four months in jail. He appealed and was held in $500 for the superior court.

Father Relented

Morris Foley was before the court this morning on complaint of his father, but the latter was sorry after he had made the complaint and asked the court that the charge be dismissed.

According to the story told the court by the father, his son has been raising a disturbance at the house, and yesterday the young man struck him. On the spur of the moment he went to the police station and swore out a warrant, but after thinking the matter over decided that he did not wish to appear against his son. The case was dismissed.

Will Take His Sentence

George Hall, who was in court yesterday morning charged with unlawfully taking a team, found guilty and a fine of $5 to be paid in two days or two months in jail was imposed. He appealed, but appeared in court this morning and withdrew his appeal.

Shortening His Father's Life

Frank Levesque of Dracut, pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk. A brother of the defendant said that his father was dying, and that the actions of his brother, Frank, were "shortening the old man's life."

Officer Cullinane of Dracut testified to being called to the Levesque house and arresting the defendant. Special Officer Cody of Lakeview park testified that he saw Levesque drunk about Lakeview yesterday, and sent him home.

A fine of $5 dollars was imposed.

Continued Cases

The case of Diab Miami, John Coskos and Michael Hanna, charged with assault and battery, was continued till Sept. 12.

The case of illegal keeping of liquor against Hugh Mellen of the St. Charles hotel, was continued till Sept. 16.

Drunken Offenders

William Ferris, a third offender, received a suspended sentence of four months in jail.

Michael Lennon, a visitor from Boston, made his second appearance within a few days and was fined $5. Patrick Flood was also assessed $5. There was one $2 drunk.

HE WANTS MONEY

To Put School House Boilers in Repair

It was stated today that unless the committee on appropriations votes favorably on Inspector Smith's request for money to replace schoolhouse boilers that have been condemned by state inspectors, the boilers may not be in working order when Jack Frost arrives.

Inspector Smith of the lands and buildings department sent a communication to the city council asking for $5000 to replace the boilers that had been condemned and to improve sanitary conditions at the Lincoln school as ordered by Dr. Simpson of the state board of health.

Mr. Smith's letter was read at a meeting of the city council held last night and was referred to the committee on appropriations. Mr. Smith is anxious that the money should be forthcoming. He says the expense came entirely unexpected and he was not prepared for it. He declares he has not the money to do the work with and unless it is voted in time to do the work there will be one or two cold schoolhouses in Lowell.

The boilers in the Charles and Central street schools have been condemned as has also the boiler in the Favor street school. It was stated today that the inspector in examining the boiler at the Favor street school put his hammer through the boiler plate and that did not speak very well for the condition of the boiler. The work of putting in the Charles street school boiler is something that was anticipated and the new boiler is practically installed.

GENERAL WOOD

Had Narrow Escape From Serious Injury

ST. JOHANN-ON-THE-SAAR, Sept. 9.—Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., who is witnessing the German maneuvers here had a narrow escape from a serious accident yesterday. While in the field the horn of one of the numerous staff automobiles frightened General Wood's horse, and the animal began to rear and plunge, finally falling almost on the general's right leg. The spur was torn from the general's boot but beyond a shaking-up he was unhurt.

AMES IN TROUBLE

Will Have Opposition in the Caucuses

Osmond Long Takes Out Set of Congressional Nomination Pa- pers, But Claims That Candi- date Has Not Been Decided Upon

Osmond Long, the well known bookbinder and prominent in British-American circles, took out a set of nomination papers in the interest of an unknown republican candidate for congress, and hence it would appear that Congressman Ames will have opposition in the caucuses.

Mr. Long telephoned the republican headquarters yesterday for nomination papers, and today he called and took them out, and there was great guessing and consternation among the habitués of the headquarters.

Secretary Goward of the republican headquarters when asked who the new candidate was replied: "I haven't the slightest idea."

Mr. Long when asked about the papers replied: "I have taken out papers but it is on the 'Q. T.'"

When informed that there was no secret about the matter he replied: "I cannot tell who the candidate will be, but he will not be Butler Ames. I cannot mention any candidate's name at this time with any degree of authenticity."

It is believed that a set of unpledged delegates will be filed at the proper time, and the identity of the candidate kept a secret for the present. It is intimated that the republican state machine is behind the move.

At the democratic headquarters this afternoon in the ward four-five representative contest, Messrs. Michael J. Markham, Martin J. Conley, Timothy S. Murphy and John J. O'Connell took out papers.

In the ward two contest for the legislature Rep. John J. Moehan is the only candidate who has taken out papers thus far.

MRS. RICE'S STORY

Confirmed at the Coroner's In- quest Today

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 9.—When the coroner's inquest over Dr. Frederick Rustin who met a tragic death a week ago was continued today, Frederick H. Davis, vice president of the First National bank, who was overcome with emotion and forced to leave the stand last evening was not recalled. Neither was his brother, Charles E. Davis, accused by Mrs. Abbie Rice of entering a suicide pact with Dr. Rustin. Charles E. Davis, it was stated, was detained at the home of his brother-in-law, Luther Kountz under surveillance of the police. Charles Davis is reported to be almost a nervous wreck and the strain of the past few days was made necessary to keep him constantly under the treatment of physicians.

Most of the testimony introduced today was used to confirm the story told yesterday by Mrs. Abbie Rice, a street car barn foreman who was near the Rustin home on the night of the shooting testified that he got on the car with a woman at Fortleth and Farnam streets and rode down town on the same car. He identified Mrs. Rice as the woman.

Chas. Gleason, proprietor of a rooming house on lower Douglas St., testified that Dr. Rustin and Mrs. Rice had occupied a room at his home for four days prior to the shooting and that Mrs. Rice went home about midnight the night of the shooting. She also said that Mrs. Rice had called up the Rustin home several times between midnight and morning.

OFFICER HERSEY HUGH FERGUSON

Will Be Given Hearing Thursday Night

The board of police will give a public hearing in the police court room tomorrow night to Patrolman Charles H. Hersey, against whom charges have been preferred by Lawyer Dennis J. Murphy on behalf of his clients, Messrs. George Massam and Eljah Tejirian.

It is alleged that Patrolman Hersey and Daniel C. Hersey, formerly arrested the two complainants, assaulted them and used profane language. An extra charge is to the effect that Patrolman Hersey threatened Mr. Massam.

Lawyer William H. Root, who appears for Patrolman Hersey, asked Lawyer Murphy to present a bill of particulars relative to the specific words used under the head of profanity, and to say Mr. Murphy supplied Mr. Root with a copy of the alleged "bad" words used by the officer.

The time for the board hearing has not been set by the board yet.

On the ground that he had abused his license, Hugh Ferguson, proprietor of Hotel Rockingham of Salem, N. H., had it taken away from him by the state license commissioners Saturday.

Ferguson is a Lowell man and was granted permission to sell intoxicating liquor in June, 1907, and the license was to expire next May, but owing to the violations of the law he forfeited the use of the license after a hearing before the commissioners.

The property has been attached by the owners, H. L. Gordon, F. P. Woodbury and L. Boston, all of Salem, N. H.

POLICE BOARD

ADOPTED RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF CAPT. KEW

At the meeting of the police board held last night the members adopted a set of resolutions on the death of the late Capt. William R. Kew. It was voted to send a copy to the family of the deceased and to include the resolutions in the records of the board.

TIGERS VICTORIOUS

In Ball Game at Washing- ton Park Today

INNINGS	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	TOTAL
Fall River -	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	- 2

There were about five hundred fans at Washington park this afternoon to witness the game between Lowell and Fall River. The soldier battery, Musil and Doran, were in the points while White and Toomey did similar work for the visitors. The game was called at 3.15 o'clock by Umpire Connolly, the batting order being as follows:

LOWELL
McMahon ss
Vandergriff 2b
Magee lf
Howard cf
Beard rf
Connor 3b
Cox 1b
Doran c
Musil p

FALL RIVER
McMahon ss
Vandergriff 2b
Magee lf
Howard cf
Beard rf
Connor 3b
Cox 1b
Doran c

Neither side scored in the first inning. Messenger, the first man up for the visitors, hit one too hot for Vandergriff to handle and got on first. Donovan made an attempt to sacrifice, but instead popped a fly to Cox, who threw to first for a double play. Bowcock hit to Musil and was out at first.

In Lowell's half McMahon drew a base on balls. Vandergriff bunted down the first base line and Solbraa threw to first to get the runner, but Cummings dropped the ball, and both men were safe. Magee bunted in front of the plate and was out at first, but both men on base were advanced. Howard hit to Cummings, who held Vandergriff and McMahon between the bases and threw Howard out at first. Vandergriff ran to third, thinking that McMahon would go home, but when Solbraa ran after Vandergriff the latter started for third, and McMahon instead of going home ran back to third, the result being that Vandy was forced out.

Score—Lowell 0, Fall River 0.

Second Inning
Two more goose eggs were registered in the second inning. Solbraa hit to Connor and died at first. Sullivan struck out and Cummings fled to Beard.

In the latter half of the inning Beard struck out. Connor fled to Messenger and Cox hit to Cummings and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 0, Fall River 0.

Third Inning
The visitors broke the ice in the third inning.

Lowell scored a run in the fourth. Bowcock singled to right field and went to second on Solbraa's sacrifice. Sullivan hit to right field for a single and Bowcock scored. Cummings hit to Musil who threw to second getting Sullivan and the ball was sent to first for a double play.

Lowell scored a run in the latter half of the inning. Vandergriff hit to Donovan and was out at first. Magee then made the first single for Lowell. Howard followed with another. Beard hit to Bowcock who fumbled and the bases were filled. Connor singled to centre field scoring Magee. Howard attempted to score, but Messenger by a perfect throw nailed Howard at the plate. Connor then stole second. Cox struck out.

Score—Fall River 1, Lowell 1.

Fifth Inning
In the fifth inning Kane struck out. Toomey flied to Cox and White hit to Musil and died at first.

Lowell tied the score in the latter half of the fifth inning. Doran hit to Donovan and was out at first while Musil flied to Toomey. McMahon singled and stole second. Vandergriff hit to Donovan and the latter made a good one-hand stop but was unable to field the ball to first and McMahon scored. Vandergriff stole second. Magee hit to White and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 2, Fall River 2.

Sixth Inning
In the sixth inning Messenger drew a base on balls and went to second on Donovan's sacrifice. He went to third when Bowcock went out. Vandergriff to Cox. Solbraa fled to Connor and was third out.

Howard fled to Bowcock and Beard hit to White who knuckled the ball down and Cummings fled to first in time to get the runner. White Beard was at bat Toomey got the ball on the end of one of his fingers splitting that member. It was necessary for him to retire and Norris was put behind the bat. Connor hit to Donovan and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 2, Fall River 2.

Seventh Inning
Solbraa singled to left field. Cummings hit to McMahon who threw to second getting Sullivan and the ball was sent to first for a double play. Kane hit to first while Musil flied to Toomey. McMahon singled and stole second. Vandergriff hit to Donovan and the latter made a good one-hand stop but was unable to field the ball to first and McMahon scored. Vandergriff stole second. Magee hit to White and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 2.

Eighth Inning
White singled to right field and Messenger struck out. Doran then caught White about a "mile" off first base, but the umpire called him safe. Donovan singled, Bowcock hit to Kane and was out at first, while Solbraa flied to Doran.

Magee fled to Solbraa. Howard hit to Cummings and was out at first. Beard hit to Cummings and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 2.

Ninth Inning
Sullivan got a single. He went to second on a sacrifice by Cummings. Devine batted for Kane and got a single. Norris struck out. White got a little "B" was leaguer flying the bases. Messenger hit to McMahon and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 2.

Tenth Inning
Sullivan got a single. He went to second on a sacrifice by Cummings. Devine batted for Kane and got a single. Norris struck out. White got a little "B" was leaguer flying the bases. Messenger hit to McMahon and was out at first.

Frank J. McCarthy was granted a permit to build a store next to 61 Broadway. The estimated cost is $150.

Owen Queenan was granted a permit to make repairs of her damages at 27 Merrill street. The estimated cost of the repairs is $100.

Wants to See His Son Once More

HAVERHILL, Sept. 9.—J. H. Carter, a Boston business man, is dying at the Somerville hospital of injuries received last Thursday when he was knocked down by an automobile. His son, Arthur D. Carter, is somewhere in this city, under an assumed name, probably, and relatives are making an effort to locate him. Young Carter is 32 years old and has been married. He was in Lawrence about two years ago, where he worked as a meat cutter, but he left that city, and in spite of his father's efforts has been successful in eluding all searches in this city, where it is believed he is working in a shoe shop. People who know the family have seen him here and have reported back to Boston that he is safe, and now that his father is believed to be giving his uncle is in the city searching for him in order that he may return to Boston in time to see his father before he dies. Mr. Carter is at the head of an extensive business on Summer street in Boston and has amassed a comfortable fortune. His only desire now is to see his boy and then to make provision for him in his will.

ORGANIZE CLUBS

Democrats of Lowell to Begin Work Monday

State Committeeman Edward Gallagher had a conference with Humphrey O'Sullivan, who was secretary of the Bryan notification committee, last evening relative to the organization of Bryan and Kern clubs which work has been entrusted to Mr. Gallagher to direct. Mr. O'Sullivan promised to support the movement in every possible way, and it was agreed that the first meeting for organization be held in the banquet hall in Associated building next Monday evening at 7.45 o'clock. All democrats interested in the formation of these clubs are invited to attend this meeting.

Every day Mr. O'Sullivan has requests from people in different parts of the congressional district, asking him to run for congress. Leading democrats in this city and in Lawrence have taken it for granted that the "man who does things" will listen to the call of the people and allow his name to go on the ballot on election day.

PASSENGER TRAIN WAS DERAILED

CONTEMPT CHARGE

Receiver Asks That Men Be Sent to Jail

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—Receiver Austin of the failed brokerage firm of Cameron, Currie & Co. of this city today filed in the Wayne circuit court a petition asking that such members of the Boston brokerage firm of Hayden Stone & Co. who may be within the court's jurisdiction be sent to jail for contempt of court because they refuse to turn over to the receiver a surplus of about $300,000 remaining of the proceeds of the sale of the securities which they held as collateral for Currie & Co.'s indebtedness to them. Hayden Stone & Co. filed a defense setting out that the only reason they have not turned over of receipt is that the proper form of receipt is in dispute between Receiver Austin and themselves. They asked the court to dismiss the contempt charge.

BIG GRAND STAND

Work of Tearing it Down Stopped

The work of tearing down the big grandstand on the boulevard, the grandstand built for the automobile race, was begun by William H. Penn this forenoon but only a few timbers were removed before a hail was cried. Architect Harry Graves, who planned the grandstand, learned that there was a fair possibility of the city buying it. The proposition to allow the grandstand to remain seemed a very popular one and Mr. Graves ordered Mr. Penn to discontinue the work of tearing down until further orders.

There seems to be a wide difference of opinion as to how many persons the grandstand would seat. Some said 5000, other 6000, 7000, 8000 and some as high as 13,000. Mr. Graves was the architect who designed the grandstand and asked today how many it was intended to seat, he said: "Between six and seven thousand."

AUTO ENTHUSIASTS

CROSSED CONTINENT TO SEE THE BIG RACE.

It is very evident that the great auto race was properly advertised when you stop to consider the distance from San Francisco, Cal. to Lowell. Mr. Charles Noone and Mr. Haville Goodwin of Boston were in California on a business trip. Upon learning of the great road race in Lowell, Mr. Goodwin, the auto "bug" began to "buzz" in the bonnet. They were bound to reach the "city that does things" and landed safe and sound Sunday at 7 p. m. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude A. Sawyer, 134 Walker street, and they viewed the race from the grand stand.

MRS. STEINBERG

TO WED HER SON'S WIFE'S FATHER

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Sarah Steinberg of 229 Monroe street will be married today or tomorrow to Judah Gehl of 181 East Broadway, and as a result will become stepmother to her daughter-in-law.

Each is 70 years old. They came from Russia several years ago. In their native town they had known each other for many years and one of Mrs. Steinberg's sons married Judah's daughter. Mrs. Steinberg's husband and Gehl became a widower two years ago. Both of them have made up their minds to end their lives in Russia and to go back as husband and wife. They visited the city last Monday and took out a license. Neither could write and had to sign their application forms with marks.

Postponed

The Sale of Household Furniture at the residence of Mrs. Ellen M. Shaw, 698 Westford Street, has been postponed one week on account of injunction proceedings.

An advertisement will appear in The Sun announcing the time the sale will take place.

GOVERNOR HUGHES

Must Meet Strong Opposition in the Convention

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Chairman Woodruff of the republican state committee, in a statement issued today at state headquarters on the result of the primaries held in Greater New York yesterday, said:

"The magnitude of the opposition thus manifested toward Gov. Hughes in New York and particularly in King's county certainly justified the position which I have taken that we would have to await the gathering of the delegation at Saratoga to enlighten us as to the feeling in all the assembly districts.

ROYAL MINISTER

Is Accused of Having Plundered the Treasury

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 9.—A sensation was caused here yesterday by the sudden announcement that M. Alberti, former minister of justice and king's privy councillor, had surrendered to the police, confessing the embezzlement by fraud and forgery of $2,500,000. Alberti resigned his portfolio on July 23, alleging ill health as the cause, but in reality because of the scandal made by the radicals upon his personal probity. His enemies went so far in these attacks as to dub him "the Danish Nasir."

Previous to this, Alberti had been a cabinet minister for seven years and had an unimpaired reputation. He was president of the Danish savings bank, which is apparently the chief sufferer by his dishonesty, but the ministry of finance and the National bank are also affected, though it is stated that their losses are largely secured. The Peasants' bank, which was closed by order of the government yesterday, owes the treasury $355,000, of which $415,000 is fully secured. It is asserted that the funds have been going on for years. Alberti, according to one statement, would take bonds of the savings bank and deposit them in local banks, getting advances thereon. As these bonds were issued to bearer, it is expected that the banks which made the advances would escape loss. Several English banks advanced money to Alberti in the same way.

The depositors, who are mostly small investors throughout the country, will be the losers. There was great excitement in the city last night. The streets were crowded and the newspaper extras are selling at fancy prices. The cabinet, which is in session, is expected to resign.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—So carefully did

Charles Elbert Zabriskie cover up his flight when he deserted his wife and two grown-up daughters two years ago to elope with a younger married woman, as it arrived here today shortly after noon in the private car of Vice-President Jackson of the Rock Island railroad. At the station to meet him were Asi-

LATEST NEW WORLD'S RECORD

Broken Again Today at Fort Mier, Va., by Orville Wright

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—A new world record in aeroplane flights was established at Fort Mier, Va., early today when Orville Wright circled above the broad parade grounds there fifty-eight times and remained in the air fifty-seven minutes and thirty-one seconds, official time. His smashing of all previous records carried out his promises of yesterday evening after his two remarkable ascensions, when at the maximum height of sixty feet; going ten and three quarters miles in all and averaging 36 miles an hour, he spent eleven minutes in one flight and eight minutes in the other.

Today's achievement was accomplished by ideal weather conditions, and in the presence of about twenty-five spectators aside from the soldiers. The ascension was made at 8.15 o'clock this morning. It was an easy ride in the air, the machine was under perfect control and the aviator traveled at a speed approximating 36 to 38 miles an hour.

Mr. Wright declared that had he known that he was so close to being in the air an hour he would have remained that much longer. He said he came down because his motor slipped once or twice and he thought he had only been in the air for half an hour. He promptly announced that he would make another attempt later in the day. Except for the slipping of the motor no trouble whatever was experienced in the working of the aeroplane. Everything worked as smoothly as the most perfectly adjusted clock. Orville Wright has all along expressed confidence in his ability to break all records. He did not even rest content with his performance this morning for immediately after alighting he sent for more gasoline and prepared for further flights.

The start was ideal. On the first round the height was not above thirty feet and the operator kept the machine well within the bounds of the surrounding buildings and tents. Then as the motor continued to run smoothly the big plane began to climb. Soon it was above the roof of the artillery sheds and a little later topped the balloon tent and was sailing on a level with the trees in the Arlington cemetery. The highest of these are about 60 feet. Round it swept, time after time. Mr. Post, the machinist keeping a record, Mr. Wright gradually increased the size of the circles and soon was sweeping out beyond the balloon tent on the south edge of the field and hugging the wall of the cemetery on the east. The biggest circles were certainly about the limits of a mile track. There was no way to estimate the distance flown for the rounds expanded and contracted at the will of the operator. The average probably was little less than a mile and the total number was fifty-seven. It was just about one minute to the circle of the drill grounds. The motor was only running at about three-quarters. What the machine would be capable of on a straight course with the motor at full speed is still a question but there seems little doubt that the time would be well over the contract speed of forty miles per hour. Two or three times on the flight Mr. Wright was seen to wave his hand to the spectators and once he adjusted his cap.

At the close of the flight the machine came down as gently as a steam-car coming to dock.

After the flight the course was measured and it was found that Mr. Wright covered a distance approximately nine-tenths of a mile for each round of the drill grounds, making the total distance 84 miles. This would make the speed 34.5 miles per hour but as the motor was not turning at full speed the distance covered was probably less than that estimated.

Augustus Post took the time for the flight which it is believed will be officially accepted by the Aero Club of France.

It is said that Mr. Wright intends to go after the $50,000 prize offered for an aeroplane flight from London to Manchester, Eng. after the official flights at Fort Mier had been made.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—When the case of the Bucks Stove & Range Co. of St. Louis against President Gompers, Vice President Mitchell and Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor in which the Bucks Co. petitions to have the labor officials punished for contempt of court was brought up in the district supreme court today it was at first uncertain whether the case would proceed or be postponed to the regular term of the court in October.

Those present in court included Judge Parker, his associates in the case, Jackson Ralston and P. L. Siddons of the local bar and Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison. Daniel Davenport of Bridgeport, Conn. and W. C. Sullivan of this city appeared for the stove company.

The proceedings were begun with the request by Mr. Sullivan for a postponement in order that testimony might be taken.

This application was vigorously opposed by Mr. Ralston and Mr. Parker who asked for an immediate hearing. Mr. Parker announced the withdrawal of the request for a trial by jury. He said he and his clients would be perfectly willing to have Justice Gould pass on the application.

Mr. Davenport read from the petition for the punishment of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison and from their replies. He contended that there had been an intentional incitement of the labor unions to action in contempt of court and he contended that the law had been violated.

The injunction proceedings had their inception last November when Mr. Van Cleave asked the court Justice Ashley M. Gould presiding to prohibit the federation from advising organized that the company was unfair to its employees and from printing that advice in the "Federationist," the official organ of the federation. The injunction was issued by the court and made permanent. The labor officials, however, appealed to the public, setting forth why they did not comply with the terms of the injunction.

AGAINST HUGHES King's County "Repubs" Oppose Him

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—That Gov. Hughes will have the support of about 10 per cent. of the delegates of New York county at the convention next week is the opinion expressed by Herbert Parsons, chairman of the county committee after studying the vote cast in yesterday's primary. While the test vote was made in only nine assembly districts in New York county Mr. Parsons said it was quite apparent that there is a strong Hughes sentiment. It was shown also, he said, that there is bitter opposition to the governor in certain quarters, notably in those sections of the city where the foreign born citizens predominate. In King's county the net vote against the governor's re-nomination was more than 2 to 1.

GEN. CLAYTON SAYS REPUBLICANS WILL HAVE MAJORITY IN MAINE

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Chairman Hitchcock of the national republican committee received reports today from the various states. Gen. Powell Clayton of Arkansas who has been giving some attention to the situation in Maine, reported that the republican ticket would be given a majority on Sept. 14. Senator Bulkeley of Connecticut said that in his opinion the controversy over the governorship nomination would not materially injure the chances of the republican national ticket in Connecticut.

Mr. Hitchcock is in conference today with the eastern members of the executive committee.

CANDIDATE TAFT Was Late in Reaching His Office To-day.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 9.—W. H. Taft was not an early riser today, and it was before he visited his offices in the Hotel Sylva. No arrangements for political delegations to visit the candidate have been made, according to Mr. Vorys, who will have charge of this feature of the campaign. Mr. Taft was expected to address the Lake-to-the-Gulf-River association at its meeting in Chicago this afternoon. It was said that the invitation would doubtless receive favorable consideration if campaign plans do not interfere.

QUITS AUTOING WM. K. VANDERBILT GIVES UP THE SPORT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who arrived yesterday on the North German Lloyd's steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II., announced that he had given up autoing for good, saying that he was simply tired of the sport.

Other managers by the Kaiser were James B. Reynolds, assistant secretary of the treasury, who it is said, has been acquiring information relating to commercial reciprocity with France on certain products; Theodore Altmann, Austrian delegate to the tabernacle congress at Washington; Dr. Franz von Kuhnke, a German sanitarian who is here to study the American system of sanitation; Lucien N. Littauer and George F. Huff.

Wish to publicly thank all our friends and neighbors who sympathized with us in the time of our sorrow at the death of our beloved father and husband, William H. Bamber, by the kind and generous and in many other ways showing their sympathy.

FUNERALS
SARGENT—The funeral of Albert P. Sargent took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his parents, 656 Wilder street, and burial was in the Catholic cemetery. Undertaker Young had charge.

BAMBER—The funeral of William H. Bamber was held Tuesday afternoon at his residence, 65 West street, and was largely attended by his many friends. Rev. G. F. Kenigott, pastor of the First Trinitarian Congregational church, of which the deceased was a member, officiated. There were many beautiful flowers, among which were the following: Large pillow inscribed "Husband" from the wife; wreath inscribed "Our Papa" from the children; large floral piece "Three Links" from Wamsit lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U.; wreath from Auntie; cut flowers, Mrs. MacCardell; cut flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Hines; and sprays from Mr. and Mrs. Coupe, Mr. and Mrs. Siddell, Mr. and Mrs. Worth, Edward Boardman, A. E. O'Heir, A. Mohr, Rev. George F. Kenigott, R. A. Griffiths, Alice and George Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, J. Marsden and Mr. Joseph Hennessy. A delegation from Wamsit lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U., consisting of John Eacrett, Fred Humphries, John Orrell and Joseph Fernley, acted as bearers. Burial was in the family lot in the Westlawn cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Albert H. Bixby.

BARRETT—The funeral of Margaret Barrett took place this morning at 10 o'clock from her late home, 5 Everett street, and was largely attended. The funeral cortege proceeded to the Immaculate Conception church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn mass of requiem was sung. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., officiated. The choir sang the Gregorian mass. At the offertory Mrs. Walker rendered "The Lord's Prayer." At the close of the choir sang "The Lord's Prayer." The bearers were James H. Pearson, Jeremiah Coughlin, John J. Graham, George J. Andrews, Thomas J. Adams and Michael H. McDonough. There was in attendance a delegation from the Spiride City circle of Foresters. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery where Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., read the solemn mass. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons in charge.

McGUANE—Dorothy McGuane, aged three years, child of John and Mary, died last night at the home of her parents, 14 Graham street.

Funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her parents, 14 Graham street. Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons in charge.

FOR MORE AUTO RACES Winner of the Trophy Favors the Merrimack Valley Course

Wants Back Stretch of Varnum Avenue Macadamized to Make the Course Most Popular in the Country — Proposition to Have City Purchase Grand Stand

The indications at the present time are that Lowell is to become a center for automobile racing, and that the course will become more famous than the Briarcliff and Savannah courses. If the encouragement offered by the city and the arrangements proposed are carried out, all of the big racing events in this country, as well as the Grand Prix, to be held next year, will be conducted over the Merrimack Valley course.

John H. Tyson, the owner of the Buick car, driven by Louis Strang in Monday's race, is now the owner of the Butler Ames trophy, and he feels so jubilant over the victory of his car that he has determined to do everything in his power to make the Lowell course the place where all big tryouts for both short and long distances will be held.

Mr. Tyson entertained Messrs. John O. Heinz and Frank S. Corlew, president and vice-president of the Lowell Automobile club, yesterday at the Hotel Somerset in Boston, and Mr. Tyson offered to give a very valuable cup for the winner of a race to be held next Labor Day, over the Merrimack Valley course. He is anxious though, that the back stretch be widened in order to avoid accident and that the road be macadamized and the same as the boulevard. He claims that if the Varnum Avenue roadway be widened and macadamized, that Lowell and Tyngsboro will have one of the finest racing propositions in the country.

Mr. Tyson is also of the opinion that two events should be run during the year. On May 24, Decoration day, he thinks that five and ten mile races would be attractive.

In September, his proposition is that races be held on Labor day and the Saturday before. On the Saturday before the race will be for a distance of 250 miles, but only small cars will be allowed to compete, while on Monday the high powered cars would cover the course.

He says that the Lowell Automobile club can see its way clear to interest the people of Lowell and Tyngsboro enough to carry out the propositions offered by him, that he will guarantee the entrance of nine cars at least. He owns seven cars, and stated yesterday that he would enter these seven cars just as soon as he received knowledge that a race is to be held.

The cars which he would enter are the following: Two Isotas, two Simplex, a Panhard, Hot Tam, Renault, Mercedes and Maya. With the above mentioned

KING EDWARD Was Asked Not to Receive Cardinal Vannutelli

LONDON, Sept. 9.—A number of Protestant societies which recently petitioned King Edward not to receive Cardinal Vannutelli, president of the nineteenth annual international Eucharistic congress, which convenes in Westminster cathedral today and who is the papal legate to the congress, have telegraphed his majesty at Doncaster, asking him to ask the home office to forbid the procession of Catholic societies to be held Sunday in honor of the blessed sacrament on the ground that it is likely to cause rioting. His majesty ignored the former communication from the societies and it is not likely that he will answer this one. The Protestant Alliance is an influential body.

The Roman Catholic ecclesiastics who are gathering in London for the conference everywhere have been treated with respect. The public has given no evidence of hostility toward the congress.

The congress will convene tonight and the bare and unfinished part of Westminster has been decorated for the occasion. The Duke of Norfolk who is the most prominent Catholic in England has opened his big town house and will give a series of receptions.

"BILL" DEVERY
Former Big Chief Appears in Court

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—There was a lecture in the Jefferson Market police court yesterday on the William S. Devery burglar alarm system. Magistrate Kernohan had to listen to it. Thomas Halstead, a Texan, who thought that he had been fighting burglars, was accused of violating the anti-burglar regulations.

"Your Honor" said Devery, "this gentleman is a Texan and I don't get yet to the ways of this town. He ran up against Mr. Bingham's new burglar alarm system. This is the kind of noise that the people of this town want. What are you going to do when we have visitors with families and children all over town these nights with Bingham's new burglar alarm system? This little half-dollar machine is as good as three of the kind of noise we have now."

"On this is the famous burglar alarm," it is said the court.

SUITS ARE BROUGHT To Restrain Mrs. Shaw From Selling Out

Relatives Claim That She is Mentally Incapacitated and Seek to Block Her Mazdaznan Aspirations

The relatives of Mrs. Ellen Shaw of this city, who has recently announced her intention of transferring all her property into cash and building a Mazdaznan temple, have decided that it is time for them to make a move in the matter, and accordingly they have moved.

Two petitions were filed yesterday by a niece, Mrs. Mahalia M. Burton, a dressmaker, of 7 Noyah street, Dorchester, one in the probate court of East Cambridge, asking that a conservator be appointed, and the second that Mrs. Shaw and others be restrained from disposing of any of her property, said to be worth about $50,000. Robert A. Jordan of Boston among which was the American house in Lowell and three or four large summer hotels. The hotels were soon disposed of and it is said that a considerable portion of the money was devoted to the building of the temple of Spenta Maria, the sanctuary at Lowell devoted to the worship of the Mazdaznan society.

Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Hilton became leading figures or high priestesses of the Spenta Maria temple and the society grew, particularly among middle aged women, for the faith held that youth could be sustained in the human body for all time.

The doctrine certainly took a serious hold on Mrs. Shaw, for while Attorney Jordan states that Mrs. Shaw is about 63 years of age, she is said to look more than 20 years less. Mrs. Shaw declared that at the time she embraced the cult she was weak and broken down, but since has grown younger all the time.

Her relatives did not for some time interfere with her adherence to the Mazdaznan faith, although they disliked considerably the notoriety Mrs. Shaw brought upon herself. The beginning of the end, however, came a few days ago, when reports from Lowell stated that Mrs. Shaw had received the "divine" call and was about to sell her possessions in preparation for the great coming of the second Messiah.

Mrs. Shaw planned the sale of her entire possessions and was ready to sell at any price, the proceeds to be devoted to the treasury of the Mazdaznans, while she was to take up the duties of "mother" of the society, go to Denver, spread the gospel of the order and await the immaculate conception of the second Messiah.

"Call" to Mrs. Shaw
The "call" for Mrs. Shaw came direct from Ottoman Zar-Hadush-Hanish, said to have been formerly named Hennessy and known by that name in New York. According to Mrs. Shaw, Hanish or Hennessy notified her from Denver that he had just had a dream, when he interpreted directed that she should proceed to Denver, take up the duties of mother by founding a church there and await the birth of the divinely conceived second Messiah. The message directed that she leave immediately, and that meant the disposal of all her property.

At the time Mrs. Shaw received the message from Hanish she was planning to go to Mexico and found a church in that city at her own expense. On hearing from the "Little Master," as Hanish is known to his followers, Mrs. Shaw gave up the Montreal plans for those proposed for Denver.

The duties of a "mother" are in a large part lecturing on the various subjects which form the principal beliefs of the Mazdaznans. In addition she will lead the singing of the weird Arabic chants, which are full of praise of the sun. The chants are said to have been written by Dr. Hanish, who styles himself a poet, but others claim that they are simply verifications of the Zend-Avesta. In the services Mrs. Shaw will use the book of the "inner circle," a copy of which resulted in a threatened prosecution of the sunworshippers in New York, and which helped to terminate Hanish's unsuccessful career in that city.

While friends of Mrs. Shaw realized that she was intensely interested in Mazdaznanism, none believed that she would go to the extent of adopting her latest plan.

Unbelievers are mystified as to the nature of the influence of the self styled Persian exerts over his followers, particularly over the women, who have flocked to his standard in the various cities he has visited. The decision of Mrs. Shaw and her relatives are shocked and are determined that at least an effort will be made to prevent Mrs. Shaw sacrificing her property.

Attorney Jordan says he is in possession of facts concerning the workings of the "inner circle," which he says will create the biggest sensation in years if the petitions of his client are opposed.

SHOT HUSBAND JOHN COUGHLIN
Woman Said He Threatened Her Mother

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Mary Beiloff of Jersey City shot and fatally wounded her husband, Stephen Beiloff, a boatman, during a quarrel today. Mrs. Beiloff said that her husband threatened her mother, Beiloff was taken to a hospital with three bullet wounds in his neck. Mrs. Beiloff went to a police station and was arrested.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
Held at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelley

A very pretty birthday party in honor of the anniversary of the birth of General Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kelley, was held yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelley. There were about thirty friends of the happy birthday girl and dancing was enjoyed. Miss Alice Farnell acting as accompanist. Luncheon was served on the porch, which was very prettily decorated with flowers and Japanese lanterns. The hostess was the recipient of many beautiful and appropriate presents. The party broke up early in the evening, all wishing Miss Kelley many happy returns of the day.

THE PAPER MAKERS

Failed to Return to Work Today at Livermore Falls

LIVERMORE FALLS, Me., Sept. 9.—Notices were posted for the first time today in the mills of the International Paper Co. here and at Chisholm, giving the men an opportunity to return to work, and stating that not less than half of the machines will be run. None of the men had returned early today. Superintendent Edwin Riley took occasion to correct a misapprehension which he said had arisen among the paper makers that if they came back they would be forced by the company to join the International Pulp and Paper Workers union, headed by President Fitzgerald. He announced that preference would be given to the old workers who have been idle the past two months.

THE CAVE FELL IN

One Boy Killed and Two Others Fatally Injured

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—A death, trap, built by boys, yesterday collapsed and killed one of them, fatally injured a second and seriously injured a third. The victims were boys fourteen and fifteen years old, sons of prominent residents of Hammond, Ind. The tragedy was due to the falling in of a cave they had excavated in the prairie near their homes. Harry Ricketts, 15 years of age, son of Thomas Ricketts, a contractor, was dead when his father, one of the first to arrive on the scene, dragged him from the ruins. Louis Mott, 15 years of age, son of Fred Mott, former mayor of Hammond, cannot recover. Clifford Hudson, 14 years of age, son of R. W. Hudson, superintendent of the Standard Steel Car Co., may die.

THOMAS M. HENRY, A WAITER, LOST HIS LIFE.

Two Women Were Seriously Injured and Several Other Persons Were Badly Burned. The Origin of the Fire is Not Known

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Thomas M. Henry, a waiter, was burned to death. Two women were seriously injured and several others more or less badly burned early today in a fire which destroyed the men's and women's buildings of the Philadelphia Cricket club at Chestnut Hill, a suburb. There were only employees in the building when the fire started. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $50,000. The Philadelphia Cricket club is one of the most famous organizations of its kind in America.

AUGUST BELMONT

To Transfer His Horses From America

PARIS, Sept. 9.—It is announced that August Belmont, president of the Jockey club of America, has acquired a piece of land near Dieppe, to which he will transfer a number of his racehorses from America. This action is taken, it is said, because of the passage of anti-betting laws in America. Peter Durvaux has rented for the same purpose the famous Gazon stud farm formerly the property of Maurice Ephrussi.

THOMAS L. HISGEN

To Make First Speech in the South Tonight

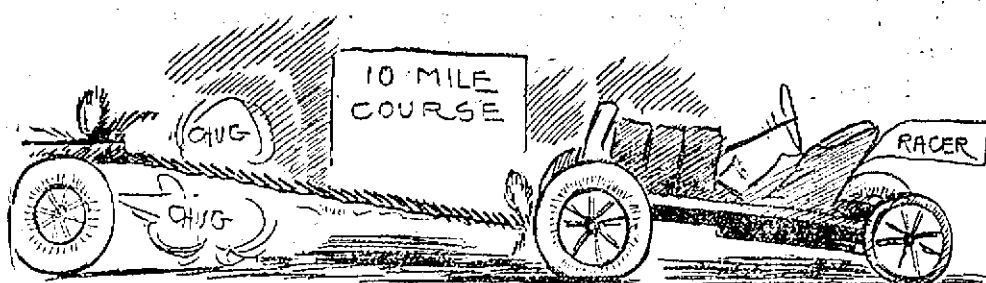

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 9.—Thomas L. Hisgen of Massachusetts, candidate for the presidency on the independence ticket, will make his first speech in the south tonight. Other speakers will include Clement Bullock of Massachusetts and possibly John Temple Graves, candidate for vice president on the independence ticket. From Norfolk the Hisgen party goes to Richmond, Va.

Candidates for congress and presidential electors will be named at the Hisgen meetings in Virginia.

Affiliated With St. John Baptist Society

HOLYOKE, Sept. 9.—The election of officers was the most important business before today's sessions of the annual convention of the St. John the Baptist Society of America. A number of prominent Frenchmen were candidates for the various offices, among whom were several of the present incumbents, who sought re-election. The reports of the officers who have been in charge of the society's affairs during the past two years showed that 21 councils located in New England, New York and the middle and northwest are under the jurisdiction of the national body with a membership of more than 17,000. The public installation of officers this evening was arranged by the committee in charge as one of the features of the convention. A number of addresses will be made and other exercises held.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Lowell lodge of Elks was held in Elks hall, Middle street, last night and was well attended. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Several applications for membership were received and referred to several committees. Brothers Thomas F. Head of Santa Monica, Cal., and David E. Kimes of Syracuse Lodge, N. Y., were visitors. Lowell lodge was notified of the dedication exercises of Lynn lodge, No. 117, to be held September 24th, when their new home will be dedicated and prominent members of the lodge will attend. Brother Alfred T. Holley, secretary of the board of grand trustees, will deliver the dedication address.

The following committee was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of their late brother, John S. Marion, who served them so faithfully as organist for many years: Thomas E. Boucher, Joseph Hicks, Charles J. Richard.

One candidate was initiated at last night's meeting of Garfield colony, United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, and two applications for membership were read.

U. O. P. Fathers, Bay State colony, 71, held its regular meeting last night. There was an application for membership. The next meeting, Sept. 22, will be for the nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year.

CARTER CAUGHT

Is Charged With Embezzling $60,000

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 9.—Latimer D. Carter, who is wanted at Louisville charged with embezzling $60,000 from the estate of George L. Douglass, deceased, was arrested at Georgetown, near here, last night and is now in the county jail. Carter caused an added sensation at the time he absconded a year ago by taking with him Mrs. Mary DeCoursey, wife of a family friend and leaving his own wife almost penniless. His arrest here was caused by W. T. Rankin of Louisville, who traced him to Washington through the woman.

THE POLITICAL FIELD

Candidates Are Beginning to Loom Above the Horizon

Rep. Robert Luce, the apostle of election reform and candidate for lieutenant-governor visited Lowell, on Labor night and handed a set speech to the loyal republicans of the Middlesex Social club.

Although a holiday night was hardly the time for a political speech, all present looked as pleased as possible under the circumstances.

Mr. Luce concluded his remarks as follows: "Furthermore, I believe the mass of the members of the republican party should by their decision between candidates determine whether their state government shall keep pace with the rise of public sentiment by enacting reasonable legislation looking to further lessening of the evils of the liquor traffic, in preventing the spread of commercialism on the Sabbath, in securing one day of rest in seven to the toilers; in lessening the use of money in politics; in doing away with the evils of the conventions by abolishing them and giving the direct vote for candidates.

Barlow Coming Along

In the 17th representative district the republicans are having a merry contest with four candidates in the field. Erson B. Barlow, a new comer appears to be gaining much strength over Rep. Charles P. Varian. The other candidates are Louis P. Turcotte, and Councilman George E. Marchand. Clovis Belanger who has been hustling for some time past suddenly withdrew from the contest a few days ago.

Not a Candidate

Hon. John J. McManmon will not be a candidate for senator this fall as he cannot give the time from his business.

Out Against Grimes

Hon. Frank Howe and Ex-Alderman Burton H. Crosby are candidates against Senator Grimes in the "backwoods" district.

Other Political Notes.

"Old Sport" John Turner is mentioned as a candidate for mayor on the republican ticket. Mr. Turner is a hustler and his entrance into the contest will greatly enhance its picturesque quality.

President Tyler Stevens of the common council stated last evening that he would not be a candidate for the common council again. It is the impression that he will run for alderman.

Councilman Joseph J. Inoué will be a candidate for re-election in ward six and his re-election is conceded.

Major Fiske will submit a platform to the public in the near future that

REGISTRATION

Was Begun at City Hall Today

Registration for the primaries began at city hall at 1 o'clock this afternoon and continued to 3 o'clock. Registration will be resumed again at 7 this evening and will continue for 2 hours.

The registrars were busy making ready this forenoon and were "right there with the berries" when the clock in the steeple struck one.

Tomorrow and Friday the registrars office will be open from 1 to 3 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m., and on Saturday from 1 to 3 p. m. On Saturday night the office will close until after the primaries, Sept. 22.

LOOKED A WRECK

Auto Collided With Ice Wagon

Massachusetts license 6033 was suspended to the rear axle of a touring car that struck Lowell this forenoon. The big car was somewhat dilapidated. The hood was torn from in front exposing the machinery, the top was torn off and the sides split and chafed. The car was occupied by two boys and they were very reluctant. They took dinner at the Lowell Inn and when asked what had happened to their car one of them, evidently the spokesman, said "Oh, nothing much. She's in trim now to beat anything in Lowell."

The reporter remarked that the machine looked as if it had assaulted a policeman.

"Worse than that," said the spokesman of the pair, "it struck an ice wagon. The policeman, I will admit, is a cold proposition, but not in it for a minute with an ice wagon." The boys absolutely refused to tell just what had happened.

THE ALDERMEN

Called to Meet in Special Session

A special meeting of the board of aldermen has been called for this evening at 8 o'clock. The board will have before it for confirmation a precinct officers appointed by Mayor Farnham and the name of Leroy M. MATRIMONIAL

The home of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Coburn, 145 Beacon street, was the scene last evening of one of the prettiest of early fall weddings, the contracting parties being their daughter, Miss May Hilton Coburn and Mr. Sterling Murray Rust of Leesburg, Va. The wedding was attended by relatives and friends from this and other cities. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George F. Martin, D. D., pastor of the Kirk Street Congregational church of this city, assisted by Rev. Edmund Lee of China a friend of the bridegroom. Mrs. Charles W. Church, of this city was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses Hannah and Myrtle Smith of Minneapolis and the flower girl was Miss Charlotte Wallace of Chicago.

Mr. William W. Rust of Pittsburg, Pa., a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. H. W. Coburn, Jr., of Evansville, Ind., Mr. B. Marshall Bay of New York, Mr. Albertus A. Hilton, Jr., of Tacoma, Wash., and Mr. Charles W. Churchill of Lowell.

The house was prettily decorated with plants and flowers. Hibbard's orchestra furnished music and the Page company catered. Mr. and Mrs. Rust left on an evening train for a tour through the northern New England states and the White mountains. They will make their home in Birmingham, Ala. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly wedding gifts.

New Discovery Cures Eczema and Eradicates Minor Skin Troubles Overnight.

A few months ago the dispensers of posilam, the new discovery for the cure of Eczema, decided to allow the druggists of the country to handle it. Previous to that time it could only be obtained direct from the laboratories. Since this change in the method of distribution, posilam has met with the most phenomenal success of anything introduced to the drug trade in the last 20 years. All leading druggists, including Fells & Burkinshaw and Carter & Sherrill in Lowell, are now carrying the special 50-cent size recently adopted, also the $2 jar.

This great success is not surprising when it is remembered that in eczema, cases, posilam stops the itching with first application, proceeds to heal immediately, and cures chronic cases in a few weeks. In minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, acne, herpes, blotches, rash, etc., results show after a overnight application. Experimental samples of posilam are sent to anyone by mail free of charge by the Emergency Laboratories, 23 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

THE TARIFF ISSUE.

As the campaign progresses it is becoming more clear that the tariff is the main issue upon which not only the election but the return of prosperity must depend.

We do not mean that in order to restore prosperous conditions the tariff must remain as it is. The question must be settled one way or the other and the conditions that have prevailed under the excessive tariff have become unendurable. The tariff fosters trusts and combinations to such an extent that a reduction of the various schedules is imperative.

The iniquities of trust control and monopoly have become too monstrous to be longer endured. When trusts sell their products in foreign countries at 28 per cent. less than they sell them to the American consumers then it is plainly time to reduce the tariff that makes such extortions possible.

The scheme of prosecuting trusts under the Sherman anti-trust law or any other law is useless and absurd. These prosecutions have not restricted the operations of the trusts in the least. What should be done is reduce the tariff that shelters the trusts rather than to maintain this tariff and make laws to penalize the trusts.

The remedy suggested by Mr. Bryan is one of the best yet put forth. He would have every corporation take out a federal license under which the trusts would do business, and whenever a trust assumes such proportions that it controls fifty per cent. of the total production of the line of articles it manufactures, then its production must be reduced or part of its plant sold out to some independent concern.

This would prevent the trusts from stamping out domestic competition. A reasonable reduction in the tariff would insure a measure of foreign competition so that the people might thus be protected from the extortionate prices which have ruled in all trust controlled commodities.

The republicans have promised to revise the tariff, but they are still in league with the trusts, and in fact controlled by the trusts so that this party is not free to carry out its pledges. As Mr. Bryan asserts, it has not the power to regenerate itself so long as it is closely allied with the trusts.

The standpatners will fight for a revision of the tariff upward instead of downward, and if the republicans be returned to power that is what may take place. Until the tariff question is settled the textile industry will be somewhat disturbed, and there will not be any return of real prosperity while the issue is pending.

It is a fallacy to suppose that the country will go to smash if Mr. Bryan should be elected. It would be difficult to imagine a condition much worse than that caused by the republican panic.

STRICT RULES AT REVERE.

The Metropolitan park commission, in charge of the reservation at Revere, has made a rule that nobody will be allowed to cross the boulevard in a bathing suit. This, it seems, is a wholly unnecessary and extraordinary requirement.

The aim seems to be to compel everybody who goes to Revere to use the state bathhouse or be deprived of the privilege of bathing at the beach. The rule is a hardship to the owners of cottages who feel it their right to go in bathing from their houses. Should the same rule be adopted as far as Lynn, hundreds of house owners would be obliged to sell out. The arrest of three men for violation of the rule will bring up a test case in court that will be watched with considerable interest. It is a grave injustice to the owners of cottages in that vicinity to be forbidden the right to go bathing from houses whenever they please.

It seems to us that the only requirement the park commission has a right to impose is that parties in bathing suits shall be modestly dressed. It has been the rule for some time past that parties crossing the boulevard in bathing suits should wear an outside robe or garment that would cover the body from head to foot. That would seem to answer all requirements of the law, and we do not believe that this new order of the park commission will stand the test of law.

TWO CLASSES OF PEOPLE.

In dealing with people in general nearly everybody must have noticed that there are two distinct classes. One class who think they know when they don't know, and another who do know yet think they don't know. It is a case of over-confidence in the one and lack of confidence in the other.

Many inventors are still producing new car fenders. Several new automatic fenders have been invented and have been tested on various lines of the cars but with unsatisfactory results. One great drawback with the automatic fender is that from coming in contact with obstacles, the fenders might so fail or be thrown in the way of the car as to cause derailment. For this reason they cannot be used upon the high speed interurban cars. Inventors, however, need not be discouraged as the railroad commissioners are always open to conviction, and once they find a fender that will prove effective and that will entail no risk of accident, they will order its adoption by the companies operating cars throughout the state.

SEEN AND HEARD

The automobile race proved to be the best drawing card ever held in this city.

The race is over. Now for the balloon ascension.

The city of Brockton is about to have roller polo. It is almost time that Lowell was represented in the polo league. Speaking of polo reminds the writer of the game as played by the old liners. There were no cages in which to hold the ball, but instead there were two sticks on standards set up at either end of the surface of the rink, and two goal tenders stood between the posts to keep the ball out. A referee was in the middle of the floor, and there were judges for both teams at either end of the surface behind the sticks. If a judge thought quickly enough when a ball flew by the sticks he would yell that a goal had been made for his team, and usually, after more or less conversational pyrotechnics, the claim would be allowed. The early players were young men about town who liked roller skating and who were about the rink a good deal, and who played just as others now bowl, for the fun and excitement of the thing. The game was quite a ceremonious affair in some ways. The teams skated on the surface two by two and hand in hand while the ball played. After the contest they lined up, and each team formally cheered the other.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

THE ANNUAL SACRIFICE.

Boston Post: Statistics of casualties in the last Fourth of July celebration are now available in a practically complete and authentic form. The Journal of the American Medical association gives the number of killed and injured as 563, men, women and children.

It may be regarded in some measure gratifying that while the total number of casualties exceeds that of last year by 120, there was one less death, only 161 having been killed outright or dying of their injuries.

It is a stupendous price to pay for license in the celebration of even our most notable national anniversary. And the worst of it is that the sacrifice of life and limb is utterly unnecessary as an expression of the patriotic spirit. The difficulty of bringing about a change in the traditional methods is apparently insuperable; but a great deal can be accomplished by restrictions in the use of explosives.

ATLANTIC CITY STILL HELD DOWN.

N. Y. Commercial: After a second Sunday with "the lid on" in Atlantic City, as the result of the threat by Governor Fort to call the New Jersey legislature in special session to enact brand-new laws for the enforcement of old ones, it is well worth repeating here that the present spasm of law observance in that city and county is not due to the desire or the zeal or the vigilance or the efficiency of the officials—not at all; it is simply the operation and the observance of an agreement by men whose business it is to sell liquor and whose profession is for breaking the law on Sundays in order to sell it, but who are temporarily accepting "discipline as the better part of valor" in order, as they hope, to prevent the enactment of more drastic laws than now exist or at least to stave off the date of such legislation as long as possible. These men are not taking this course for, while defying the law and its sworn administrators, they only increase popular prejudice against themselves.

I am convinced I would have died half a century ago." In this way Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt of New York, who has been ill only twice, explained her long life. She lives at 407 Adelphi street, Brooklyn. Mrs. Hunt walks a mile daily, climbs three flights of stairs to her room nightly, eats three square meals a day and takes her cold baths unassisted. Her only defect is total blindness, due to cataracts. She explained that her hobby in life had been fresh air. "That and cold water and no turkey," declared Mrs. Hunt. CHEATED ON RUGS RAIDED A CAMP

Clever Confidence Man And Seized Liquor at Breezy Point

Lowell people who have purchased what they supposed to be fur rugs from a man who called at their houses during the last week or two, have by this time learned that they have been humbugged. A clever confidence man has been at work and it is said he succeeded in separating a number of people from their money. The police are now on the lookout for the rug man.

The man in question reached Lowell a little over a week ago with a number of rugs. His method was to approach a house where the surroundings indicated that the occupants were rather well-to-do and in for a prospective purchaser that he was a railor and had smuggled a number of valuable furs into this country, thus being able to sell them at a wonderfully low price and at the same time make some profit himself.

The scheme worked well in about a dozen places and as a result about a dozen Lowell people are now realizing that they were swindled. It developed that the furs, which were supposed to be of the costliest variety, were of a cheap quality and of home production.

HON. CHARLES S. HAMLIN

Is Mentioned For Democratic Nomination For Governor

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—The name of the Hon. Charles S. Hamlin was favorably mentioned for governor yesterday at a conference of democratic leaders in the office of Josiah Quincy. It was the culmination of long deliberation, in which it was found, it is said, that Mr. Hamlin has got the strongest kind of backing from the labor men who supported Governor Douglas four years ago.

So far the man most prominently mentioned for the democratic nomination has been Senator Vahey of Watertown, but Mr. Vahey is too radical to suit the conservative men and not radical enough to suit the radicals.

Mr. Hamlin is a very strong Douglas man. When it seemed as if there was no chance at all for the nomination of Mr. Douglas, he declared that although mentioned himself as a candidate, he would give Mr. Douglas a clear field, and he said that he was sure that Mr. Douglas would win.

Mr. Hamlin was not in town yesterday, but it was said that he had not thus far encouraged the talk among his friends. "I am practicing law," he said, "and I am not a candidate for anything."

ST. RAILWAY MEN

Meeting of the Union Initiated New Members

The street railway men's union held two well attended meetings yesterday. The meeting for the night men was held at two o'clock in the afternoon, while the day men met at eight o'clock. Considerable business of importance was transacted. Eight new members were initiated and 15 applications received, covering all the new men put to work this season. The financial secretary reported the union in a flourishing condition. The delegate to the convention was handed his credentials.

Common Council Heard Reports and Demands for Money From Various Departments—Several Resolves for Money Referred to Committee on Appropriation

At a regular meeting of the common council, held last night, the first meeting of that body for several weeks, quite a raft of business was transacted and department heads asked for more money. The meeting was called to order at 8:30. And the following committees were currently referred to the committee on streets: Charles Runkel and others, that Prospect street be macadamized; Richard Bray and others, that Pollard street be macadamized; James A. Donahue and others, for crossing in Moody street, at corner of Third avenue; Stanley M. Parker and others, that E. street be repaved; and others, that E. street be repaved. The bill was referred to the committee on streets.

The following petitions were referred to the committee on claims: Leslie O. Hill and Chester Hill, for damage to a horse; Peter J. Brady, owner of the defunct Mail, damage to machinery by sewer overflow; James Coughlin, for personal injuries in Central street.

On petition of Mary J. Swan and others a joint order was adopted discontinuing the watering of portions of Tenth and Beacon streets.

School Boilers Condemned

The following communication from Inspector Smith of the department of lands and buildings to Mayor Farnham was read:

"It becomes my duty to notify you that the inspector of boilers for the insurance company has condemned the boilers at the Farnham street and Central street schools, and has ordered number 2 boiler at city hall removed, also repairs done to several boilers throughout the city. I have also received a report from the state board of health inspector asking that the sanitary system at the Lincoln school be changed.

"These changes are extensive, and in the aggregate represent an expenditure of $200, a sum which at the present is not at my disposal. I would therefore ask you to bring this matter to the attention of the city council with the request that the sum of $200 be appropriated for this work."

The communication was referred to the committee on appropriations.

Two other principal items mentioned in the bill of $300 for smallpox treatment represented medical treatment and provisions. The bill was referred to the committee on appropriations.

Park Department

In his communication in which he asked for $250 for moth extermination, Chairman Pickman of the park commission said that during the year 1,021,471 nests of brown tail moths and over 500 nests of gypsy moths had been destroyed. This, too, was referred to the committee on appropriations.

A joint communication from Chairman Pickman, relating to the petition referred to the park commission of H. A. Toupin and others, that a certain parcel of land owned by the Locks & Canals on the Merrimack river be leased for park purposes, was read. The land involved is at Alken and Perkins streets, and the communication was to the effect that the Locks & Canals is willing to sell the land in lots or otherwise, but is not willing to lease it for any term. A part of the land might be used as a playground upon the tenure of a tenancy at will, and not otherwise. This communication was accepted and entered on file.

A communication from J. Barry Mahood, president of the League of American Municipalities, inviting Lowell to send delegates to the 12th annual convention of the league to be held at Omaha, Sept. 30, 1908, was read.

Committee on Outing.

The municipal outing for 1908 will be held at William Dodge's camp on the bank of the Merrimack river in Tyngsboro, and Sept. 21 is the day selected for the outing. This decision was arrived at by the committee on outing at a meeting held at city hall last night.

SHOT HIS WIFE

Providence Man Then Tried Suicide

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 9.—An attempted murder and suicide occurred shortly before 1 o'clock this morning in the fifth precinct, when Frank Strangle, about 40 years old, steward of the Afta club on Friendship street, probably fatally shot his wife Dorothy, a prepossessing woman of 30, after a quarrel at their home, and then going to the club house took a large dose of cyanide of potassium, dying almost immediately.

Three of the four bullets fired at his wife took effect, wounding her in her left arm and shoulder and back. She was conveyed to the Rhode Island hospital, where at 2 o'clock this morning her condition was critical.

According to neighbors the couple had quarreled.

STATE MILITIA

TO ENGAGE IN ANNUAL SHOOT FOR PRIZES

The annual rifle competition of the M. V. M. will be held Sept. 25 and 26 at the range of the Day State Military Rifle association at Wakefield. It will be preceded on Sept. 23 by the state revolver match, open to all officers and men who carry the service revolver.

Col. John Caswell will be executive officer, with Capt. Robert C. Davis, U. S. A., as chief range officer. The official order is not out yet. It will be issued in a few days. The infantry, cavalry and artillery will use the new Springfield rifle, but the naval brigade, not having received the new arm, will shoot with the Krag.

Five cups will be given to those making the first five high scores in the revolver shoot. Entries close at the office of the ordnance department, South armory, at noon, Sept. 22. Those who won this shoot last year, together with their scores, were: Capt. William R. Murphy 92, Lieut. A. R. Whittier 92, Sergt. George Austin 91, Sergt. F. M. Libby 90, Capt. S. W. Wize 89.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"Why Women Hate Women," as presented by the James Kennedy Co. at the Opera House yesterday afternoon, drew a good sized audience and the play was as favorably received as on its presentation here last season. Mr. Kennedy as "Bob Simpson," the private secretary, was a heavy and laugh compelling as ever, and the supporting company gave adequate portrayals of their respective roles. Miss Stanley in negro melodies, Mr. Dyer in two new illustrated songs and Charles Dillingham's production of "The Red Mill" (this season is presented on a scale so lavish that it almost dwarfs the organization of last season. The scenery has been built upon the largest scale, the costumes all replaced by new and costly designs, while the company of principals has been most carefully selected and embraced names familiar to theatregoers. The choice of fifty actors is the best ever organized and with the famous Dutch Kleides and the company's own orchestra, it is safe to assume that the management here will prove conclusively that Charles Dillingham's name is the hallmark of musical offerings.

The following statistics will prove interesting to a lay mind which is more or less interested in the latest stage. The cast of the following figures which are evident in "The Red Mill": Number of principals, 12; female chorus, 24; male chorus, 15; children, 6; musicians, 8; supporting force, 6; orchestra, 15; 44, aggregating 75 people who are directly interested in the performance.

Joseph Whitehead and Neil McNeill, two of the cleverest farceurs in this country, have been secured for the season's presentation of Charles Dillingham's production of "The Red Mill," which opens on the Opera House Sept. 25. Seats go on sale Thursday forenoon.

MICAGLIO'S BAND.

Signor Giuseppe Micaglio's repertoire for his American band tour, opening at Boston, Sept. 13th, include 150 operatic selections alone. There is a rich and varied list of other music also, from the latest modern compositions to the most noted stages of secular productions. Micaglio's band itself numbers forty-five, and is the same organization that won first prize at the Montreux international band contests at Paris.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The fact that "A Young Wife" is a new play in Lowell might have been a factor in bringing together another crowded house at the Academy of Music last night, but whatever the primary cause the house was exceptional large for a Tuesday night while the matinee performance drew a good house as do all matinees on that day. This week's bill is only the first of a number of plays never before witnessed in this city for it is the policy of the management to produce new plays and it has introduced a number of new and popular ideas relative to the conduct of the theatre and which are bound to operate for its success. In this week's bill the patrons of the theatre will see Miss Della Deshon, the beautiful and clever leading lady, in a part particularly well suited to her talent for she is one of the leading actresses in the stock world and the title role gives excellent opportunity for emotional acting. Mr. Billie Mackay, the clever light comedian of the company is also finely cast and is making new friends at each performance. Tiring contest for the most popular play will be the conclusion of the last performance of "The Factory Girl," one week from Saturday night is now on and each person attending the performance is entitled to one vote, the ballot to be found in the program. Don't forget to vote for your choice.

HATHAWAY'S THEATRE

Kelley and Barrett, who give their noted military travesty at Hathaway's this week, are quite as funny as any men who ever stepped on the vaudeville stage. Kelley is the pompous "General Mutherby" and Barrett gives his inimitable role of "Careless Casey." It is a genuinely good act.

The Bradley Martin company present a catchy offering, the Jessie, Jack and Jerry act. It all concerns the aversions of three people to matrimony. There is a funny side in it—a lawsuit and everything ends happily, although in extremely funny fashion.

The other acts on the big bill are: The Juggling Jords; Miss Kathryn Milroy, "A. S. A. comedienne"; Lew Wallace, monologist and saxophone player; Murphy and Andrews sing; Lightning Bolt, comic, chalk artist, and the HathiSCOPE.

Performances of the above will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week.

STAR THEATRE

"Jordan the Great," impersonator and comedian, is doing a generous share towards making a very interesting and attractive program. He is very funny and creates lots of good humor.

Babe Curry is singing the pretty little illustrated song entitled "Taffy" in an excellent manner. The illustrations are very beautiful.

"Mary, My Heather Queen" is a pretty little Scotch ballad with illustrations of a lad and lassie in kilt. J. C. Bell sings it in a very agreeable manner. The pictures are exceptionally fine, especially the picture of a heather field, which is particularly clean and wholesome.

The amateurs last night were much appreciated. All seats were taken. There will be another performance of amateurs tonight, in order that all may have a chance to see them. Bertha Gordon and others are expected to appear.

The fact that he spent his vacation in Sandwich, Mass., was not significant that he went to that town for the purpose of getting pointers on the sand-wich law.

The following minor licenses were granted:

Hawker and peddler: Morris Mar-mar, 73 Railroad street; Alfred Mor-rasse, 8 Decatur avenue; Manuel De Gosta, 3 Union street; David Soper-ston, 101 Chalmers street.

Hackney coach: James H. Sparks, Waltham street, five licenses.

Intelligence office: Jordan Savithes and C. Moustakis, 311 Market street.

were pleasing interludes during the performance. The Coudry, Harry Thompson, who has been at the theatre for a long time, was the bill at night and largest as pleasing an offering as always may be expected from the Kennedy Co. Mr. Kennedy's selection of the Kennedy Co. for several seasons with great success and now of its worth is test in the presentation by this company. Mr. Kennedy as "Bob Backus," and in fact every member of the company gave consistent and artistic characterizations. The play was deserving of a larger patronage. The play was staged with care and attention to detail, that is a feature with this company.

"The Poisoned Dagger" at the matinee and "The Girl in the Red" at night will doubtless draw large audiences.

"THE RED MILL."

Genial Physician Writes Sun From London

The following interesting letter on London has been received from Dr. A. E. A. McCann of this city, now abroad:

Editor Sun:—When the stranger arrives in London, he admits right away that the accounts of its bigness have not been at all exaggerated. Before a day goes by he sees that the Londoner has the biggest head to his met with anywhere. Also he has the biggest scale of prices on record, as well as the biggest known capacity for absorbing the traveller's loose silver, which he calls "ups." The Londoner's request for the law is another of his big possessions, and that is why the big London "bobbies" are able to manage the biggest traffic in the world with the least possible amount of friction. Other noticeably "biggest things" in London are the army of unemployed men, the number of squalid, starving women and children, and the frightful extent of the poverty which lurks and suffers in every corner of the empire's capital. We have troubles of our own at home, but compared with the unfortunate London poor are in clover, and England has, in fact, a better population, a problem which, for size and difficulty, is the biggest puzzle extant. You cannot get away from it anywhere. It meets you with outstretched hand at the majestic portal of St. Paul's; it grovels in the aisles of the venerable abbey; it whines from the darkness of the embankment; it meets you at the theatre, and when you stop your taxi-cab to get a glass of beer, it springs up at you out of the gutter. This leads you to ask if the Londoner is small in charity? Certainly he is small in his opinion of foreigners, and even his esteem of the American, his own "kith and kin" is not much larger than his appreciation of American wit—and that is small indeed. Perhaps we would be exactly like him in self-sufficiency and pride if we lived all our lives in the midst of so many great and eloquent monuments of a great and inspiring past. It is impossible to stand in Westminster abbey without a feeling of gladness that you are not alien to the race which has given Shakespeare, Milton, Goldsmith, Burke, and Emerson to the world. Speaking of Goldsmith, it is interesting to mark the homage paid to him as he lies in the poet's corner with his fellow immortals, and then to visit Leicester square, the place where he often wandered, homeless and without a friend, when he first came to seek fortune and success in London. The square, of course, is much changed, but the house of Goldsmith's artist crony, Sir Joshua Reynolds, is still there, unaltered. We entered and stood awhile in the ancient hallway and thought how once it had echoed to the laughter of the gentlest and most beloved of poets, or to the gruff tones of Johnson—"Sir, the man is a fool!"—rebuking Boszy and browbeating Garrick. Around the corner is the house of Sir Isaac Newton, almost in the shadow of the National gallery. You may linger there profitably with flocks of other Americans, but we found it pleasanter to continue our little pilgrimage of good-fellowship, so we followed in the footsteps of Oliver along the Strand to Ye Old Cheshire Cheese. Here it was that Goldsmith, Johnson, Boswell, Garrick and their friends used often to meet in a battle of wit and learning, while they sipped their ale or toddy, and the great lexicographer guzzled tea. It does one good to think of Goldsmith and Johnson seated by the quaint fireplace in that snug, low-studded chamber. They both endured much, both experienced hunger and the pain of lonely obscurity, as well as the stinging pain of the proud man's "contumely." At last, genius, merit and uncompromising self-respect have triumphed. Oliver no longer shivers in Leicester square, nor does the magnanimous Johnson work night and day to keep body and soul together. They have "arrived" and sit, warm and well fed in their favorite tavern, famous and secure. For two happy hours the traveller from Lowell sat in Johnson's favorite corner. From there he went by the Temple, where another favorite of his used to reside, the gentle, Eliza Lamb; and thence past the street where Milton was born, and past the church where Shelley was married to the ill-starred, unhappy Harriet, his girl-wife. An excursion like this makes one thirsty; yet thirsty is not so easily satisfied in London as one might fancy. "Pubs" there are in plenty, with rivers of ale and oceans of beer, but the amber-colored silver-headed fluid is called "tuppence," but the comfortable refreshment places of home are few and far between. The old inn which we associate with England, is now, unfortunately, but a tradition. However, we found a suitable place, thanks to our guide. It was also our guide who, the following day, got us into jail. We were going to Richmond and Hampton Court by river-steamers, and our guide, a marvel of misinformation, led us into a riverside police station in mistake for a boat-landing. Here we were very courteously put on the right track, and enjoyed a delightful ride up the Thames. The view of the Thames valley from Richmond hill is magnificent. It ought to be, for the climb on a hot day, especially if you are carrying a large convex facade of flesh, is worse than a potato race. The famous "Star and Garter" hotel is not a sufficient reward, being shabby and inferior. Hampton Court is, however, a compensation for the most trying of trips. You don't wonder, after seeing all its treasures of art, and the beauty of its surroundings, that King Henry VIII envied his possession to Wolsey—and to think that he only thanks the Cardinal for giving up his palace was to have his head cut off! It's pleasant to dwell upon mutton, the cut of mutton you get at Simpson's, and how you enjoyed it after the long ride from Richmond! We did, anyway. But after all, the American of goodfellowship enjoys nothing in London so much as the other genial Americans he meets there. We are supposed to be in the old home over there, but for all that we draw together like brothers among strangers. We understand each other. The English don't understand us, and their funeral mirth oppresses us. We are of the same stock, if you will, but a new graft, ripened in a sunnier clime, with rich new juices in us, most of them Irish, which means poetry, humor and a kindness which has too much heart in it for condescension. If someone asks, "What is the greatest good of a trip abroad?" you may safely reply "Something the custom officers can't find—a greater love and appreciation of home."

With kind regards,
A. E. A. McCann.

BIG DRAW BRIDGE

Was in Danger of Falling Into the River

HAVERHILL, Sept. 9.—The draw of the Haverhill bridge was in danger of tipping into the river yesterday, when one of the rollers running on the gearing beneath the bridge snapped off. The swinging structure dropped about seven inches, until it rested on the stone pier, and except for that support it would have tipped into the channel.

Electric cars and teams were tied up, and all traffic was sent up over the county bridge. Chief Gordon issued new running orders for the fire department, the Mt. Washington apparatus going across to Bradford by way of the upper bridge, filling in with the Bradford machines in the event of fire.

Street department employees lifted the bridge to the broken track, and after wedging it, greased the tracks, so that the broken wheel was used to slide the bridge and this way navigation was re-established after a several hours' tie-up.

LAMP EXPLODED

And Wedding Gifts Were Destroyed

LYNN, Sept. 9.—Fire last night, beside damaging the dwelling house at 127 Blossom street $500, destroyed wedding presents valued at $1000 and owned by Miss Bessie Grob, whose marriage will take place in two weeks. While Miss Grob was absent from the house her younger sister, Goldie, who was alone in the house, started to go through the room in which were the gifts, when she tripped and fell. A lighted lamp exploded and the blazing oil set fire to the furnishings. Patrolman Cahill heard her scream and sent in an alarm from box 46. When the firemen arrived a fierce blaze was in progress and it was some time before the fire was put out. Miss Bessie Grob returned home during the blaze and was almost heart-broken.

BOARD OF POLICE

Minor Matters Attended to Last Night

The regular meeting of the board of police was held last night, but the session was very short and very little business was transacted. The only thing of note in connection with the meeting of the board was the presence of Clerk John J. Flaherty, Jr., who has been absent for the past several weeks.

The fact that he spent his vacation in Sandwich, Mass., was not significant that he went to that town for the purpose of getting pointers on the sand-wich law.

The following minor licenses were granted:

Hawker and peddler: Morris Mar-mar, 73 Railroad street; Alfred Mor-rasse, 8 Decatur avenue; Manuel De Gosta, 3 Union street; David Soper-ston, 101 Chalmers street.

Hackney coach: James H. Sparks, Waltham street, five licenses.

AMERICAN AIRSHIP

Has Broken the Record for An Aerial Flight

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Orville Wright broke all American records in aerial flight yesterday afternoon by remaining aloft in his airship nearly 20 minutes and covering about 12 miles.

He made two flights, remaining in the air for 11 minutes the first time and for nearly eight minutes the second. There was apparently no reason why the flights could not have been of even greater duration, as Wright landed the second time because of the approaching darkness.

A cheering crowd applauded Wright as he steered his aeroplane above the parade ground at Fort Myer in the preliminary tests for the $25,000 offered by the United States army for the Wright heavier than air flying machine. The odd craft sailed in graceful circles over the tops of trees and buildings.

From the scientific point of view was demonstrated the success of the Wright brothers and the soundness of the principles upon which they have been working. Two flights were made, each being successful.

Rises Like a Bird

At 5:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after the motor of the machine had been tested, Wright stepped into the apparatus, the engine was started, the propellers began to revolve and the airship rose from the ground as surely as a bird. Over the cavalry drill ground the airship sailed until, when the other side was reached, Mr. Wright touched a lever and the machine dipped and turned with the precision of a giant eagle. It sailed back toward the starting point 50 feet above the heads of the people.

Eleven times the airship circled the big drill field, covering, it is estimated, a distance of approximately seven miles. It did not remain constantly at one altitude, but soared downward, turned gracefully, by the shifting of a wing or rudder at the touch of the operator, or pointed its beak toward the sky and arose swiftly, as in long, swelling, undulations, as though it were passing over the billows of an invisible ocean. Sometimes it reached an altitude of 100 feet and passed over the tops of trees, casting its strange shadow on the foliage. Once it passed over the top of the cavalry stable.

Has Perfect Control

Mr. Wright, seated at one side of the machine so that its weight balanced that of the motor, had the airship under control at all times. After launching it into the air the flying machine remained aloft 11 minutes 10 seconds. Mr. Wright then descended, the airship touching the ground as lightly as a feather. He said that the day upon which his first rested was slippery. He wrapped it with the tape to remedy this defect.

"I came down to get a pair of goggles," said Mr. Wright. "The air up there is full of insects and they have almost blinded me. I was too busy attending to the motor and the steering apparatus to brush them from my eyes, and the pain became greater than I could stand."

Mr. Wright obtained a pair of glasses, put them on, took his seat in the machine and started off again. The second flight began at 6:28 o'clock and lasted seven minutes and 34 seconds. Wright circled the drill field seven and one-half times, covering approximately five miles. The first flight was at an average speed of 36 miles an hour, the second at 38 miles an hour.

Weather Was Ideal.

Weather conditions were ideal. The wind velocity was only 1½ miles an hour.

Young Woman Committed Suicide at Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A woman about 25 years old, of refined appearance, late yesterday afternoon walked into the river about 30 feet above Prospect Point and was swept over the falls.

She left nothing to identify her. Seventy-five people saw the suicide. Harold Schafer of Hoboken, N. J., who was close by made a gallant attempt to save the woman. Going over the railing at the brink of the falls, and supporting himself on a flimsy scaffolding which holds a water gauge in place, he leaned out over the rushing water. Just as the woman floated by he reached out his hand to catch her.

As he did so, she raised her arm and tried to grasp the outstretched hand, but missed it by a few inches. She went over the brink without uttering a cry. Had she succeeded in holding Schafer's hand, it is believed both would have perished, for spectators say the gauge would not have sustained their combined weight.

WORCESTER, Sept. 9.—Richard F. Joyce, 34 years old, died at the City hospital yesterday of a fracture of the spine and a broken neck. AMES IS PROMPT

First to File His Nomination Papers

The time for filing nomination papers for the state election primaries opened yesterday and Congressman Ames led all the candidates at getting in. Mr. Richardson representing Hon. John N. Cole was a close second and those are all that have been filed up to this writing.

No papers had been filed up to noon at the democratic headquarters. The time for filing papers closes tomorrow.

MORMON CHURCH

Blocks Plan to Deport Mormons

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—In consequence of the political influence of the Mormon church in official circles in Washington, and of the powerful intervention of United States Senator Reed Smoot, the local immigration officials have become utterly demoralized in their efforts to properly restrict Mormon immigration at this port.

After fighting for a fortnight to deport 36 Mormon immigrants who had violated the immigration laws by accepting assistance from the Mormon church to get here, the local officials, it is believed, will be forced, against their will, to permit all of these but nine to land.

Nineteen were released following a hurried visit from United States Senator Reed Smoot, and of the remaining 17 eight are expected to recover their freedom as soon as the report of the immigration officials in Utah is received here. Of the nine who will be deported eight are physically unfit and one admitted belief in polygamy.

Had it not been so near the national election it is confidently believed that the officials in Washington would have supported the local officials in their action in debarring the entire three dozen.

The cases of the two young Rees girls, who are said to be 17 and 19 years old respectively, are considered to be two of the most flagrant violations of the immigration laws that have been reported at the local bureau in years.

The orders from Washington to release these girls is considered one of the greatest proofs of the political power of the Mormon church.

$5000 NUTMEG

Was Easy Picking for The Eel

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 9.—The Gambetta Wilkes family carried off the honors and money at Charter Oak yesterday afternoon. The Eel, a grandson of the great Kentucky sire, winning the $5000 Nutmeg purse for pacers in 2:05, 2:05½, 2:05, and a son, Gentle H., taking the trotting event in 2:12, 2:11, 2:10½.

After the holiday crowd it was a pleasure to be able to move about and watch the races in comfort. The sport was not particularly interesting, and both winners raced off in front and were never seriously threatened. Dan McEwen brought the Canadian champion to the post in splendid form, and it was simply fun for him to smash out three fast miles.

Another horse from the land of King Edward was second three times, the black gelding Maj. Brino, George Gano and Copa de Oro tried to get the place away from him, but in two close finishes he held them safe.

Gentle H., who has been racing in tough luck for two years, finally landed in a soft place and is out of the 2:12 class with a record of 2:10½.

Chester Lasell's new horse, Judge Lee, 2:14½, won second money and improved every one as being a real good trotter. He is a handsome dark dapple gray stallion, with a nice way of going, and possessing a terrific burst of speed. He caught a slight cold shipping on from Michigan, so was not in shape for a hard race.

GOV. HUGHES CASE

Interest in the Coming N. Y. Convention

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—With the New York state republican convention at hand the eyes of the whole country are on the fight being waged for and against the renomination of Governor Hughes. No man is more intensely interested in the renomination of the governor than President Roosevelt himself. After several conferences with the president James S. Sherman has taken an active hand in the fight. He has been almost constantly on the move in the state, making it clear to the county chairmen that the national campaign requires Mr. Hughes' renomination. Despite this activity, however, it is asserted that the president, Mr. Taft, Mr. Sherman and Frank H. Hitchcock are becoming convinced that the fight must be carried to the floor of the convention, which takes place at Saratoga, Sept. 14. If the present executive is to head the republican ticket in the Empire State at the November election.

A JAIL SENTENCE

For Man Who Committed Assault With Knife on Another

Judge Hadley is determined to discourage the use of dangerous weapons and in order to carry out the policy which he established some time ago, this morning sentenced Peter Johns, charged with assault with a knife, to four months in jail.

The assault took place at the corner of Cheever and Tucker streets on the night of August 23d. According to his testimony offered Jenn B. Charbonneau and some friends were passing in one direction and Johns and a couple of boys in another direction. They met at the corner and while the defense says that Charbonneau assaulted Johns without any provocation the government says that Charbonneau and Johns bumped against each other by accident and a misunderstanding led to the assault.

The case was opened last Thursday, but the absence of one of the government's witnesses, Joseph Durant, caused a postponement till today. Durant had been summoned, but failed to appear last Thursday and was arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

In court this morning he said that he was with Charbonneau on the night of the assault, that Charbonneau and Johns bumped into each other by accident. He continued to walk on and had gone but a short distance when he turned around and saw the two men in a clinch. Then he heard Charbonneau shout "Catch him, he has stabbed me."

Peter Johns, the defendant, said he lives in Coolidge street and that on the night of the 23d of August he met Charbonneau and six or seven other young men at the corner of Tucker and Cheever streets. Without any provocation Charbonneau struck him twice. His hat fell off and when he went to pick it up Charbonneau struck him again. He then ran after Charbonneau with the intention of beating him, but a crowd gathered around and, fearing that the crowd would beat him, he drew a knife and stabbed Charbonneau.

An ordinary jackknife with a broken blade was produced and the defendant acknowledged that it was the weapon he had used.

Two young men, who were with Johns on the night of the assault, corroborated the testimony offered by the defendant. In summing up the evidence in the case Judge Hadley said he was not going to tolerate the use of dangerous weapons, and intended to do everything to discourage it.

Johns was found guilty and sentenced to four months in jail. He appealed and was held in $50 for the superior court.

Father Relented
Morris Foley was before the court this morning on complaint of his father, but the latter was sorry after he had made the complaint and asked the court that the charge be dismissed.

Will Take His Sentence
George Hall, who was in court yesterday morning charged with unlawfully taking a team, found guilty and a fine of $5 to be paid in two days or two months in jail was imposed. He appealed, but appeared in court this morning and withdrew his appeal.

Shortening His Father's Life
Frank Levesque of Dracut, pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk. A brother of the defendant said that his father was dying, and that the actions of his brother, Frank, were "shortening the old man's life."

Officer Sullivan of Dracut testified to being called to the Levesque house and arresting the defendant. Special Officer Cody of Lakeview park said he saw Levesque drunk about Lakeview yesterday, and sent him home.

A fine of $5 dollars was imposed.

A SUICIDE PACT

Woman Broke Agreement With Dr. Rustin

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 9.—Dr. Frederick Rustin's death was the result of a suicide pact with Mrs. Rice, the woman who has been held in custody for the past five days. This is the crux of the statement by Mrs. Rice to the Omaha police force yesterday afternoon.

The statement was read before the coroner's jury yesterday afternoon.

According to it, Dr. Rustin and Mrs. Rice agreed to die together. Dr. Rustin went home to carry out his portion of the compact and did so. Mrs. Rice's nerve failed her and she did not carry out the compact. Four times during the night she telephoned Dr. Rustin's home to tell him of her decision, but during those hours the man was sitting outside his home on the porch and did not receive the message.

Mrs. Rice purchased a bottle of strychnine and one of morphine with which to carry out her part of the agreement and they have been found in her room.

THE INQUEST

INTO THE DEATH OF DR. RUSTIN.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 9.—The coroner's inquest into the death of Dr. Frederick Rustin, who was found fatally shot at the door of his home in this city, developed several sensational features yesterday. Mrs. Abbie Rice, the woman who was last known to be in Dr. Rustin's company on the night of his death, declared that Dr. Rustin has been talking of committing suicide, but that he wished to disguise the act so as to protect his life insurance for the benefit of his family. After much opportunity he induced her to promise to kill him and then take her own life. Arrangements to this end were made for Friday, August 28, but her nerve failed. On Tuesday night following Dr. Rustin pointed out to her on a street car a man who he said had promised to do the deed, saying it would be done that night. Later she identified Charles E. Davis, a clerk in a local bank and a member of a prominent family, as the man referred to by Dr. Rustin.

Davis was placed on the stand and testified that he attempted to commit suicide on the night in question by taking drugs furnished by Dr. Rustin, but that he had promised to kill the doctor, or that he had intended to do with the latter's death. He said the drugs taken made him sick and he vomited, thus saving his life. He gave no special reason for wishing to end his life except that he has no desire to live. He said he had made previous attempts at suicide.

HE WANTS MONEY

To Put School House Boilers in Repair

It was stated today that unless the committee on appropriations votes favorably on Inspector Smith's request for money to replace schoolhouse boilers that have been condemned by state inspectors, the boilers may not be in working order when Jack Frost arrives.

Inspector Smith of the lands and buildings department sent a communication to the city council asking for $5100 to replace the boilers that had been condemned and to improve sanitary conditions at the Lincoln school as ordered by Dr. Simpson of the state board of health.

Mr. Smith's letter was read at a meeting of the city council held last night and was referred to the committee on appropriations. Mr. Smith is anxious that the money should be forthcoming. He says the expense came entirely unexpected and he was not prepared for it. He declares that he has not the money to do the work with and unless it is voted in time to do the work there will be one or two cold schoolhouses in Lowell.

The boilers in the Charles and Central street schools have been condemned as has also the boiler in the Favor street school. It was stated today that the inspector in examining the boiler at the Favor street school put his hammer through the boiler plate and that did not speak very well for the condition of the boiler. The work of putting in the Charles street school boiler is something that was anticipated and the new boiler is practically installed.

GENERAL WOOD

Had Narrow Escape From Serious Injury

ST. JOHANN-ON-THE-SAAR, Sept. 2.—Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., who is witnessing the German maneuvers here had a narrow escape from a serious accident yesterday. While in the field the horn of one of the numerous staff automobiles frightened General Wood's horse, and the animal began to rear and plunge, finally falling almost on the general's right leg. The spur was torn from the general's boot but beyond a shaking-up he was unhurt.
